RAILROAD'S BID FOR WHARF SPACE BETTERED $4,000

Capt. James A. Henderson Will Appear Before Councils.

BALTIMORE & OHIO OFFERS ONLY $1,000

Company's Rental Proposition Carries Too Small a Consideration.

RIVERMEN ARE TAKING INTEREST IN MATTER

Great Stress Is Laid on Fact That Isthmian Canal Commerce Will Add Enormously to Value of River Frontage in Pittsburgh.

The question of payment for the additional wharf space which the Baltimore & Ohio railroad is asking for from the city for its new terminal facilities is exciting universal interest throughout the city.

That the additional space desired by the railroad company should bring a much larger rental than is offered is proven by the fact that other people are willing to pay more for it. Capt. James A. Henderson of the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati packet line is prepared to offer $5,000 per year for the same space which the railroad wants for $1,000. He will appear before councils in person and make this offer, when the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance is presented.

In speaking of his offer Capt. Henderson said yesterday:

$5,000 a Year Offered.

"I stand ready to offer the city $5,000 a year rental for that portion of the Monongahela wharf now in question. I will give the city good and sufficient bond to cover my proposition. The square of space could be used in numerous ways. It would make an admirable place for a storage houses. Teams could drive into the property from the Smithfield street bridge. Freight could also be loaded on to steamboats by means of building freight elevators which would do away with the necessity of long hauls up and down the wharf. It would also make an admirable site for a hotel. Any building would have splendid light and fresh air. It could be used for other purposes and I am willing to take chances on getting my money out of the venture.

Wonderful Progress.

"Pittsburgh has made wonderful progress during the past 25 years and no one can tell what will happen in the next century. This right to be granted the railroad is virtually perpetual. Who knows what the completion of the slackwater system of the Ohio river will develop at Pittsburgh. This space on the public wharf may be needed in a few years from now and the city has no right to give it away. The Gazette is taking the proper stand in this matter. The consideration offered is too small. When the station is once built it will be there to stay and that portion of the wharf will never be used for anything else."

The estimates of land values printed in The Gazette yesterday morning seem to find general favor. Every person realizes that with the continued improvements being made in the Ohio, Monongahela and Allegheny rivers, the value of river frontage increases.

Facilities Being Improved.

Shipping facilities are being constantly bettered, and there is no reason why, with the locks and dams now being put in along the Ohio river, Pittsburgh should not have first-class water shipping.

Some time ago The Gazette printed some articles anent the isthmian canal, and its value to Pittsburgh and the Pittsburgh manufacturing district. There is every indication that the isthmian canal will be a reality, and that shipment may be made from Pittsburgh in ocean going barges to points in other countries.

With any such traffic as this inaugurated the value of river frontage in Pittsburgh will increase. Every available foot of ground will be demanded for wharves, warehouses and elevators, to aid in loading the thousands of tons of manufactured product which will annually be shipped from Pittsburgh via the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

Great Strip Demanded.

The present plans of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad take up a great strip of river front. Once the freight and passenger depots are built as planned, and the tracks of the railroad laid, all possibility of utilizing any part of the river front there will be gone. The property is valuable now, but the prospect of such increased shipping facilities enhances its value very much.

Arguments such as the above are made in support of The Gazette's claim that the railroad company should pay an adequate rental for the property it asks. They show that $4,000 a year is not a fair sum for rental for a strip of land the estimated value of which is even now $350,000, and which is certain to increase in value.

Lawyers Are Interested.

Lawyers in the city are much interested in just what the city can do in the way of leasing property which it acquired in the peculiar way this wharf space, wanted by the Baltimore & Ohio, was given over. The question is an intricate one, even though the supreme court has by a number of decisions clearly set forth the rights of a city in land vacation, leases, etc. The legal gentlemen are chary about expressing an opinion on the subject, fearing that anything said off hand might prove to be incorrect.

It is entirely probable that the matter will be referred to City Solicitor T. D. Carnahan before it is finally decided. Mr. Carnahan absolutely refuses to express any opinion at all about the proposition, either as to the city's powers, the rental question, or any other.

Rivermen Take a Hand.

The rivermen are very much interested in the proposition. They have continually clashed with the railroads about bridges being erected over streams at a heighth not sufficient to prevent serious hindrance to their traffic. Local rivermen are anxious to have the Baltimore & Ohio do something in the way of improvement to its bridge at Parkersburg, W. Va., and if the railroad agrees to conform to their wishes the rivermen will in all probability support the present grant here.

TUBERCULOSIS IS INTERESTING TO MRS. SCHWAB

To Aid in Investigations She Gives Microscope to Hospital.

INSTRUMENT IS ONE OF BEST OF ITS KIND

Mrs. Charles M. Schwab, wife of the president of the United States Steel Corporation, is greatly interested in recent investigations into the nature and cure of tuberculosis. An evidence of her interest is the gift of a valuable microscope to the East End charity hospital.

The instrument was received yesterday from the makers, Bausch & Lomb of Rochester, N. Y. In a formal letter to the hospital authorities the manufacturers state that the instrument is the largest and most complete ever sent out by the trade.

Mrs. Schwab has requested that the microscope be especially used in investigations of tuberculosis and expresses her deep interest in all efforts to check the malady, as well as all others of a pulmonary nature.

The microscope will be adjusted next week. Its accessories include numerous slides, pipettes and sediment glasses. It will prove a timely and valuable addition to the equipment of the new hospital.

Plans for the new hospital building were finally adopted Thursday night by the board of management. The structure will be of brick and stone, with a frontage of 110 feet in Beechwood boulevard and a depth of 92 feet for one wing and 44 feet for the other. This shorter wing will be given over to the administration rooms.

The other wing and the front section will be devoted to the use of private patients. The rooms will be equipped and furnished as memorials from friends of the institution. Ground for this structure will be broken next week.

The Women's Aid society of the hospital has completed plans for its annual "ingathering day." It is to be observed April 3. Supplies of linen of all kinds and other materials and articles that may be of use in such an institution will be received. The building at present used by the Sisters of Charity in their work will be thrown open for inspection by the friends of the hospital.

During the three months that the building on the Silver lake plot has been in use many repairs and improvements have been made. They have radically changed the aspect of the building and the grounds.

CONTROLS WORLD'S NICKEL.

Charles M. Schwab Organizes a Concern and Buys Three Big Companies, Canadian and French.

TORONTO, ONT., March 21.—(Special.)—It was said today at the government bureau of mines that Charles M. Schwab and some of his financial associates had organized a company with $9,000,000 capital and had secured control of the interests of the Canadian Copper Company of Cleveland, the Orford Copper Company of New Jersey and the La Nickel Company of Paris, France. The department of mines will not be necessarily informed officially of these deals until the new company applies for the bonus on nickel plate or desires some change in conditions of the leases of the two first named companies, each of which possesses very rich nickel mines in the Sudbury district of Ontario.

The Paris company has no mines in Canada, but controls the New Caledonia mines, so that Mr. Schwab now controls the world's nickel mines.

GROVER NOT TROUBLED.

Former President Ignores Attack Upon Him in the Commoner, Mr. Bryan's Paper.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 21.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland was today shown a dispatch from Lincoln, Neb., which said that W. J. Bryan, commenting editorially in the Commoner upon Mr. Cleveland's recent letter to a Mississippi editor, denounces him as a "traitor, ingrate and political nonenity."

"I am not at all troubled about it," was the only comment Mr. Cleveland would make.

The ex-president was asked what he thought of the prospects of pulling together the Democratic party for the next presidential campaign, and replied:

"I don't know much about it, but there seem to be some efforts in that direction. I wouldn't care to express any further opinion on it at present."

M. S. QUAY ARRIVES IN WASHINGTON, COUGH VANQUISHED, LOOKING WELL

Has Been Deluged With Letters and Telegrams from State Politicians, and Expects to Be Overrun by Callers—Future Movements, or When He Will Visit Pittsburgh, Uncertain.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.

Senator M. S. Quay arrived here tonight from Florida at 10:15 and was at once driven to his house. He was accompanied by his son, Maj. A. G. C. Quay. When seen by the writer shortly after he arrived the senator was surrounded by Mrs. Quay and their daughters and looked in good health, despite the fatigue of the trip north.

In reply to inquiries the senator said he felt in good shape. That troublesome cough had been vanquished and were it not for his stomach, which sometimes gives him trouble, he would feel as well as he did ten years ago. Unfortunately such things as country sausage and Pennsylvania scrapple did not agree with his digestive organs and after partaking of those articles of food he had trouble with indigestion.

The senator said he did not know how long he would remain here or when he would visit Pittsburgh and other points in the state.

An attempt was made to persuade the senator to discuss the political situation in the state, but he evaded the subject by asserting that he was without information and then, turning interviewer, he endeavored to extract information of a political nature from the writer.

"It is said, senator, that you have come to settle the contest for governor. What have you to say about it?"

"I am not posted on the situation and must be informed before I can discuss such matters. I have been deprived of the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia papers for a couple of weeks, owing to the fact that my subscription had run out and consequently I could not keep posted on local matters. I missed the papers a good deal."

After a moment's pause he asked: "What is the latest on the governorship?" When told that Mr. Elkin and his friends were stoutly claiming the nomination for Mr. Elkin, while other Republicans were insisting that he should not be nominated, the senator smiled wearily and said:

"Yes, I have had numerous letters and telegrams from both sides."

"And it is also asserted that you should take the nomination yourself, or urge the nomination of Mr. Cameron," said a member of the party.

The senator made no comment except to say he supposed he would now be overrun with callers from the state who desire to discuss local politics.

"Penrose, I understand," said he, "has been notifying my friends that I would be home today and then has gone away to Philadelphia to escape them."

Attorney General John P. Elkin spent the day here conferring with Senator Penrose, Representatives Connell and Jack and others of his friends. Before leaving he said he was satisfied with the situation and expects to be nominated. Mr. Elkin's declared destination was Philadelphia.

Superintendent of Public Buildings Eyre was here for a while today in consultation with Senator Penrose and Representative Butler.

Postmaster H. H. North of Bradford was another capitol visitor and was in conference with Representative Sibley for some time. If the delegates from McKean county are not asked for by the friends of Mr. Sibley, Mr. North thought they would be uninstructed and go to the convention to vote for the best man.

Fred Edwards, register of wills of Allegheny county, called upon Senator Penrose and remained for some time. He declined to state the object of his mission.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., March 21.—(Special.)—Attorney General John P. Elkin, accompanied by Senator Boies Penrose, reached here from Washington this evening. Insurance Commissioner Durham spent an hour with Mr. Elkin.

"There is nothing new of importance," said Mr. Elkin to The Gazette correspondent. "I visited Senator Penrose in Washington and we came together to Philadelphia. I will leave her some time tomorrow. No, I did not see Senator Quay. I understand he was due in Washington today, but I left before he arrived."

"Will you see Senator Quay before you go home?"

"It is possible that I will. It has always been my custom to call and pay my respects to the senator when he returned from his Florida visits, and no doubt I shall do so on this occasion."

Col. L. A. Watres of Scranton arrived tonight. Mr. Watres said he was looking after his fight for delegates in Lebanon county, and would go there whenever sent for by his friends, who are in charge of his interests. He said he was willing to spend a week or a day to make speeches or take any action suggested by his advisers.

Commissioner Durham said today the primaries to nominate county officers and elect delegates to the state convention would be held in Philadelphia the first week in June.

PRESIDENTIAL BEE IS BUZZING IN MILES' EARS

Another Break Like That Committed Before the Senate Committee Will Result in His Compulsory Retirement.

NUMEROUS OFFENSES UNDER THE TWO ADMINISTRATIONS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—Lieut. Gen. Miles is in grave danger of being compulsorily retired by the president. This action is not contemplated because of the criticisms made of the president and secretary of war before the senate military committee by the general yesterday, but on account of the unfitness which the administration claims he has displayed to occupy the office he now fills. It is not proposed, however, to immediately retire him. His past record satisfies the president that he will be unable to remain inside of the bounds of discipline, and another impropriety will be followed by the fall of the ax.

The view taken by the friends of the president and the secretary of war is that nothing Gen. Miles said before the military committee should lay him under official censure.

The impression is apparently deeply rooted that the lieutenant general of the army is playing politics and that to retire him as a result of his testimony would be to make a martyr of him, or at least arouse sympathy for him throughout the country.

Your correspondent asked a prominent official why he thought Gen. Miles had been playing politics and in reply he gave me a remarkable interview.

"Gen. Miles," said this official, "has long been a candidate for president. This was true of his ambition just after the Spanish war, while McKinley was president, and it is now true. I will pass over his conduct from the time he returned from Porto Rico until the death of McKinley, and confine myself entirely to his exploits since President Roosevelt came into office.

Attitude Toward the Canteen.

"Continuously since President Roosevelt entered the White House the lieutenant general commanding the army has been running counter to the wishes of the president, who is his commander-in-chief, and to the policy of the secretary of war, and is constantly catering to the Democratic and anti-administration element.

"I will instance first the canteen. The policy of the administration was well known on that subject. It believed that the canteen at army posts was the best way to settle the drink question in the army. That was the policy of the president and of the war department. Gen. Miles, in his annual report, came out fairly and squarely against the canteen, against the department and against the president. In this way he won a great deal of applause from the church people throughout the country and was commended in all of the church newspapers. Yet at the time that Gen. Miles wrote his report the canteen question had been settled. A paragraph abolishing it had been inserted in the army reorganization bill last winter.

Meddled With Schley Matter.

"Gen. Miles next figured in the Schley controversy. Schley was a Democratic idol. The navy department and the administration were forced by the facts to take the view that Schley had been guilty of reprehensible conduct. When the court of inquiry rendered its decision Gen. Miles gave an interview criticizing the court and upholding Schley. For this he was reprimanded by the secretary of war, and his friends endeavored to make it appear that he had been abused and humiliated.

"Then came the army board. It was convened to select sites for army posts where troops are to be quartered when not in active service in the field. He issued a statement in which he disagreed with a majority of the board, declaring that it was against public policy that army posts should be located near large cities, because the troops may be used for shooting down the workingman.

Out-and-Out Bryanism.

"This is the view taken by Mr. Bryan, the extremist, as the Democratic party is now constituted, and needs no comment. No thinking man would for a moment take the view that the United States troops would ever be used for overawing labor.

"Thus, you see, Gen. Miles has been playing the political game to the limit. Undoubtedly, for the good of the service, Gen. Miles ought to be retired."

The session of the cabinet today was almost exclusively devoted to consideration of the case of Gen. Miles. Every member of the cabinet agreed with the president that Gen. Miles had committed a grave breach of decorum. It was determined, however, that it would be unwise to antagonize the senate military committee, which would certainly object to the punishment of an officer called by it to testify because of statements he made while under examination. The cabinet further reached the conclusion that Gen. Miles' case could safely rest with the country.

Miles Claims Privilege.

Gen. Miles said today that the statements he made before the senate committee were behind closed doors and under the seal of confidence. It is true he had applied to be heard, but he was called by the committee, and it was therefore his right to plainly express his views. Some of the remarks he made were in reply to questions addressed to him by the members of the committee.

Senator Quarles of Wisconsin understood the significance of Gen. Miles' statements and suggested to the stenographer on several occasions that he take no notes. As Gen. Miles' views were given in response to the request of the committee, it was stated in behalf of the committee this morning that he would be fully protected from punishment. The committee regrets that one of its members was so indiscreet as to make public Gen. Miles' statements.

Roosevelt Will Read Testimony.

Such portions of Gen. Miles' testimony as were taken by the stenographer are now being typewritten. The copy will be revised by Gen. Miles tomorrow and it will then be published. When the printed testimony is available a copy will be supplied to the president and secretary of war.

It was reported today that the general had gone so far as to tell the committee that under the bill Secretary Root and Adjt. Gen. Corbin would have the opportunity to perpetuate their power and put their favorite in office, and its enactment would be a long step in the direction of the establishment of a military despotism in this country. A partisan president could thus have a partisan staff and perpetuate his power for an indefinite period.

It is significant that long after the cabinet meeting adjourned Secretary Root and the attorney general were closeted with the president. The president is known to have said he was tired of the friction in the army, and in the event that it is decided that Gen. Miles' statement was a privileged one, he will at no distant day take action looking to his retirement.

Dramatic Critic Dead.

NEW YORK, March 21.—William Henry Frost, who has been connected with the dramatic department of the New York Tribune for 18 years, died today at his home in this city. He was born at Providence, R. I., in 1863, and was graduated from Brown university. Mr. Frost's death was sudden. He had been in poor health for some time, but no fears were entertained for him by his friends. On Tuesday his illness took acute form and he failed to rally. He was a member of the Lotus club of New York.

AVENUE THEATER TO BE REOPENED FOR VAUDEVILLE

PITTSBURGH WILL BE IN WESTERN CIRCUIT

Pittsburgh's long-promised continuous vaudeville theater is practically assured. Harry Davis yesterday closed a lease of the Grand opera house and the Avenue theater for a term of 15 years from July 1, 1903. In addition to extensive improvements already being planned, the Avenue theater will be reopened and will be one of a string of 13 vaudeville theaters extending from Pittsburgh to San Francisco.

The directors of the Pittsburgh Opera House Company received a number of bids for the property. Among them were offers from B. F. Keith and, it is said, from Nixon & Zimmerman. Mr. Davis' offer was accepted, however. Mr. Davis made the following statement last night:

"At a meeting of the board of directors of the Pittsburgh Opera House Company held today I was granted a renewal of my lease for a term of 15 years, dating from July 1, 1903. This, with the remainder of my present lease, gives me a term of 16 years from July 1, 1902.

"In view of my extended lease, I can now afford, and will, improve the entire property extensively, making both theaters as good in the matter of appointments and modern improvements as any of the leading theaters in America.

"By securing this new lease I will be able to reopen negotiations on a proposition made to me some time ago. This is a definite proposition to buy my lease as it now stands, or to acquire an interest, with me as a partner, in placing the Grand Opera House property in a chain of continuous vaudeville theaters reaching from New Orleans to San Francisco, including the Orpheum circuit in Kansas City, Omaha, Los Angeles, San Francisco and New Orleans; Kohl & Castle's three theaters in Chicago; the Columbia theater in St. Louis and the Anderson Amusement Company.

"This will make theaters in Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Louisville, in all 12 high-class vaudeville theaters in addition to Pittsburgh. The purpose of this arrangement is to start the continuous vaudeville in this city next September. I have already communicated with the backers of the scheme and their representatives will visit me again in a short time.

"In the event of this deal being consummated, as now seems almost assured, the Avenue theater will be so improved and seating capacity enlarged as to have the continuous performances there, while the stock company will continue in the Grand Opera House, as heretofore."

B. F. Keith, who has been seeking a theater site in Pittsburgh for some weeks, has gone south. Philip F. Nash, his representative, said last night that options had been secured on three sites. He declined to say where the properties are located. "You can say, however," he continued, "that we have secured just what we want and that we will give Pittsburgh exactly the theater the people have desired for a number of years."

CLAYTON UNDER FIRE.

Texans File Charges Against the Ambassador to Mexico—Protection Said to Be Refused.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—(Special.)—Senator Bailey filed with the president today papers prepared by Judge Nicholson, attorney for Dr. W. S. Scott of Texas, bearing on the charges brought against Gen. Powell Clayton, American ambassador to Mexico.

Dr. Scott asserts that in civil actions brought in the courts of Mexico, Gen. Clayton failed to give him any protection, ignored his claims, and in consequence, he could not obtain justice. Other charges of a similar character are in preparation against Ambassador Clayton, and a Texas representative said tonight there is undoubtedly evidence against him sufficient to cause his recall.

President Roosevelt is conferring with prominent men more or less acquainted with affairs in Mexico, and they are giving him their views on the value of Gen. Clayton as a representative of the American government at that post. Some of these men are more or less interested in enterprises in progress that are backed by American money. The disposition of many of these callers is to object to Gen. Clayton.

The papers filed by Senator Bailey will go to the state department with others relating to Gen. Clayton's alleged ownership of stock in Mexican mines.

TWO IMPORTANT MEASURES PASS THE U. S. SENATE

The Amended War Revenue Repeal Bill Wins Without Division.

TILLMAN FOR A TEA TAX

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—Two notable things were done by the senate today. It passed the amended war revenue repeal bill, and after rejecting all amendments, passed the bill for the protection of the person of the president, by a vote of 52 to 15. The vote in detail was:

Yeas—Aldrich, Allison, Bard, Beveridge, Burnham, Burrows, Burton, Clark (Mont.), Clark (Wyo.), Cockrell, Cullom, Debce, Depew, Dillingham, Dryden, Dubois, Elkin, Fairbanks, Foraker, Foster (La.), Foster (Wash.), Frye, Gallinger, Gamble, Gibson, Hanna, Hansbrough, Harris, Hawley, Heitfeld, Hoar, Kearns, Kittredge, Lodge, McComas, McMillan, Martin, Mitchell, Nelson, Perkins, Platt (Conn.), Pritchard, Proctor, Quarles, Scott, Simmons, Spooner, Stewart, Teller, Vest, Warren, Wetmore.

Nays—Bacon, Bailey, Bate, Berry, Blackburn, Carmack, Clay, McCumber, Mallory, Patterson, Pettus, Rawlins, Taliaferro, Tillman, Wellington.

Anti-Anarchy in Separate Bill.

The most important of the rejected amendments was one offered by Senator Morgan, looking to the breaking up of anarchist societies in America, such as that which conspired to assassinate the king of Italy. Senator Hoar said he had no objection to such an amendment, but as his committee is already considering a bill for that purpose, and would soon report it to the senate, he preferred to deal with the question in that way. The amendment was lost without division.

Provisions of the Bill.

The bill provides that any person within the United States who shall wilfully and maliciously kill the president, or any officer on whom the duties of president may devolve, or any sovereign of a foreign country, or shall attempt to kill any of the persons named, shall suffer death; that any person who shall aid, abet, advise or counsel the killing of any of the persons named, or shall conspire to accomplish their death, shall be imprisoned not exceeding 20 years; that any person who shall threaten to kill or advise or counsel another to kill the president, or any official on whom the duties of president may devolve, shall be imprisoned not exceeding 10 years; that any person who shall wilfully aid in the escape of any person guilty of any of the offenses mentioned shall be deemed an accomplice and shall be punished as a principal.

The secretary of war is directed to detail from the regular army a guard of officers and men to protect the president, "without any unnecessary display," and the secretary is authorized to make regulations as to the dress, arms and equipment and duties of such guard.

Tillman Would Retain Tea Tax.

The revenue bill was passed without division, and after only one short speech. Mr. Tillman embraced the opportunity to protest against the repeal of the duty of 10 cents a pound upon tea.

On motion of Mr. Proctor, chairman of the committee on agriculture, the oleomargarine bill was made the unfinished business.

PRINCIPAL AT LAST CHOSEN.

Prof. C. B. Coffey Will Have Charge of the Eighth Ward, Allegheny Schools.

After many fruitless meetings the Eighth ward school board, Allegheny, last night elected a successor to Prof. J. H. Young as principal of the schools. Prof. C. B. Coffey of McKees Rocks was chosen.

Prof. Garrett E. Tredway, who was Prof. Young's predecessor, was a candidate for his old position. It had been claimed by Prof. Tredway and his supporters that he was favored by one-half the board and that if he could not be elected no one could.

The meeting of the board last night was not generally known and the announcement that Prof. Coffey, who was not considered a prominent candidate, was elected, occasioned considerable surprise.

Prof. Coffey, it was stated last night, will assume charge next Monday morning. The resignation of Prof. Coffey was submitted to the McKees Rocks school board at its month meeting last night and accepted. A successor will not be elected until next month.

BIG CONFERENCE BEGAN YESTERDAY

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION SOCIETY OPENED CONVENTION HERE.

Formal Opening Exercises and Reception to Dr. Nathaniel Butler Were Held in Evening—Afternoon Was Devoted to Business Affairs.

The University Extension conference was opened yesterday, and although the attendance for the first day was not very great better is expected today, when representatives of the branches in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio will be present. The formal opening exercises in the evening and the earlier business session were full of interest. The conference will last through today and tomorrow the Chicago university professors, who are here, will speak at various churches. Yesterday's sessions were held in the Bellefield Presbyterian church.

The business session, which began at 3 p. m., was a conference of the officers of the local centers, presided over by E. E. Kiernan of the Pittsburgh University Extension society. The subjects under discussion were local co-operation and the program for the next year.

Lectures Were Scheduled.

Walter A. Payne, secretary of the university extension work at the Chicago university, was present and told of the available lecturers. By the time the business session was over the lectures were provided for four days of the first week and one of the second week. The lectures so far arranged for will be delivered by Prof. Edwin E. Sparks on the following days and at the following centers: Monday, Allegheny Carnegie hall; Tuesday, Hazelwood branch library; Thursday, Wylie avenue branch library; Saturday, Mt. Washington; Monday of the second week, West End. Wednesday and Friday of the first week were not definitely placed, but probably Canton, O., will have Prof. Sparks on Wednesday and Lawrenceville on Friday. Mr. Payne said that the professors available for university extension work were Thomas P. Bailey, Edwin E. Sparks, Charles Zueblin, J. H. Raymond, Ira W. Howerth, J. G. Troop and R. G. Moulton. Profs. Sparks, Zueblin and Moulton will probably deliver lecture courses.

Pittsburgh a Great Center.

"There is not another place in America that has shown greater activity in university extension work than Pittsburgh," said Mr. Payne after the meeting. "There has been a remarkable awakening of interest in and about Pittsburgh. The central society in Pittsburgh has been largely influential in arousing this spirit and keeping it alive. Mr. Kiernan has mentioned an incident illustrative of what I say. Prof. J. H. Breasted delivered a course of lectures here on the explorations in Egypt; shortly afterward a society for the promotion of Egyptian research was organized by the Pittsburgh Central society; $2,400 was contributed to the fund and as a result Pittsburgh now has in the Carnegie museum a valuable collection of Egyptian antiquities sent here by Dr. Petrie, in return for Pittsburgh's aid in his work."

Reception to Dr. Pratt.

In the evening the Bellefield church was the scene of the formal opening exercises and of a reception to Prof. Henry T. McClelland, the pastor of the church, delivered a brief address of welcome, which was responded to by the Rev. Dr. Milton Butler Pratt, president of the university extension center of Akron, O., and pastor of the First Methodist church there. Dr. Pratt said that it was in his church, years ago, that Louis Miller, a lay member of the church, and Dr. Vincent, now the famous bishop, founded the Chautauqua course. Akron had Buchtel college, he said, and yet the people of Akron felt the importance of the university extension movement. We looked backward for our philosophy, Dr. Pratt continued, about us for our data, and within us for our conclusions.

He said: "The problems of today demand the development of the masses, rather than the equipment of a few leaders, for despotism has forever given way to democracy. The university extension brings wisdom to the masses."

Dr. Butler's Address.

Prof. Nathaniel Butler of the University of Chicago was the speaker of the evening. His subject was "Ideals in Education." In the course of his address Prof. Butler took occasion to refer to the opinion, erroneously entertained by many, that education was completed when the young man left college. Adult study, he said, should be prosecuted as faithfully as the studies of youth. The object of adult study was not to produce specialists, but to enrich and enlarge intellectual life. He spoke of the demands made by some universities upon men who desired to study the professions, in requiring a college diploma before admitting them to the lecture courses. More so than formerly education was now physical, social, intellectual and spiritual. Athletics in the colleges was one of the best solutions of the making of good citizens.

School Is Life.

Men were not now expected to go through college with book learning only, but they were expected to develop gentlemanly attributes and to interest themselves in the questions that interest the community. The secondary schools taught their pupils to observe, think, draw conclusions and to express them. Man's personal responsibility to God and his fellow man was now accentuated. The phrase "school is a preparation for life" the lecturer characterized as a fallacy, as from hearing that expression the student frequently got the impression that school was not life, resulting often in false views of what life really is.

After the lecture an informal reception was held, and Mr. Kiernan introduced the officers of the university extension centers to Dr. Butler.

Today's sessions will be held in the lecture room of the Carnegie library. The forenoon session will last from 9:30 to 12:30 p. m., the afternoon session from 2 to 5:30 p. m., and the evening session will begin at 8 p. m.

provided the improvements are made in such a way that river interests will not be affected.

Attorney George W. Guthrie, who has expressed decided opinions at different times upon municipal questions such as this, is interested in the application of the railroad.

"My attitude upon municipal questions is generally well-known in this community," he said yesterday, "and it does not vary any in this case. I have always insisted that the city have ample but not exorbitant compensation for any privileges it gives and I make no exception of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

"I do not know anything about the value of the property, so I cannot say whether the sum of money paid now, or offered for the additional space, is enough. I am not especially familiar with that property and until I have an opportunity to look it over and estimate it I do not wish to say anything about the price which should be paid. My point is that the city should get a fair figure.

"As to the city's right to lease or condemn the property for the railroad I do not want to express an opinion. Supreme court decisions have stated clearly the city's powers, but this may be a peculiar case. I do not think, though, that the city would make any preparations to give away or lease anything contrary to the law."

WILCOX SAFE WHILE JURY DELIBERATES

Citizens of Elizabeth City Quietly Await Verdict in Cropsey Murder Case.

AN IMPARTIAL CHARGE

Public Sentiment and Personal Prejudice Must Be Ignored—The Evidence Alone Must Be Considered. Crowds Disperse at Midnight.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., March 21.—There was not a very large attendance today at the trial of young Wilcox for the murder of Miss Nellie Cropsey. The fact that all evidence, 200 typewritten pages, would be read, kept the public away. Early in the morning the court house was well filled, but later in the day most of the seats were empty.

In charging the jury before the reading of the evidence to them began Judge Jones said:

"Gentlemen, your problem in this case is to find the facts. You have heard the testimony of witnesses and the argument of counsel. Now the case is with you. It must be tried on the evidence. If you should let any impression you may have had, or public sentiment, influence your verdict you do violence to your oaths. Your verdict must be strictly according to the evidence. I shall give you a few rules of law that shall govern your actions. You start out assuming that the prisoner is innocent. If the state has not satisfied you beyond reasonable doubt that the girl was killed by the defendant, then you must bring in a verdict of not guilty. The evidence must be not only conclusively consistent with the prisoner's guilt, but inconsistent with his innocence. You are sworn to try the case by the evidence and that alone. Try the case as men. Rise above public opinion. I have no opinion in the case. It is for you to decide."

The evidence was then read over to the jury and at 4:30 they retired. A verdict is not expected tonight. At midnight the city was quiet, the jury had not yet returned a verdict. The crowds were dispersing and there will probably no trouble tonight.

LICENSE APPLICANTS MUST RUN GAUNTLET

Volley of Searching Questions Greets Every Man Who Appears Before the Court.

Liquor dealers are firmly of the opinion that there is going to be "something doing" when it comes time to announce the names of those who are to receive licenses. A year ago the court was all through in three days, and last night when the court closed for the week only 445 cases had been heard. The closeness of the examinations is frightening the applicants. The knowledge the court has of the "doings" in some of the saloons is astonishing.

The necessity of the place is a point that new applicants have a hard time in proving to the satisfaction of the court. One man yesterday insisted that a new saloon was needed where he proposed to start, but when the court informed him that there were seven saloons close together at that point, he looked around at his lawyer and friends in a way that was the same as if he had asked, "What shall I say?"

William Bolger is an applicant for a license at No. 4744 Liberty street. He was the first case of the day. Bolger was reminded that in 1892, when he was an agent for a brewery he was convicted of illegal liquor selling and sentenced to six months' imprisonment and a fine of $500. The court said that the fine had never been paid. Bolger said that "nobody ever came after it."

James F. Murphy of No. 3406 Penn avenue came prepared in one way, if not in others. When the court wanted to know the number of rooms in his house Murphy referred to a slip of paper, and gave the dimensions of every room as well as the number.

Frank E. Roll, one of the very recent transfers, was scored by the court. Roll had a saloon at No. 4601 Friendship avenue, and on the last Saturday in February secured a transfer to No. 4501 Liberty street.

William M. Tobin of No. 4315 Butler street, was astonished when the court informed him that he kept a disorderly place. He was also informed that he had women about the place, and had been open nights. He denied that he had "to any great extent."

The board of trustees of the Carnegie institute put in a remonstrance against John S. Henninger, No. 6323 Station street, and N. D. Domenica, No. 6304 Station street, stating that they were not needed, and adjoined ground on which a new branch library will be built.

On Monday it is expected to complete from the Nineteenth to the Twenty-third wards, inclusive.

A MYSTERIOUS CASE.

Members of Catherine Ray's Family Say She Was Induced to Leave Home.

Catherine Ray, the young girl who mysteriously disappeared from her home, No. 518 Larimer avenue, East End, on Wednesday night, was found by her brother yesterday and returned to her parents, who refuse to say where she was found, except that she was with respectable people.

Mrs. Ray, her mother, said yesterday that she had not left home from her own choice, but that she was induced to go by someone whom she did not feel at liberty to name. Where she was and by whom she was taken away is known only to herself and her family.

"My daughter was not taken out of the city," said Mrs. Ray, "but she was taken away from the East End. She was not badly treated, but she is in a state of semi-nervous collapse, due to the events since last Wednesday. The child was taken out of school some time ago on account of ill health, and we have been very careful of her. She went out but seldom and met but few people, and was never out of the house at night. The police are investigating the case, and those who are implicated in the matter will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law."

Mrs. Ray and a daughter are invalids and they were almost prostrated by the absence of the young girl. Her restoration, safe and well, caused great rejoicing in the family circle.

Charged with Embezzlement.

Ogden McIlwaine, an agent of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, was taken to the jail last night pending a hearing before Alderman Samuel Abernathy of Allegheny on a charge of embezzlement. It is alleged that he misappropriated $95.

WATER MEN FIND A SILVER LINING

THEY SAY THE FLOOD RENDERED A SERVICE TO THE CITY.

It Cleaned the Bed of the Allegheny River and the City Water Is Now Better and More Wholesome Than for Many Months.

Officials of the bureau of water supply and distribution have found a silver lining to the recent flood. Despite all the trouble it made for them they are not resentful. They declare that it has given Pittsburgh better water than the city has had for months. This is the way they put it:

"Not for six months has more wholesome water gone into the thousands of hydrants in the city than is flowing to them at present. The rush of the flood has cleaned the bed of the Allegheny river and the dangerous sediment and growths of various sorts have been swept away. While there may be a shortage in the supply, Pittsburghers can console themselves with the thought that the river has been freed from germ-laden refuse and sediment. Their water is free from disease. It is wholesome and better for drinking and cooking than it has been for a long time.

No Mud in Reservoir.

"As regards the statement that there is (no one knows how much) mud lying in the Highland reservoir it is absurd. There is a sediment of sand, but it is sand, and sand only. Some of it gets into the water, but this always has been and always will be so. It does not follow that this sediment is disease-breeding. It is simply sand, and the best of river sand."

This latter statement was provoked by the report, current yesterday, that there might be but two feet of water in the reservoir, due to the fact that since the reservoir had last been cleaned great quantities of mud had gathered in the basin. This, it was held, might make the gauge readings inaccurate and mean that disease-laden filth made a dangerous bed for the water.

Gauge Showed a Loss.

The reading of the engineers at Highland reservoir at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon was 7 feet 7 inches. This was a loss of almost a foot in 24 hours, but the fall was due to the stopping of one of the Holly engines during the night while it was being cleaned and repaired.

Another was cleaned and repaired during the day, but since 7 o'clock yesterday morning the water fell only one inch, showing that the bureau is gaining on the water. It is believed that with all the engines running during last night the reading this morning will show that perhaps a foot of water has been gained during the night.

Director McCandless is satisfied with the situation. "The pumps are working well," he said last evening, "and that being the case we shall be able likely to make up what we lost.

No Shut Off Necessary.

"There is no immediate necessity for shutting off the water. If the people will be careful we expect no further trouble."

Mill owners resent the imputation that they are in any way responsible for the water shortage. Almost without exception the managers of the Penn avenue plants, especially, declare that they find their own pumping facilities more than sufficient to supply their wants.

Emphatic statements that no use was made of city water because the supply could not meet their demands were made yesterday at the mills of the Wayne Iron and Steel Company, Zug & Co., the Shoenberger plant of the American Steel and Wire Company, the Upper and Lower Union and the Clark mills of the United States Steel Corporation.

Larger Postoffice Quarters.

E. M. Norris, assistant superintendent of allowance of the postoffice department, was in Braddock yesterday. He said he would recommend that the Braddock postoffice have larger quarters. Mr. Norris went to Homestead, where he was not expected, and told Postmaster John Grion that he must secure larger and better quarters.

A Marvelous Spring Health Giver and Invigorator.

Paine's Celery Compound

Purifies the Blood As Nothing Else Can Do.

It Nourishes the Tired Brain and Braces the Weak Nerves.

Paine's Celery Compound purifies the blood as nothing else can do; it is nature's brain food; it builds up weak and shattered nerves; it is the world's best and surest health giver.

Paine's Celery Compound, taken during the opening of spring, has a remarkable efficacy in making sick people well and strong. It makes short work of debility and nervous exhaustion. It quickly drives out neuralgia, rheumatism, sleeplessness and dyspepsia from the system. Its virtues promptly banish kidney disease and liver troubles. It enables all weak and run down men and women to cast off their besetting troubles and gives them a happy and vigorous life.

Rev. J. W. Ricketts, Sugar Grove, Ohio, cheerfully testifies as follows: "I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia, attended with biliousness and constipation, for a number of years. During the last year it became so much worse that I had a misery in my stomach nearly all the time, and my flesh left me, until I was a mere skeleton. I have used four bottles of Paine's Celery Compound and am now at my normal weight. You cannot recommend Paine's Celery Compound too highly for chronic dyspepsia."

Mrs. Jennie H. Steele, Vaughns, Ga., who was rescued from the agonies of a terrible disease and sure death, says: "I have suffered for ten years with what the doctors called neuralgia of the liver, and never had any relief until I began to take Paine's Celery Compound. I have taken about three bottles and have not suffered any since I first began to use it. I feel that Paine's Celery Compound saved my life."

The Diversified Styles in Women's Top Garments

are more readily and thoroughly understood by a close examination of the many varieties now on exhibition in our second floor Wrap Department.

Tastes vary—in nothing more than the proper kind of a wrap.

The short Jacket is common property. Dashing Etons are meant for youth, and the Blouse—shall we say it?—is meant for the slender alone.

All these styles, in the most effective trimmings, are here in splendid variety—the inexpensive, the middle-priced on to very finest.

Many women admire the Etons with wide flowing sleeves, the latter a revival of an old time style. They come in moire, taffeta and peau de soie, and are undeniably smart and handsome.

For something ultra fashionable Paletots have again become prominent. The favored materials are such silks as moire, peau de soie and taffeta. The examples we show are handsomely trimmed with stitched bands and braids, while the collars and revers are beautifully contrasted in various effective applications of white lace.

Long Redingotes are specially admirable for the automobile and the carriage. We have these in black taffeta and glinting mohair. They are very stylish and not at all expensive.

In the exceptionally neat 19-inch cloth Jackets there is one style of tan covert finished with velvet collar and the new flare at top of collar. It is a fine little garment entirely lined with self-colored taffeta. The price is only $10.

Golf red Jackets are quite the thing. They come in fine cheviot—both in fly front and double-breasted box front styles. A contrasting collar of golf green velvet lends a pretty effect. $12.50, $15 and $18.

New Cloth Blouses of black Cheviot, a style of blouse extending below waist line, buttoned down front, three ornaments on each side of front, l'Aiglon collar, price $10.

The New Shirtwaists.

There is no reason why every girl and every matron should not be smart this Spring. About everything she could wish for in the way of personal adornment is spread before her in this store, and the cost is infinitesimal compared with the enjoyment of being up-to-date.

Take the matter of shirtwaists, for instance. Our variety is quite unusual, even for this store of great assortments.

Does a lady fancy a shirtwaist for $17? It is here in all the fascinating trimmings. Something not quite so expensive. Run down the line and note the examples of splendid effects at most any price that can be called.

Percale and Madras Waists, in all the latest effects, and all the pretty colors worn, 50c, 75c, $1 and on till $6 is reached.

Effective But Inexpensive Millinery.

Did anyone ever stop and think that the selecting of a becoming Hat or Toque requires decided artistic ability? What one woman can wear with grace would make another woman look hideous.

Not one woman out of ten of the thousands who buy their Hats from us trust their own judgment. Many women who have been selecting their millinery here for years have their favorite salesperson, and rely solely on her judgment; others have the advice of three or four before they arrive at a conclusion. One of the secrets of our great success is giving women hats and toques that become them.

And it does not make any difference whether the hat is medium priced or the very finest one imported from Paris.

Just now we are showing an elegant line of Hats for $10. Toques, too, at the same price. They are adaptations from French models, so cleverly imitated that it would be difficult to tell which was French and which American.

The $5 line includes new Outing shapes, Street Hats, Shopping Hats, new straw Toques, elderly women's Bonnets and girls' Dress Hats.

Children's Hats and Caps, all the Spring novelties in pique, duck and crash, not forgetting Tams, Caps and Hats to match coats and dresses, 25c and easily up to finest.

And there are the untrimmed Hats for women who have the knack of trimming—Colonial shapes, Dress shapes, roll brim Sailors, and other kinds—only 50c each, easily worth $1.

The Flowers for trimming—such a lot of them! Marvelously beautiful—every kind of a flower that is used for trimming—and the prices only 25c and 50c a bunch.

Women's New Spring Suits.

We have been exhibiting since Wednesday a remarkable collection of the various styles in women's suits for Spring and Summer. They have been viewed by thousands. Among them are Suits in tan and gray canvas weaves, the jacket with Eton front, fitted hip pieces, sides and back, new shaped notched collar and revers, tucked flounce skirt over silk drop. The price is $35.

Suits in an extra quality of black broadcloth, jaunty blouse with group of tucks in front and back, moire collar and belt, vest and collar edged with white and black trimming, skirt made with flounce over drop silk skirt, the flounce finished with groups of tucks to match blouse. Price $33.

The above are two of our most popular suits. Our general price range for suits is from $15 to $135.

Paris Hand-Made Lingerie.

We send our buyer to Paris expressly for the purpose of selecting negligee garments and fine undergarments of a style and quality that our Pittsburg women appreciate.

We do not recall any of our previous importations that contained so much diversity as the present one. It is a splendid assortment—made of exclusive styles in

NIGHT ROBES, NEGLIGEES,
CHEMISES, MATINEES,
RIPPLE PETTICOATS, CORSET COVERS AND FRENCH HOUSE SACKS.

The ripple Petticoat is something entirely new. It will be adopted at once. All the best fabrics associated with lingerie are represented. The beautiful trimmings are of such engaging variety as to pass all description.

We invite a special visit to see this French Lingerie—and today will be most opportune.

FAYETTE WAITS FOR DECISION OF SENATOR QUAY

The Five Delegates to the State Convention Will Go His Way.

WANT HIM FOR GOVERNOR

Politicians at Uniontown Would Like to See the Stalwart Leader Take the Reins of the State Government in His Own Hands

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

UNIONTOWN, PA., March 21.—According to Frank M. Fuller the five Fayette delegates to the Republican state convention will be at the disposal of Senator M. S. Quay. They will not be voted for John P. Elkin unless it is the desire of the man from Beaver. This is not alone the prediction of Mr. Fuller, but that of every Republican leader in the county whose opinion was requested.

There are quite a number of regular Republicans in Fayette who believe that Elkin is not the man to nominate. The Fayette stalwarts would rather have Quay for governor than any other who has been named. Mr. Fuller says that stranger things have happened than the nomination of the senator as the successor of Stone. Col. L. A. Watres has a number of friends here, and there are some Republicans who would like to see ex-Senator J. Donald Cameron head the ticket.

Do Not Want a Fight.

It is accepted that Mr. Fuller will have much to do with the naming of the delegates. Of course, if there was to be a fight, a delegation might be sent to Harrisburg with instructions, but the leaders are desirous of avoiding a fight on delegates. The Republicans of Fayette want to elect a congressman, senator, three assemblymen and all of the county officials to be voted for this fall, so they do not want an extra contest at the primaries.

There is a large independent voting population in the Republican party of Fayette. It is questionable if these men would all support Elkin in the fall and for this reason there is a desire that Quay should take action which will make Republican success certain and easy by insisting upon the nomination of an acceptable candidate for governor.

Old Defeat Remembered.

Robert E. Pattison had a majority of 1,800 in this county 12 years ago and there are some stalwarts who are fearful lest history might repeat itself. If the ticket were to go down this fall, the control of the court house would pass to the Democrats. For this reason the friends of Quay think that he should not force upon them the necessity of risking defeat. The senator knows the wishes of many of the regulars here. They have written him and are hopeful that he will give more heed to their warnings than he did when a similar alarm was sounded from Fayette in 1890.

Success in this congressional district means much to Senator Boies Penrose. Mismanagement in the nomination of a governor might not only result in the defeat of a senator and three members here, but be the cause of the loss of a senator and two assemblymen in Somerset. A Republican congressman would also be in jeopardy.

Strong for Senator Quay.

In searching for information as to the delegation to the state convention, the prominent party workers said that Mr. Fuller's opinion would express the sentiments of the organization. He said:

"In my opinion this delegation will go to Harrisburg uninstructed, but will support the man for governor suggested by Senator Quay. Personally I have no choice unless it be Quay. He has done stranger things than accept a nomination for governor and would make an exceptionally strong candidate. I am sure Fayette Republicans would be satisfied with his selection."

One of Cameron's supporters here wrote him a letter suggesting that the senator announce himself for governor. Cameron replied that he was not a candidate, but thought that Attorney General P. C. Knox would make an excellent nominee.

A Fight for Congress.

Fayette wants the congressman and three of her strongest Republicans are aspiring for the county's indorsement. They are William E. Crow, Robert F. Hopwood and A. F. Cooper. If all stay in the contest to a finish, and there is every reason to believe that they will, the fight will be a pretty one, and as the primaries are not held until May 24, the picking of the winner is an impossibility at this time.

Mr. Crow has been district attorney of Fayette and is now chairman of the Republican county committee. He is one of the young Republicans of the county, but has done an enormous amount of work for the party. He was the first to announce himself for congress, and has his fight well in hand. His management of the numerous campaigns in the county has brought him in close touch with the workers. For this reason his friends think that he will have an advantage in the contest.

Methodists for Hopwood.

Mr. Hopwood has had the indorsement of the county for congress in the old Twenty-fourth district, but was unable to get the nomination. His appearance in this contest is of recent date, and his entry may cause a rearrangement of plans. He will have the support of the followers of Judge Nathaniel Ewing, and had he not announced himself the judge might have appeared in the field. Mr. Hopwood is a prominent Methodist, and the leaders say that the membership of that church in the county is lining up for him. The denomination predominates here.

Mr. Cooper is an old Republican war horse. He has been prominent for years in the party organization and will probably cut in more on the following of Mr. Crow than will Mr. Hopwood. His Baptist friends will also give him considerable strength.

Thompson Backing Cooper.

It has been said that Josiah V. Thompson, the millionaire coal man and banker, has decided to back the candidacy of Mr. Cooper. Mr. Thompson has been spoken of for congress, and were he to get into the field he would be a winner, but he will not make the run. He says that he is not a candidate. He also denies that he is supporting Mr. Cooper to the exclusion of the other candidates. Nevertheless, the friends of Mr. Hopwood are of the opinion that Mr. Thompson will back Cooper. The Ewings and Thompson have not pulled together politically, and they are naturally opposed to anything politically that he is supposed to be promoting.

Mr. Thompson is a remarkable man. He has a tremendous capacity for work. It is said to be his boast that he always retires and gets up in the same day. Quite often he does not leave his desk at all.

Not Afraid of Work.

A few years ago when there was so much activity in coal lands, Mr. Thompson is known to have made business engagements at 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning. He is the picture of health, and an extremely affable gentleman. Sunday to him is an absolute day of rest. He does not do any work himself and forbids anyone in his employ to labor. Thompson has always taken a keen interest in Republican politics in Fayette. It is his only diversion from business.

Efforts will probably be made to get one or two of the candidates for congressman to withdraw. At present this appears like a hopeless task to the leaders. There is a fear, however, that the fight will grow bitter, and the chances of the county securing the nomination may be hindered. It is difficult to see how the number of candidates can be decreased.

Acheson a Factor.

Congressman E. F. Acheson is back of the candidacy of Mr. Cooper. The candidate is said to have the distribution of the Federal patronage in the county. This may both help and hinder. As Acheson will represent the county until next March Mr. Cooper will have considerable patronage to handle.

Judge F. J. Kooser of Somerset is holding court here. Wednesday night Gen. W. H. Koontz and ex-Judge Daniel Horner of Somerset were here. The politicians were together, but they all declare that no deal was made with Somerset on the congressional nomination. The leaders here all appreciate the lack of harmany in Somerset and are a little doubtful as to what may result from these conditions.

Planning for the Nomination.

Committees from the organizations of Fayette, Somerset and Greene will meet in a few days to agree upon a plan of nominating a congressman. Frank M. Fuller and ex-Representative H. M. Kephart of Connellsville are two of the committeemen from this county. They would prefer to have the nomination made by popular vote or by some means that would give Fayette a proper representation in the conference. Somerset and Greene will probably hold out for the old conferee system. Mr. Kephart is in favor of giving Somerset and Greene three conferees each and Fayette six. Fayette would need to get one vote from either of the other counties to make a nomination. It is in the same senatorial district with Greene and there is a chance of throwing the senatorial nomination to it in return for a vote to congress.

No Democrat Has Appeared.

If the conference system prevails, Fayette will ask that the candidate securing the indorsement of the county be allowed to name his representatives. Under the present rules each candidate is on the ticket at the primaries, and he has a slate of conferees. It has happened that some of the conferees of a defeated candidate for congress are nominated. This is not considered fair to the winner of the indorsement of the county.

So far no Fayette Democrat has appeared in the field for congress. The Democrats are all waiting the outcome of the primaries here and in Somerset, as well as the selection of the Republican state convention for governor.

In the senatorial field, no Republican has formally announced his candidacy. It is generally believed that H. M. Kephart, the organization leader in Connellsville, will become a candidate.

Kephart Urged to Run.

Mr. Kephart says that many of his friends have been urging him to run, but he has not consented. He is a proprietor of one of the leading hotels of Connellsville and was a member of the legislature of 1895.

Senator A. D. Boyd is a candidate for the Democratic nomination. His friends say that he did not intend to be a candidate until a statement, reputed to come from Col. J. M. Guffey, was printed in an eastern paper. The colonel is charged with saying that Senators Boyd of Fayette, Stiles of Lehigh, Higgins of Schuylkill, Haines of York and some other Democrats could not be returned because of their affiliation with the Republicans in the last session. This brought Boyd into the field. Col. Guffey is said to have repudiated the interview.

Boyd Will Make a Fight.

Senator Boyd says that he intends to stay in the fight. Henry Snyder of Connellsville is one of his chief supporters, and believes that Boyd can be elected. He admits, however, that the Democratic nomination really belongs to Greene this time. There may be an agreement, however, whereby Boyd will get the district nomination.

In Greene William Hook and J. A. Maple are after the Democratic nomination for senator. It is also reported that Representative John H. Smith will be an aspirant. On the Republican side Park Teagarden, who has just returned from service in the Philippines, is a candidate. It is also the turn of Greene Republicans to get the district nomination. Representatives Davis, McCune and Arensberg are candidates for re-election on the Republican ticket. Andrew A. Thompson, a son of J. V. Thompson, is also in the field.

Thompson Is Popular.

It is agreed among Republicans in Uniontown that Thompson will be one of the men. He is quite young, but very popular and has the prestige of his father's influence. If the field remains the way it is now there is a good deal of speculation as to which of the old men will be left at home. There is an impression that many of the organization men will cut McCune. He was inclined to be independent in the last session.

Robert F. Sample and J. D. Madigan were in the field as Democratic candidates for assembly, but have withdrawn. They are both engaged in the liquor business, and under a ruling of Judges Reppert and Umble dealers in spirits were warned not to engage in politics. This is the unique ruling of the court and probably resulted from the experience gleaned by the judges when they made their campaigns:

Warning to Saloon Men.

A license is a privilege extended to the license holder by the whole people. It is well known that the license holder can exercise a very potent influence amongst a certain class if he is so inclined. Holding his privilege from the whole people, it is manifestly improper and unjust to exercise the influence that accompanies it in any matter upon which there is a divided public opinion.

All license holders, including brewers and distillers, and their employes should, therefore, keep out of politics.

This includes local and primary elections, serving on committees, holding or seeking office, and participating in political campaigns as party workers.

Neither license holders or their employes should take any part whatever in primary or other elections, or in political campaigns, beyond exercising the right of suffrage.

Hotels should not be known and should not obtain a reputation for being political headquarters. Political discussions about hotels should be discouraged. In barrooms they should not be tolerated, nor should treating in the interests of candidates be permitted.

In Fayette county we know of no reason for the existence of what is known as the "liquor vote." Your business is not threatened from any quarter so long as it is legally conducted, and your interference in politics can only arouse opposition in quarters where none exists.

The granting and refusal of licenses does not constitute a system of political rewards and punishments. Politics has nothing whatever to do with the matter. So far from political activity recommending an applicant for license to favorable consideration it will have exactly the opposite effect.

The first election since that ruling was held in February. Then two prominent Republican hotelkeepers were elected members of the Uniontown council. License court convenes the first week in April and the whole county is interested in the result. The liquor dealers who want to announce themselves for office are waiting the outcome of the court.

The offices of prothonotary, treasurer, register and recorder and county commissioner are to be filled this fall.

MASONIC PIN WAS A MAGIC TALISMAN

A BABE WHO WORE IT GAINED WEALTHY FOSTER PARENTS.

One Dies and Leaves Her the Income on $175,000—Mother and Father Slain in Railway Wreck—Infant Taken from Dead Mother's Arms.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—Frank Conger of Brooklyn, who died suddenly a few days ago in a Detroit hotel, bequeathed to his adopted daughter, Oressa Stewart Conger, who he took from the arms of her dead mother a dozen years ago in a railroad wreck at Hamburg, N. Y., the income from $175,000.

The girl is now 14 years old, and for 12 years has been thought by many to be the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conger.

The will has been filed with the surrogate of Ithaca, N. Y. Mr. Conger left no natural heirs, and the document states that the girl was the daughter of the Rev. B. E. Stewart and wife of Rochester, N. Y., both of whom were killed on March 6, 1890, in the wreck on the Lake Shore road at Hamburg, N. Y.

Terrible Wreck on the Lake Shore.

Ten persons were killed and a score injured that night. During a blizzard a passenger train broke in two on a heavy grade and the runaway portion, consisting of a drawing-room coach and four heavy sleepers, overtook the day coach and smashed it into kindling wood.

George F. Allen, at that time general northern passenger agent of the Erie railroad; Harry T. Jaeger of the same road and Frank Conger hurried from the drawing-room coach to aid the victims.

Over the wreck they climbed until they were halted by the cries of an infant. It was some time before the child could be located, but finally Mr. Conger found her. On a pile of wreckage, half covered by drifting snow, lay a dead woman, and in her arms was the babe.

Masonic Pin Made Friends.

The baby was taken back into the warm drawing-room car none too soon, for she was nearly unconscious. Mrs. Conger, an invalid, was in the car, and to her care the baby was given.

Mr. Conger saw in the child's dress a Masonic pin. As he was a prominent member in the Masonic order he made immediate arrangements for the care of the bodies of the father and mother of the child. Later releases were obtained from the grandparents of the babe, and Oressa was legally made the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conger.

Mr. Conger bequeathed a life interest in his estate to the widow and an annuity of $5,500 to the widow of a friend, for whom he had provided since her husband's death.

COMPROMISE NOT ACCEPTED.

Bridge and Structural Ironworkers Not Satisfied With Wage Offer.

Executives of the bridge and structural iron workers have been notified that all locals are unwilling to accept the compromise wages offered by the American Bridge Company at the conference February 8. This decision will be submitted to the bridge company officials. The new scale is not to go into effect till May 1.

The Pittsburgh organization, No. 3, of the bridge and structural iron workers, have passed resolutions sustaining the members of the International Union of Steam Engineers in Cincinnati, in their position against the united brewery workers. The resolution concludes, "we hereby indorse the stand taken by local No. 18, International Union of Steam Engineers, Cincinnati, O., and we hereby agree to stand by the engineers till such time as the American Federation of Labor decides this question."

Reward of Merit.

A New Catarrh Cure Secures National Popularity in Less Than One Year.

Throughout a great nation of eighty million it is a desperate struggle to secure even a recognition for a new article, to say nothing of achieving popular favor, and yet within one year Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, the new catarrh cure, has met with such success that today it can be found in every drug store throughout the United States and Canada.

To be sure a large amount of advertising was necessary in the first instance to bring the remedy to the attention of the public, but everyone familiar with the subject knows that advertising alone never made any article permanently successful. It must have in addition absolute, undeniable merit, and this the new catarrh cure certainly possesses in a marked degree.

Physicians, who formerly depended upon inhalers, sprays and local washes or ointments, now use Stuart's Catarrh Tablets because, as one of the most prominent stated, these tablets contain in pleasant, convenient form all the really efficient catarrh remedies, such as red gum, blood root and similar antiseptics.

They contain no cocaine nor opiate, and are given to little children with entire safety and benefit.

Dr. J. J. Reittiger of Covington, Ky., says: "I suffered from catarrh in my head and throat every fall, with stoppage of the nose and irritation in the throat affecting my voice and often extending to the stomach, causing catarrh of the stomach. I bought a 50-cent package of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at my druggist's, carried them in my pocket and used them faithfully, and the way in which they cleared my head and throat was certainly remarkable. I had no catarrh last winter and spring and consider myself entirely free from any catarrhal trouble."

Mrs. Jerome Ellison of Wheeling, W. Va., writes: "I suffered from catarrh nearly my whole life, and last winter my two children also suffered from catarrhal colds and sore throat so much they were out of school a large portion of the winter. My brother, who was cured of catarrhal deafness by using Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, urged me to try them so much that I did so, and am truly thankful for what they have done for myself and my children. I always keep a box of the tablets in the house, and at the first appearance of a cold or sore throat we nip it in the bud and catarrh is no longer a household affliction with us."

NOT A DOLLAR ADDED.

The River and Harbor Bill Passes Just as It Came from Committee—Mahon in a Tilt.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—The house today passed the river and harbor bill, which has been under consideration throughout the week. Although several minor amendments were adopted, not a single dollar was added to the measure, and as passed it carried exactly what it did when it came from the committee—$60,688,267, including authorizations.

Mr. Sulzer of New York attempted to force a record vote on the final passage of the bill, but only three members, Messrs. Smith of Iowa, Fitzgerald of New York and Cochran of Missouri supported him.

Mr. Mahon of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee on claims, asked unanimous consent that the senate amendments to the omnibus claims bill be nonconcurred in and the bill be sent to conference. Mr. Payne, the majority leader, objected, saying if this action was taken the conference could bring in a privileged report accepting senate amendments carrying large appropriations. Retaliating for this action, Mr. Mahon objected to a request that the senate amendments to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill be non-concurred in and that it be sent to conference.

Appoints Conciliation Committee to Aid in the Settlement of Labor Controveries.

NEW YORK, March 21.—United States Senator M. A. Hanna, president of the executive committee of the Civic Federation, has appointed the following conciliation committee, of which he will be chairman:

Action on Scale Today---Gas in Ohio Church

MINERS HAVE NOT TAKEN DEFINITE ACTION

DECISION COMES TODAY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHAMOKIN, PA., March 21.--Contrary to expectations the convention of districts Nos. 1, 7 and 9, United Mine Workers of America, failed to reach a determination today concerning the grievances of the anthracite coal miners. Many of the delegates had expected an adjustment and definite action not later than today, but the discussion of the scale committee report was more protracted than was anticipated, and its adoption, entire, had not been accomplished at the hour of adjournment this afternoon.

The committee presented its report to the convention at the afternoon session. President Mitchell announced that a part of the report had been adopted, but failed to state the nature of the clauses accepted. Mr. Mitchell tonight said he was unable to make a statement concerning the progress of the convention with the scale, owing to the fact that there was much of the report still to be considered. There is much uncertainty here tonight concerning the situation, and opinion is about equally divided as to whether the convention will declare in favor of drastic measures to secure an adjustment of their grievances.

P. J. Shaw and T. J. Edwards of Scranton, president and vice president of Division No. 168, Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes, appeared before the convention and appealed for the mine workers' support in the Scranton street railway strike. On motion the locals of the miners' union were instructed to aid the strikers financially, and the moral support of the organization was accorded.

GREENSVILLE, PA., March 21.(Special.)--The Jamestown flouring mills at Jamestown, this county, owned by George McQuiston and V. H. Ehrhart, were totally destroyed by fire this morning.

When the flames were discovered they had gained such headway that only prompt work by the fire department saved adjacent buildings. The loss is $30,000, partly covered by insurance.

Cohen; esteemed loyal knight, Frank C. Roberts; esteemed lecturing knight, John Sterritt; trustee, John Kennedy; treasurer, C. E. Gibson; secretary, C. K. Hendrickson. A SHARP ADVANCE IN WINDOW GLASS PRICES

Meeting Between Jobbers and Producers Will Close Contract for Order Soon.

The National Window Glass Jobbers' association will meet with the representatives of the American Window Glass Company and the Federation Co-Operative Window Glass Company, probably on April 1, at Atlantic City, to close price arrangements for 750,000 or 1,000,000 boxes of window glass. The glass will be sold only at sharp advances on the prices of the last large contract. Certainty of this more profitable business for the window glass combine has been back of the sharp uplifting in values of the securities of the American Window Glass Company on the markets.

It is generally understood that the Independent Glass Company has disposed of its output, till the close of its extended fire June 15. This is the information in the circle of jobbers and the competing producing interests, and on the strength of this condition the American and Federation Co-Operative Window Glass companies are planning to make profitable their final business of the fire which will close within three months.

Plate glass producers are arranging to meet the over-production problem within the next few days. There have been plans made and partly agreed to by the producers to close the plate glass factories during July. Not all of the manufacturers have agreed to the plan, however, and a meeting has been called to be held in Cincinnati next Monday to finally enter an agreement.

There is another factor which is strengthening American Window Glass Company securities. It is the purpose to put in operation, first at Alexandria, Ind., its new blowing machines.

Continuation of the fire in the window glass factories of the Independent Glass Company till June 15 has become practically a certainty. Tonight the executive board of the new Window Glass Workers' association, supplying the skilled men of these factories, will count the referendum vote on the proposal to extend the fire till that time. There is said to be no question of the proposition having passed. At the same time the vote on the officers of the workers' organization will be counted. It is said that John L. Denny for president and John Phillips for secretary will poll a large majority for re-election. At the same time the final count is to be made on the proposal to increase the ratio of apprentices, under the rules of this organization of the workers.

There have been no developments in a reported deal to amalgamate the rival organizations of workers. Leaders of the new organization of snappers deny that they are planning a strike through alleged dissatisfaction over the distribution of additional apprenticeships.

A FATAL WRECK NEAR EMLENTON

A Young Fireman Killed in a Collision Between Freight Trains Yesterday.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OIL CITY, PA., March 21.--Two freight trains on the Allegheny Valley division of the Pennsylvania railroad collided near Emlenton this afternoon, wrecking both engines and killing William Connors, aged 19 years, a fireman on the north-bound freight. He was shoveling coal into the fire box at the time and was caught between the tender and engine and was cut in two. His home was at Catfish station.

The rest of the crews saved themselves by jumping. The north-bound freight train had been switching cars at Emlenton siding and was pulling out on the main track when the south-bound train crashed into them. A misunderstanding of orders is given as the cause. Little delay is anticipated to traffic.

FRANKLIN MAN MISSING.

Bert Lusher's Friends Believe That He Was Drowned in the Allegheny River.

FRANKLIN, PA., March 21.--(Special.)--Bert Lusher, employed by Liveryman Cotterell of this city, has mysteriously disappeared and all efforts to locate him have failed. A week ago he secured a horse and buggy and drove to Oil City, where he was seen in an intoxicated condition. That night Lusher was found lying in the road between Franklin and Oil City, with the horse and buggy standing nearby. He was picked up and placed against a fence and his rig taken to Oil City.

Since then Lusher has not been seen and as the water was very high in the Allegheny river at that time it is feared that when left alone he laid down and rolled into the river. Diligent search for the missing man has been going on for the past week, but his friends have about reached the conclusion that he is at the bottom of the river.

H. Gramble, an employe of the sand company, who was drowned about two months ago.

His body was decomposed and he was only identified by the initials "W. H. G." on the left arm, and the same initials on the case of a watch found on him. No marks of foul play were found. He was married and leaves a widow and family. He was 49 years of age.

For years past her birthday anniversary was observed in some special manner, but yesterday, owing to the condition of her health, the day was passed very quietly.

Death of John Green, Who Poses for 35 Years as a Man, Reveals a Strange Secret.

PETERSBURG, VA., March 21.--Ettrick, a small manufacturing village, had a genuine sensation today in the discovery that John Green, a person who has posed before the world for 35 years as a married man and who has died, was a woman. The discovery was made by neighbors who were called in to prepare the remains for burial. The wife in the partnership survives.

ATTEMPT MADE TO WRECK AN OHIO CHURCH

GAS JETS TURNED ON

The Return of the Minister for Some Papers Frustrated the Plan.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ZANESVILLE, O., March 21.--The choir feud at St. James' Episcopal church, which led to some miscreant disabling the pipe organ and preventing its use in the cathedral service last Sunday evening, has assumed a more serious phase. What appears to have been a deliberate and malicious attempt to blow up the massive stone church was made last night.

Rector F. W. Bope spent the evening at the church study, and upon leaving forgot some papers that he desired at the rectory. Returning for them later he found every gas jet in the auditorium turned on and the room rapidly filling with gas. A small gas stove used for warming the choir loft was lighted by the same person or persons who turned on the illuminating gas, and the result would have been a terrific explosion when the room, filled with gas, had ignited from the flame in the stove.

Another feature lately developed is the receipt of a number of anonymous letters by the rector requesting and beseeching him to discontinue the cathedral service, saying it is interfering with the services at the other churches. The cathedral service is a very popular one, and its bare announcement serves to fill St. James' church to overflowing.

A couple of weeks ago someone gained entrance to the sacristy and carried away the entire supply of wine for communion purposes.

THE VARNEY SYNDICATE HAS THE INSIDE TRACK

Their Chances Seem to Be Best for Getting Western Maryland Railroad to Tap Pittsburgh.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, MD., March 21.--Representatives of the Reading Railroad Company and the several syndicates bidding for the Western Maryland railroad, were given a public hearing by the mayor and city council today. Each syndicate presented able arguments why the city should sell it the railroad.

The Varney-Philadelphia syndicate, headed by Mr. Varney of this city, which already claims to have secured right of way from Chambersburg, Pa., to Erie and thence to Warrenton, Pa., now seems to have the inside track. The contest for the road appears to lie between it and the Reading company. Counsel for the Reading today offered to increase its cash bid to meet the city's terms.

Col. McNaught argued for the Varney-Philadelphia syndicate. He said his syndicate had no affiliation with the Gould interests, but would give the Goulds trackage facilities from Warrenton to Baltimore. He narrated in detail the project of establishing a line from the lakes to Baltimore with lines of ocean steamers. In reply to Mayor Hayes, Col. McNaught said:

"Sell us the Western Maryland and we will guarantee three lines of steamships running from Baltimore to London, Manchester and Liverpool."

Mayor Hayes--How are you going to get into Pittsburgh?

Col. McNaught--If you hadn't forced my hand yesterday and made me show my scheme, I could have gotten into Erie and Pittsburgh for a million less than it will cost. We have charter rights which have not yet been exercised.

The proposal of the Fuller syndicate, which claims to have control of the West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh railroad, may not be considered. Mayor Hayes says: "Their bid cannot be entertained. It is true, as reported, that the West Virginia Central is tied up by an irrevocable contract with the Pennsylvania."

Niles Woman Fatally Burned.

NILES, O., March 21.--(Special.)--Miss Maud Holeton was frightfully burned last night by a lamp explosion. With her clothing in a mass of fire, she ran out of the house and went screaming up the middle of the road. From her hips down her body was badly burned and she cannot recover.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

ERIE, PA.--The plant of the Erie Lithographing & Printing Company was damaged by fire yesterday morning to the extent of $60,000. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

WARREN, O.--The Rev. L. O. Knipp, pastor of the Disciple church at Hubbard and Lowellville, has accepted a call to the Christian church at Plymouth, Pa. He will take charge of his new parish April 1.

AKRON, O.--Florence McCoy, 23 years old, of Jamestown, N. Y., who was returning from a vain attempt to regain good health in Colorado, died in the arms of her mother at the Union station here yesterday morning.

CUMBERLAND, MD.--The two forces of men at work on the Pointo tunnel met in the heart of the mountain early yesterday, and the feat was celebrated by a total suspension of business. The tunnel is almost entirely through solid rock and is 4,140 feet long.

BEAVER FALLS, PA.--Joseph Frazier, 18 years old, who ran an engine at the Clydesdale stone quarries near West Ellwood Junction, died at the Beaver Valley General hospital yesterday morning at 1 o'clock. His death was the result of shock, caused by the amputation of his left leg. The limb was crushed in the flywheel while the young man was excited over the sudden death of a drunken laborer.

SHARON, PA.--The Riter-Conley Manufacturing Company has secured the contract for the erection of the plant of the Sharon Foundry Company at this place. The buildings, exclusive of equipment, will cost about $50,000. The main building is to be 430x130 feet and will be constructed of brick and iron. The incorporators of the new company are Joseph Riddel, H. P. Forker, E. A. Wheeler, Simon Perkins, N. McConnell, V. M. Delamater, Warren Shillings and E. A. Williams of Sharon; Robert Hitchcock and Robert Bentley of Youngstown; and Alexander Laughlin of Pittsburgh.

WILD STATEMENTS IN A LONDON PAPER

United States Denounced as Bringing Ruin in Its Path Everywhere.

TEARS FOR QUEEN LIL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, March 22.--The Saturday Review, continuing its anti-American campaign, today publishes a long communication from Alfred Stead, son of William T. Stead, the editor, picturing the alleged deplorable condition of Hawaii as a result of annexation to the United States.

Mr. Stead says that unvarying lament is heard from every class, whether planter, merchant or member of the government, to the effect that Hawaii has reaped no good from annexation. The foremost advocates of annexation in 1898 are now the most bitter and outspoken in bewailing its accomplishment. Mr. Stead says that the application of the American coastwise navigation laws has deprived the islands of the use of 371,863 tons of shipping annually, thus crippling trade and raising freight rates.

The wealthy inhabitants of the islands, continues Mr. Stead, when they are in a hurry to reach the Pacific coast, are frequently forced to take passage on a foreign vessel and pay a fine of $200 in addition to their fare.

"The frequent calls of transports are greatly disliked, since they almost always bring smallpox or some other contagion requiring quarantine," says the writer, "and the exclusion of the Chinese is ruining the labor market.

"The tariff concessions to Cuba threaten to kill the sugar industry. America has twice prevented Hawaii from obtaining a cable. Hawaii is thus cut off from newspaper publicity, which is essential to securing speedy reforms."

Commenting editorially on this communication from Mr. Stead, the Saturday Review says: "Whatever evils the Hawaiians are suffering as a result of American protection they have richly merited as a punishment for their monstrous treatment of Queen Liliuokalani."

HOLLIDAY WAS INVESTIGATED

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.--(Special.)--In the case of Postmaster Holliday of Pittsburgh, Representative Dalzell today renewed his promise to wait the five days agreed upon for the committee of 50 to file their charges. Then, he said, he would act in the matter.

When told that the committee of 50 had asked for an inspector to investigate the charges, Mr. Dalzell said an inspector had been in Pittsburgh and had reported favorably on Mr. Holliday's conduct of the office.

Senator Penrose said this afternoon he would keep faith with the members of the committee and give them reasonable time to file their charges.

The committee of citizens which went to Washington in the interest of better service in the postoffice, returned yesterday morning, feeling satisfied that they will readily prove to the satisfaction of Congressman Dalzell that Postmaster Holliday is as incompetent as they claim.

Capt. T. R. Williams has issued an appeal to the people of Pittsburgh in which he emphasizes these three points: "The unreasonable loss of mail and delay in distribution and delivery; abuse of civil service laws and regulations governing officials and employes in the postal service, and nepotism in the administration of the Pittsburgh postoffice."

All persons having complaints and desiring to remedy the existing evils, are requested by Capt. Williams to send what information they have to him at No. 420 Third avenue.

TO SAVE HISTORIC CHURCH.

Effort Made to Secure an Endowment for Old St. George's in Philadelphia.

LANCASTER, PA., March 21.--This morning's session of the Philadelphia conference at Columbia was taken up with the reading of reports.

Ex-Gov. Pattison and ex-Postmaster Field of Philadelphia appeared before the conference in behalf of the old St. George church at Fourth and Vine streets, Philadelphia. An effort is being made to have the conference endow the church so that it may stand as an historic structure. The first Methodist conference was held in it in 1773. A set of resolutions providing for an endowment was presented.

AFTER SANTOS DUMONT.

Chicago Man Thinks He Can Beat the Frenchman in an Airship Race.

CHICAGO, March 21.--A challenge for an airship race in Chicago, to be held as a preliminary event to the $200,000 aerial steeplechases at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1903, was sent tonight to Santos-Dumont at Paris, France, by Theophilus Williams of Chicago. Rules and regulations similar to those that are to be the vogue at the St. Louis fair grounds will govern the contest.

Several successful tests of the Chicagoan's machine are said to have been made.

Shooting Results in Arrests.

Emmitt Dickerson and his wife, Julia Dickerson, of No. 511 Everett street, negroes, were arrested by Policeman William Jones last night and locked up in the East End police station as suspicious persons. The arrest was the result of a shooting which occurred at No. 35 Tunnel street on the night of February 18, during which Lee Smith of Harvard street was shot in the arm and thigh. Several arrests were made at the time and Smith was removed to the Homeopathic hospital, where he remained until yesterday. After being released from the hospital he confessed to the police that Dickerson was the man who shot him. Dickerson will have a hearing this morning.

"COFFEE HEARTS."

More Frequent Than Tobacco Hearts.

Coffee drinking frequently affects the heart, and many cases of heart trouble are relieved or entirely cured by leaving off coffee and taking on Postum Food Coffee.

A good illustration is that of a lady who says: "I was troubled, for many years, with my heart and at times would become unconscious. The children have many times run for the neighbors to come in and restore me by putting my feet in hot water and rubbing me.

"Dr. Short frequently told me that coffee was a poison to me and was really the cause of my weak heart. I could not do without coffee, though, but finally the doctor told me it was certain death if I did not give it up. This was about five years ago, and I changed from coffee to Postum Food Coffee. My heart trouble gradually disappeared and now I am entirely well, have never used a particle of coffee since my first cup of Postum.

"I gave a little Postum to a lady friend one day to take home and try. She reported that she did not like it at all. I found she boiled it only five minutes, so I gave her some more and told her to boil it 20 minutes. That was different. She has been using Postum now a long time.

"It cured her daughter of liver trouble, restored her fresh, pretty complexion and cured the mother from headaches from which she suffered severely." Mrs. M. Douglass, 607 Plum St., Elkhart, Ind.

BERLIN, March 21.--Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia has sent a telegram to Secretary John B. Jackson, as charge d'affaires here in the absence of Andrew D. White, the American ambassador, in which the prince says:

"I pray you to accept for yourself and the members of the American embassy my very best thanks for my welcome on my return from the United States. I shall never forget the cordial and splendid hospitality I met in your country or the kindness shown me by the American people."

Emperor William returned from Kiel this morning to be present at the annual riding contests here. Gen. von Plessen, who was with the emperor, took occasion to tell Mr. Jackson of the great pleasure Prince Henry and all the members of his party had experienced in the United States. Gen. von Plessen accompanied Prince Henry on his American trip.

STILL WIELDING THE AXE.

English Tobacco Combine Insists That American Goods Must Not Be "Pushed" in That Market.

LONDON, March 22.--The Imperial Tobacco Company appears to recognize that it has made a false move and last night it issued an explanatory manifesto which, after pointing to what happened in Canada as an illustration of the policy of the American company, repudiates any desire to boycott and proceeds to promise that as long as the customer does not display in his window the goods of Ogdens, limited, or any other American concern, "we will not exercise our power of prohibition without first giving three months' notice and the customer shall, in that event, have the option of withdrawing from the agreement."

Briefly the manifesto means that American tobacco may be sold, but not pushed. Further meetings will be held today to consider the revised proposals of the Imperial company.

STEAMER HURONIAN IS A MONTH OVERDUE

It Is Believed That the Allan Liner and Her Crew Are Lost.

SMALL CHANCE OF RESCUE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. JOHNS, N. F., March 21.--The incoming shipping brings no reports of the Allan line steamer Huronian, Capt. Brodie, from Glasgow, February 11, for St. Johns, and now about one month overdue.

It is generally believed in marine circles here that the Huronian foundered with all hands, or that she sank as a result of colliding with the ice in the North Atlantic. There is a bare possibility that she has been caught in the ice floes and that her crew has been rescued by some sealing steamer, as happened in the case of another steamship a few years ago. This, however, is thought to be very unlikely.

PRESIDENT ATHLETIC CLUB

Says: "I Owe My Health to Pe-ru-na."

HERBERT LUNDBERG, PRESIDENT HARLEM ATHLETIC CLUB.

Herbert Lundberg, 235 East 123rd street, New York city, President Harlem Athletic Club, writes:

The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen--"It will probably interest you to know that I thank Peruna for the magnificent health I enjoy. If I am ever under the weather, get overworked or suffer from a cold, the use of Peruna for a day or two quickly restores me. Several members of our athletic club have had the most gratifying results through its use, especially so during the late epidemic of la grippe. Several of them were completely cured and restored to perfect health."--HERGERT LUNDBERG.

Hon. Chas. H. Turner, 501 G street, Washington, D. C., is ex-member of Congress from New York city, two terms; was doorkeeper of the National House of Representatives for four years. Is a member of Tammany Hall and is very influential in New York city. He writes:

"I have used your remedy, Peruna, as a general tonic with satisfactory results. I have many friends who have testified to its virtues, and I fully believe you have a valuable remedy."--C. H. Turner.

Mr. Patrick Devlin, Conductor of Maccabee and Unique Lodge No. 90, writes from 42 Delaware Place, Chicago, Ill., as follows:

"Last fall, when I was outside daily in the rain and cold, I caught a heavy cold, to which I paid no attention until it spread over my entire body and every bone and muscle ached. A most disagreeable catarrh of the mucous membranes was the result.

"Several of the members of my lodge, who had been cured through Peruna, insisted that I try it, and rather reluctantly I bought a bottle. I noticed, with great joy, that it afforded me almost instant relief, and during the following week I kept getting better. Within three weeks I was not only cured, but felt stronger and more vigorous than I had done for months.

"I believe that the cold took such a hold on me because I was run down in health, but Peruna restored me to perfect health."--Patrick Devlin.

Catarrh is an old cold. Even the strongest, most athletic men are liable to colds during the winter months. A cold, if neglected, is almost certain to cause catarrh of the head, which rapidly spreads through the system, setting up catarrh of the throat, lungs, stomach or pelvic organs. What a host of winter ailments would be prevented by a preventive as well as a cure for colds.

Peruna is such a remedy. If taken at the first symptom of catching cold it heals the catarrhal condition before it becomes established and makes impossible a spread of the disease. Should the cold be neglected and result in catarrh, Peruna will cure, but it will take much longer and will result in much unnecessary suffering.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

A LITTLE FISH WOULD SWALLOW HUGE LEVIATHAN

Stockholders of Metropolitan Street Railway Co. Suspect a Gigantic Steal.

$24,000,000 IS AT STAKE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—Argument was heard by Justice Gildersleeve in the supreme court today in the proceedings begun by H. Content and by I. and S. Wormser to restrain the proposed lease of the Metropolitan street railway to the Inter-Urban Street Railway Company. Both actions are based on the claim that the action contemplated, which was ratified at a meeting of the stockholders yesterday, is illegal and fraudulent in that it involves the transfer of the earnings of the Metropolitan system to persons other than the stockholders of the company.

It is also contended that the privilege given to the Metropolitan stockholders to subscribe for stock of the Metropolitan Securities Company, which it is proposed shall operate the system, was in effect a bribe to secure the approval of two-thirds of the stockholders and is a violation of the rights of those who do not approve the scheme.

Minutes Will Be Produced.

The argument was opened for the plaintiffs by Treadwell Cleveland, who gave a short history of the injunction proceedings up to the present time. He asked that a copy of the minutes of yesterday's stockholders' meeting be produced in court and W. D. Guthrie for the Metropolitan agreed to furnish the records desired soon as they could be copied and corrected.

Mr. Cleveland recited the principal points of the agreement between the Metropolitan Street Railway Company and the Inter-Urban Railway Company. He said:

"This little Inter-Urban company, with $500,000 capital, assures a 7 per cent dividend on $52,000,000 worth of Metropolitan stock.

View of the Plaintiffs.

"The gist of the plan is this: To this little railroad is to be leased all the great property of the Metropolitan, and what is it to pay? Twenty-three millions. What is it they receive? I assert that the Metropolitan has in its treasury today $13,000,000 of unpledged securities. It also has $11,000,000 of bonds.

"The Inter-Urban is to pay $25,000,000 on the installment plan when it can. In return the Metropolitan turns over to the Inter-Urban $24,000,000. The Inter-Urban is to guarantee the stockholders of the Metropolitan 7 per cent dividends. The Metropolitan, according to shrewd men, is a good stock. In 10 years it will be vastly more valuable. The stockholders will thus be juggled out of their earnings on the long years of prosperity before this concern. This is a bold, a remarkable plan, by which a small band of Wall and Pine street gentlemen hope to get hold of an enormously wealthy property."

The Negro in the Woodpile.

Mr. Cleveland contended that the Inter-Urban company was merely a blind to enable the Metropolitan Securities Company to get hold of the Metropolitan road.

Mr. Guthrie in reply declared that many of the statements made by Mr. Cleveland were without foundation. "Every step in this matter has been taken at the advice of eminent counsel," he said. "There may have been mistakes of judgment, but these, if any, were not the fault of the stockholders."

Mr. Guthrie said that at present there were 80 miles of New York streets on which were run horse cars. Under the new scheme the motive power in these streets would be changed to electricity.

Last Year Showed a Deficit.

Mr. Guthrie declared that last year the Metropolitan system had been operated at a deficit of $31,000. He contended that the directors had the interest of the small stockholders at heart when they came to consider the financial situation. Mr. Guthrie then went into the history of the lease of the Metropolitan system to the Inter-Urban. He said that the whole matter had for its singleness of purpose the protection of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company stockholders. There was no community of interests between the Metropolitan Street Railway Company and the Inter-Urban. They had entirely different directors and officers.

History of the Inter-Urban.

Mr. Guthrie submitted an affidavit of Robert Walker, secretary and treasurer of the Inter-Urban Street Railway Company, and also treasurer of the Metropolitan Securities Company. The affidavit stated that the Inter-Urban company was organized with a capital stock of $500,000, which was later increased to $26,000,000, of which $500,000 had been duly issued for property purchased and $12,500,000 subscribed for in cash at par.

The Metropolitan Securities Company was organized, the affidavit says, on February 14 last, with a capital stock of $30,000,000, and had acquired all the issued capital stock of the Inter-Urban company and all the capital stock and other securities of the Peoples Traction Company of the city of New York and of the New York, West Chester & Connecticut Railroad Company.

President Vreeland's Affidavit.

An affidavit sworn to by Herbert H. Vreeland, the president of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, says:

"I deny of my own knowledge that that there was any intent, purpose or object to enable large stockholders of the Metropolitan company to obtain any advantage over the other stockholders of the company or to sell control of the company for any price whatsoever to any railroad system, or any ulterior or improper purpose whatsoever."

Following Mr. Guthrie, W. C. Dewitt, on behalf of the minority stockholders, spoke at some length, attacking the terms of the lease. He was answered by Charles W. Brown, general counsel for the Metropolitan, and then E. Ellery Anderson, counsel for Isidor Wormser, recited the grounds of his client's complaint as already set forth.

Judge Gildersleeve reserved his decision and ordered that all papers, including briefs, should be submitted to him by Tuesday next.

SMALLPOX IN HOTEL.

Residents of Main House Had to Undergo Vaccination.

A case of smallpox was reported to the bureau of health from the Hotel Main, at Ross and Water streets, Second ward, yesterday afternoon. City Physician B. A. Booth investigated the case and found Clayton Williams, colored, in a room there suffering with a severe attack of the disease. The man was removed to the Municipal hospital and the room he occupied was closed and fumigated. The hotel was not quarantined, as the place is patronized by transient lodgers, but every person about the place who could not show a good mark was vaccinated. Williams came here from Homestead a day or two ago. One case of scarlet fever from the Sixteenth ward, three cases of diphtheria, two from the Nineteenth and one from the Eighth wards, and three cases of typhoid fever, one each from the Fourteenth, Sixteenth and Twenty-fifth wards, were also reported.

It was then developed that he had ran away from his home in Youngstown. He said he had to steal to support his mother and several sisters.

Valuable Pantaloons—Joseph Visco and Gustave Delperio were arrested yesterday for stealing the pantaloons of James Elstor, in the pockets of which were $450 and a gold watch. It is alleged that Visco, who is a step-brother to Elstor, went to Elstor's room at No. 13 Decatur alley, early yesterday morning and took the wearing apparel, and that he was to divide with Delperio, who had the garment when arrested. The money was found concealed under some steps in an alley.

Four strange men were seen in the neighborhood. They are supposed to have reached Hope Church and gone away by the way of the South Side.

Pittsburgh Organ Recitals—The four hundred and ninety-seventh and the four hundred and ninety-eighth free organ recitals in the series at Carnegie music hall, Schenley park, will be given this Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon by Edwin H. Henry yesterday afternoon on a charge of violation of the postal laws in sending an obscene letter through the mails to Miss Helen Jacobs of Oil City. The information was made by Postoffice Inspector Frank A. O'Brien before United States Commissioner W. T. Lindsey. He was released on $1,000 bail for a hearing next Friday afternoon.

He Opened the Can With a Match—George St. Clair, a Braddock painter, attempted to melt the wax seal on a can of Japan dryer with a match yesterday. He was successful. He is now in St. Francis' hospital and probably will not recover. St. Clair is 56 years of age, and was well aware of the nature of the fluid, but he applied the match to the five-gallon can. The explosion, which immediately followed, threw the blazing fluid all over him. He ran screaming along the street and into a house. By the time aid could reach him, he was burned from head to foot.

For Harboring Minor Child—Randolph Lewis and his wife, Mary E. Lewis, negroes, living at No. 1314 Pasture street, were arrested yesterday on a charge of harboring a minor child. The couple, it is alleged, keep a disorderly house and brought Roxy Ann Bowman, a 16-year-old girl, from Columbus, O., last July and have harbored her in the house since. A hearing will be held this afternoon, when a more serious charge may be brought against the couple by Inspector Samuel O'Brien of the Humane society, who is prosecuting the case. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis gave $500 bail each pending the hearing.

Missing Boy's Body Found—The body of Michael Borkin was found in the Monongahela river at the foot of Dickson street, Homestead, yesterday afternoon. On Tuesday of last week Michael, who was 13 years of age and a son of Mrs. Margaret Borkin of No. 616 Second avenue, Homestead, and John Jamison, a negro, 12 years of age, who lived at No. 618 in the same thoroughfare, disappeared. It was thought that they had gone west to fight Indians, and they were forgotten by all except their parents. The finding of the body of Borkin clears up the mystery as far as he is concerned. It is now thought that the body of his companion is in the river.

Activity in Preparations—The preparations for the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science which is to be held during the coming summer continue active and are assuming large proportion. Yesterday Dr. W. J. Holland, chairman of the executive committee, presided over a meeting of representatives of the societies and associations of Pittsburgh that are interested in the entertainment of the members who attend. The following societies and associations were represented: Chamber of commerce, Engineers' society of Western Pennsylvania, Carnegie institute, the Western Pennsylvania Botanical society, Daughters of the American Revolution, Dolly Madison chapter of the war of 1812, W. U. P. trustees, W. U. P. faculty, Pittsburgh College of the Holy Ghost, Academy of Science and Art, University club, Pittsburgh club and the Pittsburgh chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Food for Athletes

Rebuilds Brain and Muscle

A young athlete, commenting on the need of well selected food to build up a man after over-study, says: "Two years ago I returned home from the university with my health quite run down from over-study and severe athletic training. I needed a good rest to put me right; but instead of taking it, went to work in an office with very confining duties.

"My health grew no better; I felt unfit for work and at night would lie awake several hours before sleep would come. The appetite was gone entirely. One morning a new dish appeared on the table, Grape-Nuts with cream. We all thought it an excellent food, and I not only enjoyed breakfast that day, but dinner and supper as well.

"This rather surprised me. Since that I have made the food a regular article of diet. I keep a box on hand at the office and often lunch on Grape-Nuts and cream instead of going home to dinner.

"Although it was in the summer when I started the use of the food, it was not long before I had gained 15 pounds, and I know it is from the use of this food that I can stand so well the indoor work. My health is now perfect; sleep sound and enjoy my means, but find I don't need to eat so much volume of other food while eating Grape-Nuts.

"A short time ago I thought Grape-Nuts were commencing to disagree with me, but found it was because I was eating more than you recommend. I simply ate too much at a time and more than the system required. When I returned to the regular 'feed' of four heaping teaspoons, the old zest for the food returned."

This young man is a member of quite a famous family. He requests that his name be omitted, but the same can be furnished by application to the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

The Business Situation.

Wheat sold down to 73¼ cents in Chicago this week, being the lowest price for the year to date, and about 10 cents a bushel lower than the quoted price for the same option about five months ago. The decline would not be significant if it were merely the result of manipulation; but the fact that it was followed by large purchases for foreign account, and that the selling was accompanied by the news of the breaking of the drought in the southwestern winter wheat belt, makes it important as bearing upon the general business situation. For the week the exports of wheat amounted to 4,326,000 bushels, compared with only 2,906,000 bushels last week. For the month of February there was a falling off of about 2,800,000 bushels compared with February, 1901. The value of all breadstuffs exported during the month was only $11,207,000, against $22,106,000 for the same month last year, $17,266,000 in 1900, and $20,873,000 in 1899. A large proportion of this decrease was, of course, due to the falling off in exports of corn, the high price of the latter having practically shut it out of the foreign market. Instead of substituting American wheat for corn, foreign consumers have evidently gone to continental markets, which were below the parity of ours, so that we not only lost in exports of corn, but also of wheat.

Of equal importance with the increase in exports during the week was the evidence furnished that reports of damage to the winter wheat crop were overestimated. The prosperity of the financial and commercial world depends upon bountiful crops, and a shortage in the yield of wheat this year would certainly justify caution in entering into mercantile and other contracts covering the future. One of the remarkable things connected with this era of prosperity is the apparently slight effect which last year's damage to the corn crop had upon general business. Ever since the harvest demonstrated the fact that the yield of corn was unusually short, there have been frequent predictions that the effect would be seen in reduced railway earnings and a lessened demand for freight transportation. But with one or two exceptions—due to storms and floods—the railroads have continued to report weekly earnings exceeding the best record for the corresponding period in previous years. The latest reports, being those of 35 roads for the second week in the present month, show an average net increase of 7.41 per cent, and shortage in cars and motive power continues to check the movement of merchandise in many sections of the country.

Industrial circles are now experiencing the annual agitation and uncertainty regarding the settlement of wages and hours of labor. The Boston strike was soon settled, but in some branches of the building trades at various centers there has been some interruption to operations. Iron and steel prices are firmly maintained. During the week the first shipment of foreign material was received, but English and German iron markets display an advancing tendency, and the outlook for additional imports is less favorable. These imports, as is well understood, were only made because of the inability of domestic producers to guarantee early delivery.

The general tone of the stock market has been quite firm and prices have advanced in the face of higher rates for call loans, which is taken as an indication of Wall street's confidence in the future.

Judge Noah Davis.

Judge Noah Davis died yesterday in New York full of years and honors. To the present generation Judge Davis had passed out of sight and out of mind. Few of those who can personally recall the indictment of the Tweed ring could be expected to realize that the eminent jurist who presided at the remarkable trial had survived perhaps every individual who was directly or indirectly connected with that infamous conspiracy. It is now some 30 years since Tweed was brought to book. Judge Davis was admitted to the legal profession just 60 years ago. The New York bar was then entering upon those years of brilliancy which have left such an elevating and permanent impression on the political and judicial development of the country. Among its members were Kent, Choate, Tilden, Seward, Clinton, O'Conor and many others who won fame.

With the living example of such men before him Noah Davis began his professional career. He began his practice in a country village. He afterward emigrated to Buffalo and in the ordinary course found himself in New York, where his abilities were recognized and his future clear. Judge Davis was regarded as one of the soundest lawyers in the country. In the Tweed trials, while fair to the prisoners, he could not be overreached.

A Posthumous Honor.

The thousands of friends and admirers of the late Col. Alexander L. Hawkins will experience a certain sense of gratification that his name is among the list of brigadier generals by brevet sent by President Roosevelt to the senate for confirmation. Although the honor has long been delayed it will nevertheless be regarded as a deserved tribute to the gallant commander of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteer infantry, and one which it was better to pay late than never.

This is the second notable honor which the lamented soldier was not permitted to enjoy, death having stepped in after he had done his whole duty as a patriot and before he could receive the congratulations and hear the plaudits of his countrymen. It has always been a matter of regret that Col. Hawkins could not share in the ovations to his comrades in arms on their return from the Philippines, and to this is added the later regret that he is not present in the body to bear the title he won by distinguished gallantry on the field of battle. To his relatives and friends, however, comes the consolation that his merits have received the highest official recognition, thus adding to the fame of the hero who so nobly represented his state and nation in a far-away and hostile country.

Value of Wharf Lease.

The real rental value of the wharf property asked by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad is better indicated in the offer which Capt. Henderson of the Cincinnati & Pittsburgh packet line says he is prepared to make to the city than in the offer made by the railroad company. On behalf of the railroad corporation the offer is only $1,000, while Capt. Henderson's offer is five times as much. This is a better guide to values than previous leases of wharf property cited by the attorney for the railroad, which were merely temporary in their character and cannot, therefore, be taken to have established in any degree the value of a perpetual leasehold. It must also be taken into consideration that property in that section of Pittsburgh is certain to increase greatly in value, and when the city leases to the railroad it will put it beyond its power to take advantage of the increase by raising the rental. The corporation cannot afford to accept a short term lease, and if the lease is not made perpetual, as is proposed, it must be for such a period of time as will amount to a perpetual lease so far as this generation and the next are concerned. The Gazette is in favor of granting to the railroad corporation the rights it asks, as has previously been said, but on terms that will give the city full return on the present value of the property. Corporations ask privileges not because they are a benefit to a community or region, but because of their uses to the corporation. The plea that a community should grant privileges for no other reason than that the community will benefit from them is worn out in the case of Pittsburgh. Benefits in all cases are mutual, so that in this respect honors are even. For the future there should be a full return to the city for all grants of privileges.

Camp at Somerset.

More than a merely friendly interest will be felt in this city in the proposition to have the division encampment of the Pennsylvania national guard this year in the neighborhood of Somerset. There has not been a division camp of the guard in Western Pennsylvania for 20 years, and now an adequate site for it is offered, and free of charge. This should be taken into account. The Second brigade camp at Somerset was a success, barring weather—a much greater success, in fact, than have been the division camps at Mt. Gretna. Before a permanent camp is chosen for the use of the guard in connection with United States troops it would be a graceful thing for our state military authorities to have one encampment in the western part of the state. The site offered is adequate in every respect, and is at least as accessible from all parts of the state as is Mt. Gretna. The western regiments will not have to do so much traveling to get to it and it is only fair for once to make the eastern troops undergo the fatigues of the longer journeyings.

Adulterations in Food.

While Germany is trying to find things in American food products to justify that country in excluding imports from the United States, this country is endeavoring to convince manufacturers and purveyors of edibles that they must use wholesome ingredients and deal honestly with their patrons and consumers. In pursuance of this determination the department of agriculture is interesting itself in the pure food legislation before congress.

The testimony of experts on adulterations is interesting and instructive. The microscopist of the chemical bureau displayed some preserved fruit which he said had been put up after it had begun to decay. A fungus growth was present in the preserves. Strictly speaking, said the chemist, this fungus was not deleterious to health, but it was not nutritious. To eat it was something like eating straw. Another expert displayed other canned articles which were sold under labels indicating first-class goods, but which were of an inferior quality, but not, strictly speaking, deleterious to health. He could not recommend them as articles of diet.

The moral of all this is that honesty is the best policy, both for home consumption and the export trade. It may be readily believed that the great mass of canned goods put up in America is wholesome, and the efforts of the government to include all in that class are to be commended.

German Food Discrimination.

The German government gave the American hog a bad character some years ago and sternly refused to allow it to enter the fatherland. It was declared that the hog of the United States was addicted to trichinosis and that animals with that complaint should not be permitted to land. It was shown to the satisfaction of the American hog's friends that the cases of trichinosis that had appeared in Hamburg and other German cities could be traced to the native German hog, while the American pig could produce a clean bill of health. Furthermore the United States government provided for the official inspection of meat intended for export, and special pains were taken to see that no diseased meat was abroad. This was effective, and we sold large quantities. But the agrarians have got hold of something else now. They declare that meat treated with boric acid is poisonous, and they have induced the German emperor to decree that after October 1 of the present year no meat preserved by the use of borax or boric acid shall enter the German empire.

It has not been long since Dr. Lebbin of Berlin, an official food chemist, reported that experiments carried on for years respecting boric acid as a preservative had failed to reveal any injury to health from the use of meat so prepared. But it is useless to appeal to German scientists against the German landowners and meat producers. The latter have the ear of the government. But we can look for boric acid in imports from Germany and if we find it gore the other ox.

The Next Step Toward Reform.

From the Philadelphia Record.

Having amended the constitution so that personal registration in cities and a simplified ballot may be adopted, the next step is to send representatives to the legislature who shall have a sufficient regard for their oaths to carry out the popular desire. It is not essential for this purpose that one party or the other shall have a majority in the next legislature, but that both parties shall send clean men. The transparent dodge of putting reform into party platforms and sending perjured scoundrels to the legislature to keep reform out of the statute book will no longer serve.

WORK OF THE TOMBS ANGEL LIVES AFTER HER

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, March 21.

There is to be another "Tombs angel." When Mrs. Foster, who was killed in the Park Avenue hotel fire a few weeks ago, began her life work of offering consolation and succor to wrongdoers in whom she discerned a latent desire to do right, there were many who doubted that her efforts could ever lead to the accomplishment of much good. Mrs. Foster had faith in her work and persevered. Now the necessity of a "Tombs angel" is recognized so earnestly that a successor to Mrs. Foster has been appointed by the Charity Organization society, by a special arrangement with the justices of the special sessions court. The new "angel" is Miss Ada Elliot, who is in Europe, but is expected to return to this country in August. Officially, she will be known as "probation officer of the court of special sessions." The Charity Organization society will be responsible for her salary. It is hoped that eventually provision will be made for this out of the public funds. Policemen have acted as probation officers in this city, but it has been found that the supervision of a man in the uniform of a policeman, or even when clothed as a citizen, but endowed with official authority, is not conducive to reform. It only makes one more person to keep a threatening watch over the ex-prisoner who is struggling to regain his foothold in respectable society. Miss Elliot has devoted many years to a study of the conditions that tend to crime, with the idea of helping those that have fallen, and she seems to be the logical successor of Mrs. Foster in her famous charitable work. In an article in a magazine last month, Miss Elliot wrote: "Let him who is without sin among us speak of a criminal 'class.' As long as much fraud and dishonesty prosper at large, while petty offences, which chance to be overt, must be punished, there can be no criminal classes distinct from the rest of the community." This is the keynote of Miss Elliot's principle, and will be that to which her work as a "Tombs angel" will be attuned. Her appointment meets with general approval about the courts and in the grim prison in which much of her work will be done.

All Wires Must Go Underground.

Overhead telegraph and telephone wires are not allowed in New York. Very few have been seen in the air for years, but there are a few, and today orders came from the department of water supply, gas and electricity, that all wires strung on top of buildings from the Battery to Canal street, between Broadway and Greenwich street, must be buried. This means that conduits must be constructed at enormous expense, and there is much grieving among the people who will have to pay for it. When the electric cars are running underground there may be trouble through short-circuiting, as some experts prophesy; but that does not affect the general impression that electric currents of all kinds are safer underground than anywhere else.

Pneumatic Tube Mail Service Needed.

Much satisfaction is declared by business men here over the news from Washington that the pneumatic tube mail service is likely to be restored. Since the stopping of this expeditious means of getting letters and other mail to the general postoffice from up-town branches, there has been a great deal of complaint about delay, and the unanimous sentiment has been that the government might well afford to pay for the resumption of the tube service. The only reason it was dropped was the expense.

Gotham Motormen Still Face Weather.

Pittsburgh is so used to seeing motormen on street cars comfortably ensconced in a cab, so that they are not exposed to the weather, that the open platforms in New York strike most Pittsburghers coming here as far behind the times. The assertion is made that the dangers of New York streets are so great that the motorman must be outside. Pittsburgh is as busy as New York in many of its districts, but the enclosed cab for the motorman is not blamed for any of the mishaps that are not absolutely unavoidable, no matter how good the system. The agitation for protection for the motorman, that is always in operation here, more or less, has become stronger in the last week, on account of the blustery weather we had at the beginning of this week. It certainly was cruel on the man on the front platform.

Lawyers Extend the Olive Branch.

Now that the Patrick homicide trial is drawing to a close there is a disposition of the court and counsel alike to bury their past differences. Mr. Moore of counsel for the defense extended the olive branch to the recorder today, saying that the heavy responsibilities upon counsel in such a long trial as this sometimes affected the temper of counsel. Recorder Goff accepted the pledge of peace, but observed, dryly, that "counsel should remember that judges also have heavy burdens."

A Neglected Spot in the Harbor.

Whether the river and harbor committee of the house at Washington will again take up the matter of deepening and widening Buttermilk channel is a matter of grave import to the Merchants' association of New York. The question came up last year and it was hoped it would be considered again this session. The improving of this bit of water in New York harbor would mean a great deal to navigation and hence to commerce generally. It is the channel between Governors island and Brooklyn and gets its name from the fact that the bottom is of a white, chalky soil and the water, when it is much disturbed, looks something like buttermilk—that is, if one's imagination is good. It is not used very much, except by ferries and small craft for the reason that there is too little sea room to make it altogether safe, particularly in dirty weather.

Opening of the Golfing Season.

Golfing will begin, practically, tomorrow in this part of the country. There has been little chance for the enthusiasts to practice heretofore and many of them are preparing for a field day on some of the many courts within easy reach of the heart of the metropolis. The fact that the weather man predicts cloudiness and possibly rain does not disturb the golfers, because they would rather play in the rain than not at all. There are tournaments coming and everybody must get "fit" as quickly as may be.

Star Collaborates With Playwright.

William Collier has made a hit in his new comedy, "The Diplomat," produced for the first time at the Madison Square theater last night. Martha Morton wrote the comedy and most of the critics here agree that it is a good thing for it that Mr. Collier is playing the leading part. He is such an unctious, quick-witted comedian that any vehicle of fair quality insures his carrying himself to public favor. Miss Morton's comedy is a fairly good thing, but Mr. Collier's interpolated witticisms and his rattling, touch-and-go humor make it seem first-class. Mr. Collier is credited with saying of his past play, "On the Quiet," written for him by Augustus Thomas, that he (Collier) made it a go and that it would not have been a success but for his work in it. Possibly we shall hear the same kind of thing about Martha Morton's "The Diplomat," unless Mr. Collier is too gallant to observe about a woman what he had no hesitation in saying about a man. The main thing, however, is that "The Diplomat" is a very funny entertainment and that Martha Morton's name is on the programme as having written it. Disputes between star and author as to which is to be credited with success are so common as to hardly be worth considering.

Solving the Standing Room Question.

Standing room only is not sold in New York theaters now. The law forbidding the selling of admission tickets which do not entitle the purchaser to a seat is enforced and it seems as if the managers are gradually becoming used to it without much mental suffering. While the Metropolitan was open the management had to make arrangements for the accommodation of the "rail birds" and it worked all right. In the other theaters the question is solved according to the room at the back of the orchestra seats. At the Casino, for instance, where there is a space at the back of the parquette seats almost as large as that covered by the seats themselves it would be impossible to make everyone at the back sit down. They stroll about in that great foyer, just as they always did, and the law cannot see its way to interfere. The standing room matter, like everything else that concerns the public, must be adjusted by horse sense.

Famous Tapestry Collection for Sale.

After saving one of the finest collections of Chinese porcelains in the world, through purchase by J. P. Morgan a week or two ago, the Metropolitan Museum of Art is threatened with the loss of the famous Garland tapestries. These cloths, which have been on exhibition at the museum for the last few years through the courtesy of the late James A. Garland, and since his death by permission of his heirs, are to be offered for sale by the estate. There are more than 30 pieces of Gothic tapestries, embroidered velvets, needlework pictures, altar frontals and vestments of the 16th and 17th centuries, of Flemish, German and Spanish manufacture. The most valuable piece of the collection is a fabric of Flemish manufacture of the 18th century, a Gothic renaissance tapestry entitled "The Descent from the Cross." More than 20 figures are represented, and in many instances the garments are woven with gold thread. This piece alone is said to have cost Mr. Garland between $40,000 and $50,000.

Real Estate Dropping Into Pits.

It will be little wonder if the value of real estate along Park avenue should depreciate materially, unless it can be shown that the rapid transit tunnel may not eventually engulf the entire side of the thoroughfare, in what is called the "unlucky zone." An area of one house went down 20 feet this morning. There were two other collapses later and a bad scare for everyone living in the neighborhood. Protests against blasts have been frequent, but when a lot of front wall went down into a pit today there was a general exclamation of dismay. A break in the water main is blamed partly for the collapses today.

"Manru" in German.

It is evident that the fund for the Actors' home is to be enriched largely by the performance of "Manru" in German at the Metropolitan next Tuesday. Tickets to the value of more than $7,000 have been sold already.

No Fresh Meat for Sunday.

Much complaint has been heard in the tenement districts, as well as among the flats of Harlem, because it is against the law to sell meat on Sunday—uncooked meat, that is. It has been said that in the tenements refrigerators are not often part of the household equipment, and that when a poor housewife is compelled to buy her meat on Saturday night and save it in her home until Sunday the chances are that the meat will be unfit for food by the time she is ready to cook it. A bill has been before the assembly at Albany providing that uncooked flesh foods may be sold on Sunday morning before 10 o'clock. The bill was defeated today by a vote of 65 to 53. One of the anomalies of the law is that the New Yorker can buy cooked food at the delicatessen stores early in the morning and again at 6 o'clock in the evening, when dinner is supposed to be served in the average home. It is not likely that the uncooked meat measure will be allowed to drop out of sight, and its sponsor, Felix Adler, will never rest until he carries his point.

Gotham's Veteran Court Stenographer.

Col. Farrell F. O'Dowd, the oldest court stenographer in New York, will celebrate his 73d birthday on Tuesday. The colonel is well known everywhere as an expert in his line, and his work now is as good as that of a young man. He was on the Tribune with Horace Greeley, and afterward, at the personal solicitation of President Lincoln, became stenographer at staff headquarters in the field in the civil war. All the old lawyers in the city intend to take part in the colonel's birthday jollification; at least to the extent of tendering him their good wishes. He has been a stenographer in New York, except for the time he was in the supreme court at Washington and in the field, for half a century.

PERSONALS.

"Skilled labor," remarked William Jones, superintendent for Bortel, Harris & Co., roofers, of Philadelphia, at the Griswold, "cannot be got in Pittsburgh. While we pay union prices for our labor, our contracts are delayed for want of workmen. The firm is roofing the new roundhouse at Thirty-fifth and Carson streets, South Side, and yesterday I had to take off my coat to push the contract along. I can employ 20 more skilled men, but they cannot be engaged. To complete this contract 30,000 square feet of slate must be laid, besides metal work. We have another large contract at Muncy for a slag roof for a foundry plant. I don't know how long it will take to complete the work, as help cannot be engaged at any price."

"Gin rickeys," said J. S. Willets, a fruit grower of Los Angeles, Cal., at the Baltimore & Ohio station last night, "will be more expensive than imported wine this year. Limes are almost a failure in California this season, and the crop must come from Florida or the West Indies. The orange crop has been excellent in my state, and I understand the shipments have been 24,000 cars. The attempt to raise bananas and pineapples in California has been pronounced a failure. The climate is too dry, and it has been found that the growers could not compete with the Florida growers."

J. M. Beck of San Francisco, manager of the Fire Association of Philadelphia for the western part of the United States, was a passenger west on the limited. "Rates for fire insurance," he remarked, "must be increased to meet present conditions. I know of one company that has lost $500,000 of its surplus, paying its losses. Rates have been too low in the east and the companies have lost much money in trying to meet their risks."

Gen. W. H. Koontz of Somerset is a guest at the Monongahela house. He is very much interested in the selection of a site for the encampment of the national guard, and as the people of Somerset have offered the acreage for the camp will use his influence to bring the state troops to Western Pennsylvania this year.

The retail lumber dealers' association of Western Pennsylvania held its semimonthly meeting at the Seventh Avenue hotel last night. Over 100 members were present and the question of fixing a uniform price for the building season was discussed.

MANSIONS UNDERMINED.

New York Rapid Transit Tunnel Causes Great Damage to Park Avenue Residences.

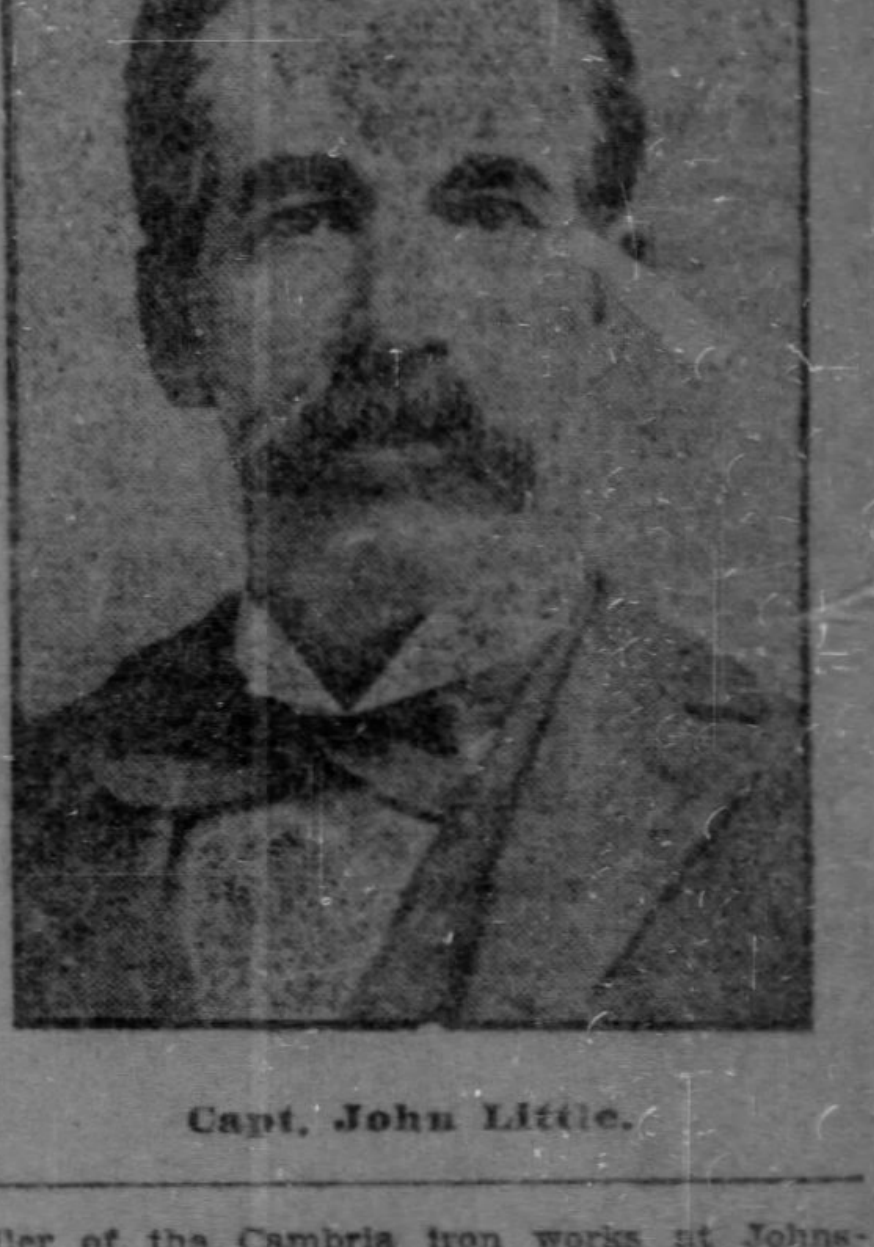
NEW YORK, March 21.—Park avenue, this city, was again the scene of an accident which, while it entailed no loss of life, caused a property loss of considerable proportions. The brownstone fronts of several four-story private houses on the east side of the avenue sank because of the undermining of the foundations by excavations for the rapid transit tunnel. The first serious cave-in occurred when the sidewalk and areaway of No. 55 Park avenue sank to a considerable depth, leaving the front wall with no support and exposing the cellar. The houses on either side of No. 55 were also rendered unsafe. Later in the afternoon there occurred a further settling of the walls and sidewalks, and the residents on the east side of the block were ordered by the police to leave their homes.

The tunnel along Park avenue where the trouble occurred is bored through solid rock. Seams of rock for a distance of about 60 feet commenced to slide in a lateral direction into the tunnel Wednesday night. It was not believed, however, that any great damage would be done until today when the first cave-in occurred. The financial loss was estimated at $75,000 to $100,000.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Capt. John Little.

Capt. John Little, for 25 years night superintendent of the Edgar Thomson mills of the Carnegie Steel Company, died at his home, No. 413 Holland avenue, Braddock, late Thursday night. Capt. Little was born in Freeport 61 years ago. When little more than a boy he went to Johnstown to work in the mill. At the breaking out of the civil war he enlisted as a private in the Fifty-fourth Pennsylvania infantry, and at the close was the captain of his company. He was again at Johnstown for a while, and then went to East Brady. From 1866 to 1874 he was boss roller of the Cambria iron works at Johnstown. In the latter year he came to Braddock with the late Capt. W. R. Jones, and for 10 years was boss roller at the Edgar Thomson works. In 1884 he was made night superintendent of the rolling mills, and later of the entire plant. He was obliged to resign three years ago on account of his health. In 1868 Capt. Little was married to Miss Elizabeth George of Johnstown. She and the following children survive: Richard D., a draughtsman for the United States Steel Company, Homestead; Charles D., also an employe of the steel company; James E., principal of the Braddock High school, and the Misses Elizabeth B., Mary G. and Alice, all of whom live in Braddock.



Capt. John Little.

Mrs. Hannah C. Gesler.

Mrs. Hannah Christina Gesler, 79 years old, died Thursday morning at her home, No. 1316 Decatur street, Allegheny, of Bright's disease and the infirmities due to old age. She was a native of Germany and was brought to the United States when a child by her parents, who shortly after arriving in this country came to Pittsburgh to live. Mrs. Gesler had been a resident of Pittsburgh and Allegheny for the past 60 years, and was married here to John Gesler, who died nine years ago. She was a member of the First Evangelical German Protestant church, Smithfield street and Sixth avenue, for many years, and the pastor, the Rev. Frederick Ruoff, will have charge of the funeral services, which will be held at her late home Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Gesler is survived by four children, Misses Hannah, Carrie, Annie and John Gesler.

Sister Vincent Smyth.

A. Kendall.

Hon. Leonard Rhone says there will be a revolt among the Republican farmers if Mr. Elkin is nominated for governor, but that the farmers will be satisfied with Col. Watres as the candidate for governor. If Mr. Elkin and Mr. Pattison should be the opposing candidates for governor, Mr. Rhone declares the farming element will vote with unanimity for ex-Gov. Pattison.—Bradford Record.

The Times would prefer to see a McKeesport man elected to succeed Senator Flinn, and it believes there is material here suitable for the selection of a candidate. The Times believes McKeesport is entitled to the senatorship because it is the largest municipality in the district and has the greatest interests. But the Times is for any good man outside of Pittsburgh, if the candidate cannot be taken from this city.—McKeesport Times.

Councils' order for an investigation of the city's water supply will meet with the approval of the people. The investigation is not undertaken because of the prevalence of disease, for the city is remarkably free from typhoid fever and other maladies communicated through water, nor because of any allegation that the supply is tainted to a dangerous degree, but because councils believe that [illegible] prevention is better than gallons of curative remedies.—New Castle Herald.

The sap is now caught in big galvanized pails, hauled to storage tanks and boiled in evaporators.—Sharpsville Advertiser.

The peach growers of St. Thomas township feel encouraged with the outlook for a good crop on account of the favorable condition of the winter. Similar reports come from the peach belt in Washington township. One of the oldest growers, John E. Demuth, says: "I am told by the men who have orchards that the outlook is very promising. The peaches may not be so numerous, but they will be worth more. The dry weather after the birds 'set' last year probably operated to reduce the number of buds, but this winter has been all that could be desired for the crop. The buds are looking very fine and will yield an excellent peach unless there is a heavy late frost."—Chambersburg Public Opinion.

BRILLIANT CLIMAX TO ORCHESTRA SEASON

Last Concert Attended by Most Brilliant and Enthusiastic Audience of the Winter.

The last orchestra concert of the season brought together the largest and most brilliant audience of the winter at Carnegie hall last night, and the whole affair went off with a spirit that left a decidedly gay impression of the city's chief musical organization.

At the opening of the second part of the program Mr. Herbert was greeted by a rousing "Tusch" from his men, in which the audience joined merrily, with clapping hands and applauding voices. To crown it all a magnificent bouquet of American Beauty roses was presented to the conductor amid general acclamation.

The first number, the overture to the "Flying Dutchman," started out with unwonted vigor, setting the key of spirited rendition for the program.

In the beautiful music from "Lohengrin," the procession to the cathedral, the orchestra was in very good form, giving the number smoothly and with thorough artistic appreciation of its possibilities. No opportunity was lost to exemplify the beauty that distinguishes it throughout, and the rendition, despite some poor work in the woodwind body, was the best thing of the evening. In the closing number, the trio of the Rhine daughters from "Gotterdaemmerung," the orchestra was not so much at home. The horns, which open the part, brought forth the Siegfried calls with indescribable awkwardness. The strings did nobly, however, and as the burden of the exquisite melody falls to them the blundering tones of the brass did little save emphasize their excellence.

The two soloists were Mme. Reuss-Belce and Ellison Van Hoose. Mme. Reuss-Belce sang as her first solo "Dich theure Halle," from "Tannhaeuser," with very poor effect, forcing her voice out of all semblance to beauty and expressing not a tithe of the tender reverence on which the apostrophe is built.

In the "Walkure" number, however, she redeemed herself as an artist, singing with splendid dramatic effect and far more beauty of tone than at first. With Mr. Van Hoose the case was reversed, the "Preislied," sung first, showing his beautiful voice to fine advantage, while in the duet most of its effect was lost or smothered. No soloist of the year, however, has made a deeper impression than he in the Meistersinger solo. His voice of rich caliber and pure quality was used to such excellent advantage that one of the most enthusiastic recalls of the season was given him at its close.

The concert on the whole brought the season to an admirable climax, and the warm appreciation of the audience was heartily testified by the frequent applause and by continual comment after the last number.

Escaped from Hard Work.

NEW CASTLE, PA., March 21.—(Special.)—William Cline, arrested here for drunkenness and sentenced by Mayor Warnock to dig 231 post holes at the city poor farm, has escaped from the county jail. It was decided to put him to work this morning, but the man had escaped.

THE MAN UP A TREE

From a High Viewpoint.

Good morning! Have you handed to your wife the price of her Easter bonnet?

That spring feverish feeling is due any time.

Perhaps Gen. Miles thinks that the secretary of war is the Root of all his trouble.

You may begin to choose the old masters that you will send to the loan exhibition.

Grover Cleveland and William Jennings Bryan make no effort to conceal their age.

War tax revisers in Washington have no compassion for the bucket shops.

Marshal Su's entire army having gone over to the rebels, the presumption is that the marshal is walking home to Peking.

Mountain anglers expect the trout season to be a poor one, but the output of fish stories will no doubt be up to the usual standard.

Mr. Bryan's objections to Mr. Hill and to Mr. Cleveland make it look as though the Lincoln man still stands where he stood in 1900 and in 1896, namely, for Bryan.

His Move.

"Do you intend to stay in this house another year?" asked Spudkins.

"No; I am going to another part of the city," replied Wintergreen.

"I thought you liked it here very much."

"O, I like it fairly well, but the landlord raised the rent on me. I told him I would pay no more. Then he said it was my move, and being a veteran chess-player, I saw that it was."

Subject to Change.

Up to date the news from Constantinople concerning Miss Stone's ransom runs as follows:

Demand has been made by the United States government for the repayment of the sum of money paid to the brigands for the release of Miss Stone and her companion.

Turkey has disclaimed all responsibility in the matter.

The American demand for the repayment of the ransom has been repeated and reiterated.

Turkey has flatly refused to consider the American demand.

No demand has been made by the United States government for the repayment of the ransom.

Do not pay your money and take your choice yet. The incident is still open.

Useless to Look.

"John Henry!" called Mrs. Hammersmith from the next room.

Mr. Hammersmith was snugly ensconced in his easy chair reading.

He grunted an acknowledgment that he heard.

"What time is it?" Mrs. Hammersmith asked.

"Left my watch upstairs," replied her husband.

"Look at the clock and see."

"What clock?"

"My French clock on the mantelpiece, stupid!"

"I don't understand French."

POINT BREEZE.

Greek Immigrants Not Wanted.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

The exodus of Greeks to the United States, which has seriously alarmed the government of that country, may well alarm our own. There are many Greeks who are sober, industrious and make good citizens of this or any other country, but there are also many bad ones who constitute a menace to any country in which they reside. In fact, the United States does not want immigration of any people in the wholesale fashion in which Greeks are said to be coming; but the fame of our national prosperity has spread abroad in such a manner as to induce a rush to our shores, which only the best of immigration laws, strictly enforced, can regulate.

MORE CONTRIBUTIONS DESIRED FOR THE FUND

Trustee William McConway Wants at Least $15,000 Additional for McKinley Memorial.

William McConway returned yesterday from Cleveland, and it is expected that as a result of his visit the work for the McKinley memorial fund will be imbued with new vigor. While Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania have done well by the fund so far, the amount that the western end of the state was expected to produce still falls $15,000 short of what is wanted by the national committee.

A meeting of the executive committee of the National association was held on Saturday. It was practically decided not to make public the exact amount that the committee has received, as a good many of the state organizations have not yet reported, and the amount in the treasury does not nearly approximate the sums that have been raised and subscribed. There is, however, more than $200,000 in the fund, as Ohio itself raised $100,000.

Mr. McConway, as one of the trustees, and the one in charge of the subscriptions in Western Pennsylvania, has turned over to the national executive committee the sum of $228,500. In addition to that, however, $6,500 is still to come in of the $35,000 subscribed. Mr. McConway is expected by the national executive committee to turn in at least $50,000.

"I expect to get that $15,000," said Mr. McConway, "for there is no doubt that we can raise that amount, which to Pittsburgh is a bagatelle, especially when it is wanted for a memorial to William McKinley, who did so much for this end of the state. Subscriptions are still coming in, but not so rapidly as we wish. Many mills whose employes are contributing to the fund are closing up their subscriptions, and doubtless when these have been received the fund will be materially increased. As indicating the general interest hitherto displayed, it is safe to say that there have been subscriptions by 25,000 persons."

HOUSEKEEPERS' NOTEBOOK.

The very best of flavoring to soups and sauces may be given by using small quantities of vegetables that may be left over after a meal.

Two or three tablespoonfuls of stewed tomatoes may be put aside and added to roasted beef gravy or soup.

Half a cupful of peas will garnish and flavor a breakfast omelet.

A cupful of mashed potatoes mixed with an equal quantity of finely chopped left-over cold meat, heated carefully and garnished with toast, will make an admirable luncheon or breakfast dish.

Crusts and crumbs of bread left over from the table should be dried, put aside for rolling and dipping, or to be used in scalloped dishes, or mixed with a few sliced apples, and baked and served as a dinner dessert.

Economical marketing does not mean the purchasing of inferior articles of food. Buy perishable materials of the best quality in small quantities and use them economically. In roasts and steaks, both expensive dishes, there always will be, in spite of careful buying, pieces left over. These pieces may be used for croquettes, cecils, ragouts, curries and brown stews.

Never purchase the tender, expensive pieces of meats for stews, soups, Hamburg steak or canneloa; nor purchase the same chicken for roasting that you would for a fricassee. Buy spring chickens for broiling, yearlings for roasting and fowls for a fricassee.

Save all the bones left on the carving plate, whether beef, mutton or veal, as well as the juice left in the carving dishes, for soups and stock. The soluble portions which these bones contain are as necessary as any other part of our food. On ironing day, when you are obliged to have a fire for several hours, cover the bones with cold water, bring to boiling point, skim and simmer gently for three hours; strain and put aside, and you will have a large bowl of clear jelly, ready to use for soups or sauces at a moment's notice. Water is a poor substitute and stock should not cost a penny. In summer the bones will not keep for a week. Boil on ironing day and again on baking day; it is extravagant to use a fire for one thing only.

Try rinsing the cake box and bread jar after washing with boiling water in which a little common soda has been dissolved. Then give them a good sun bath. This will keep the receptacle sweet.

The next time you have raisins to stone free them from the stems, put them in a bowl, cover with boiling water, let stand for two minutes, then pour off the water. You can open the raisins and remove the seeds without the unpleasant stickiness.

To make a cake icing that will not crack when cut, add one tablespoonful of sweet cream to each unbeaten egg. Stir together, adding sugar until the icing is as stiff as can be stirred.

A slice of orange added to a cream of tomato soup just before serving is said to improve its flavor.

SUPT. JOHN DALY WILL CONFER WITH EMPLOYES

Men of West End Traction Lines, Who Threatened Strike, Will Get Hearings.

Men of the West End traction lines remained at work yesterday. Some were dissatisfied that the strike had not gone into effect, but the majority of the men were willing to stand by the decision of the Pittsburgh executive board of the Knights of Labor and the executives of their own assembly in the Knights of Labor.

Laboringmen in interest received word yesterday that Superintendent John Daly of Division No. 2, Pittsburgh Railways Company, would meet a committee of the district organization of the Knights of Labor and the West End assembly. There was a conference yesterday of Master Workman T. J. Donohue and Past Master Workman John Brennen of the West End Traction assembly, President William Boate of the United Labor League and executives of the district assembly of the Knights of Labor.

The committee of four, which will meet with Superintendent John Daly to adjust grievances will be made up of Master Workman John Fernau and I. N. Ross of the district executive board of the Knights of Labor and Master Workman T. J. Donohue and Edward Heath of West End Traction assembly, No. 1954, Knights of Labor. This committee will meet with Mr. Daly on Monday or Tuesday. On Wednesday night, or early Thursday morning the traction assembly will meet at headquarters to hear the report and take action.

As stated in The Gazette a month ago, the organized men of the Pittsburgh Railways Company have submitted a wage demand to the company. The demand is for 23 cents an hour minimum, as against 20 now. The lodge, containing the men on the Consolidated company lines will meet next Tuesday morning to take action. The Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes claim, in membership 1,370 men. Strong organizations, which existed on the United and Monongahela lines were generally understood to have lapsed through recognition efforts which failed.

COMMITTEE ORGANIZED.

Chamber of Commerce Body Informally Discusses Greater Pittsburgh Plans.

The Greater Pittsburgh committee of the chamber of commerce met at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon behind closed doors and effected an organization. Former Mayor William M. Kennedy of Allegheny presided and the other members of the committee present were George B. Logan, H. P. Bope and W. H. Keech. Thomas Patterson was unable to attend. President A. J. Logan and Secretary George H. Anderson of the chamber were also present.

The meeting was informal and only a general discussion of the project occupied the attention of the members. A large map of Allegheny county was spread out on the table, and it was frequently referred to in the course of the session which continued for just one hour.

When the meeting adjourned Mr. Kennedy announced that another would be called within a few days, at which it is expected that information in regard to the legal steps to be taken would be explained and a plan of action formulated. The committee, he said, would in the meanwhile obtain information which would enable it to go systematically to work.

"We want to have the laws examined," said Mr. Kennedy, "and find out if there are any existing statutes under which the consolidation can be effected, or whether we must have a law passed by the legislature. Then we will prepare a statement for the information of the people and submit it to them. The movement is not in the interest of any faction or political party, but is strictly a business proposition for the advantage of the whole community."

Stewart Fife Acquitted.

SAVANNAH, MO., March 21.—When court opened at 9 o'clock today the jury in the case of Stewart Fife, charged with the murder of Frank W. Richardson at the home of the victim Christmas eve, 1900, returned a verdict of acquittal. It is said that only one ballot was taken and that from the beginning the jurors stood up for acquittal.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL

Has much to do these days taking note of interesting spring hints seen in the Fifth avenue afternoon promenade. There are few bright days when the majority of the smart women of Pittsburgh may not be met at some time or other on the lower section of Fifth avenue. Many of these have just returned from spring visits east and if one notes the small points in their gowning one may glean many advance hints of the strongest spring tendencies. One thing which is rather more than a hint by this time is the prevalence of buttons on the spring street gowns. Last year and the year before there were buttons and this year shows practically no diminution in the number, though there have been some modifications in the styles of using. A dark gray gown, tailor-made but not strictly severe, worn by a tall handsome girl whose name is synonymous with smart dressing, was seen the other day to have nothing save buttons for trimming. The jacket is an eton, cut round in the neck at the back and not meeting in front, though a small simulated vest is inside the jacket proper. Both jacket edges and vest edges were closely trimmed with tiny buttons along the edge, all in dark red, and the turned-up strapped cuffs of the jacket had the same small buttons set close along the edge. The frock was of dark gray, the vest of checked black and white, so that the red buttons had plenty of leeway to show their brilliancy. They were not cloth buttons, but of bone or ivory or some such hard material, and a clear dark red, like crimson coral. A black silk waist was worn under with a stock of white hemstitched silk and a plain gold pin.

The Fancy Sleeves—

Which will figure on frocks designed for semi-formal wear all come well down over the hands, following the outline of the wrist and flaring a very little at the hand. This is exceedingly graceful, especially when made of lace over some contrasting color.

A Furbished Hat—

Which will be worn by an economical maid for Easter has saved a pretty penny in her spring purchases and looks every whit as smart and handsome as an imported model. The hat in question was a special design by a clever French milliner last season and was turned straight up in front and pinned to the crown with a long quill. On the back was a rosette of velvet ribbon caught with a steel buckle and a few white roses nestled under the brim. The "furbishment" brings about a loosely tied bow with many ends, of dull blue satin ribbon, spotted lightly with white and a curling quill in front. The roses have given place to a little bunch of cornflowers and the hat is transformed and renewed without losing any of the chic which was its distinguishing charm last year.

For Cushions—

To heap on the Morris chair or the divan or in the corner where one loves best to sit, green denim in a clear maple tint should be used. There are no ruffles, but only a plain cord finish, and when the stuffy winter cushions are thus covered they give an air of indescribable freshness to the room where they are used.

As Beautiful as Venus and Fair as Diana

How Mme. De Maintenon, the Most Beautiful Woman in History, Retained Her Beauty and Youthful Appearance.

How Any Woman Can Attain Beauty and Youthful Looks

Mme. De Maintenon, said to be the most beautiful woman that ever lived, and the favorite of the luxurious court of Louis XIV., when seventy years of age, so history records, looked scarcely thirty. Her complexion was a marvel, and the envy of all the most noted beauties for which the court of Louis Le Grande was famous. Her youth and beauty, it was asserted, were ascribed to a secret lotion of Paracelsus, that kept her complexion in its youthful vigor and radiant glow, warding off the wrinkles and keeping away the lines and removing the blemishes that are the arch enemies of beauty and youthful looks.

This secret, for which Mme. De Maintenon paid a fabulous sum, can to-day be obtained by every lady at a very moderate cost.

By a diligent research into the laws of nature and a careful study in the realms of chemistry, Mme. Ruppert, the most noted Complexion Specialist of the present day, has discovered a formula that not only equals the secret formula of Paracelsus, but in many respects far surpasses it.

MADAME A. RUPPERT'S FACE BLEACH does all that the secret formula of Paracelsus did. It keeps the complexion youthful, retarding wrinkles and lines, removing the discolorations and blemishes, giving that delicate pink and white glow, so natural to youth; making the skin smooth, clear and a marvel of beauty. Freckles, pimples, moth, blackheads, sallowness and oiliness of the skin rapidly disappear with its use, and there is scarcely a defect to which the complexion is heir which will not readily yield to its miraculous curative and youth-restoring qualities.

IT CANNOT FAIL to produce these grand results, and to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate complexion, as its actions harmonize perfectly with the laws of nature and hygiene, the two factors which must be closely adhered to and followed, to improve permanently one's personal appearance.

FACE BLEACH has a twofold action on the skin: 1st, a magnetical action, which attracts and draws to the surface the impurities and discolorations which collect below the outer skin, similar to the attracting property of the magnet for iron; and, 2d, a chemical action which scales off imperceptibly (in the form of a very fine dandruff) a slight surface of the outer diseased and dead cuticle, leaving the skin—beautiful and youthful looking by nature—clear, smooth and perfect.

THIS IS THE ONLY METHOD by which the complexion can be safely and positively rejuvenated.

A positive guarantee is given if Face Bleach is used according to the new special directions, which are furnished with each order, that it will remove every discoloration and impurity from your complexion.

ORGANIZATION MEN HURRY TO WASHINGTON

It Is Said They Bear a New Harmony Proposition to Senator Quay.

COUNTY LEADERS ABSENT

Offices in the Court House Are Deserted by Department Heads—Director Leslie Used Detectives to Block a Scheme.

County organization leaders have gone to Washington, it is said, to make a personal appeal to Senator Quay for aid in bringing about harmony in Allegheny county. It developed yesterday that this was one of the purposes of the secret conference of organization men Thursday afternoon in the office of Register Fred W. Edwards. Half a dozen of them took their departure for Washington late Thursday night. They left singly and in pairs, making their plans so that their departure would be unobserved. The absence of heads of the departments at the court house yesterday caused comment and developed the story.

Among those said to have departed for the national capital are Register Fred W. Edwards, Controller W. E. Thompson, Deputy Register Arch Mackrell, Sheriff William C. McKinley, Recorder George von Bonnhorst, Treasurer Thomas B. McClure and Commissioners Mercer and Murray.

Ready With New Offer.

Some of the few county office-holders left in the city yesterday stated that the leaders were prepared to make a new harmony proposition that would differ in some respects from those previously offered by Recorder J. O. Brown. Mr. Brown was willing to drop Arch Mackrell candidate for sheriff, Recorder von Bonnhorst, Commissioner Murray and make a division of the legislative offices.

The proposition to be submitted to Senator Quay provides for the retirement of Controller W. E. Thompson, Recorder von Bonnhorst, one of the county commissioners and permits the local Quay men to have a voice in the selection of the legislative candidates. The assistance of Senator Quay will be sought to effect a compromise with the local stalwarts.

Not Considering Compromise.

Thomas S. Bigelow said yesterday that the stalwarts were not considering any possible compromise with the machine leaders. He said that a division of the county offices would not heal the differences that exist. Mr. Bigelow also stated that he has no intention of going to Washington to see Senator Quay and that he did not expect to hold any conference with Senator Quay in Pittsburgh in the near future.

Director A. H. Leslie prevented a special meeting of common council yesterday to pass the vetoed ordinance granting the Pittsburgh Street Railways Company the right to lay tracks in Grant street and Seventh avenue. Max G. Leslie refused to call a special meeting at the request of the applicants for the franchise and the latter proceeded to circulate a paper asking councilmen to sign a call for a special meeting.

Sent Out the Detectives.

Director Leslie thereupon instructed his entire detective force to call upon every machine member with a letter requesting him not to appear at today's meeting. The result was that no meeting was held, and the street car company was not able to get its franchise through over the recorder's veto within the five days required by law.

A call has been issued for a special meeting of select council next Monday. The meeting is ostensibly for the purpose of taking care of business before common council at the last meeting. Among this is the ordinance creating the position of fifth assistant city solicitor for County Chairman A. C. Robertson. It is whispered that some ordinances are to be introduced, pushed through committees next week and passed at the final meeting with a rush.

TUNNEL LAW OPPOSED.

New York Rapid Transit Commissioners Wish to Control Pennsy's Entrance into Gotham.

NEW YORK, March 21.—There was a public hearing before the mayor today on the bill to permit the building of a tunnel by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company under the North river. It was held in pursuance of the state law which provides that public hearings must be held on all measures passed by the legislature affecting cities of the first class.

The bill as it passed the legislature empowers the board of aldermen to grant in perpetuity franchises for tunnel railroads extending to points outside the city, without action by the rapid transit commission. The commissioners object upon the ground that in its existing shape the measure encroaches upon the powers vested in the board.

At the close of the hearing the mayor said he believed that much of the criticism of the measure proceeded from misrepresentation. He asked that the rapid transit commission, if it so desired, should submit any alternative to him by tomorrow, so that he could act on it by Monday.

There Were Ten Sales of Good East End Properties This Week

TWENTY-THIRD WARD HOUSES GO TO A WOMAN

C. H. Wanner Disposes of Eleven New Residences for $33,000.

TWENTIETH WARD SALES

Plans Completed for Collins Avenue Hotel—School House and Churches at McKeesport—Farm Sales and Home Purchases.

The C. H. Wanner Company yesterday secured signatures to articles of agreement in the sale of 11 new houses in the Twenty-third ward for $33,000. The houses were formerly owned by C. H. Wanner and the purchaser, whose name was not announced, is understood to have been an East End woman, who made the purchase for investment. The houses are all seven-room structures and up to date in their appointments. They stand on lots 25x93 feet each, and face in Colman and Hosack streets and Greenfield avenue. This sale, which is one of a number of deals for a block of houses which have been made lately, is another evidence that persons who have money to invest are favorably impressed with small houses in desirable localities, as a sure source of revenue. With the present conditions there is no hunting for tenants and no haggling over prices that will yield a good return on the investment.

A Fine New House Brings $20,000.

John M. Donaghy, the contractor, has sold one of his new houses in the west side of South Negley avenue, between Coral street and Friendship avenue, Twentieth ward, for $20,000. The purchaser is Mrs. Willis Scott. The residence is a handsome colonial brick house containing 12 rooms and stands on a lot 50x120 feet. This is the tenth sale of residence property amounting to over $12,000 that has been made this week in the three wards, the Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-second. The ten sales aggregate $181,500, or over $19,000 each. This shows conclusively that high-class residence property in the East End is in excellent demand. Probably more persons are hunting up-to-date homes in this section of the city than ever before, and builders of first-class houses are greatly encouraged by the prospects of early sales. Porches and lawns are two elements that enter prominently into the choice of a home and the East End is fortunate in having generous builders who provide these comforts.

Two More Twentieth Ward Sales.

Two other Twentieth ward sales amounting to $33,500 have been concluded. One of the sellers was Samuel H. Smith, who conveyed to Mary A. Weldon his property in the southwest side of Stratford avenue for $18,000. This residence is a modern 10-room brick house and the lot measures 50x106 feet.

The other transfer, amounting to $15,500, was the sale of the Dr. B. M. Hanna residence, at the southwest corner of Negley and Friendship avenues, to William C. Thoma for $15,500. The property was sold by Dr. Hanna last fall, and was recently purchased by S. C. Cover and D. T. Riffle, who were the sellers in this transaction. The lot is 50x150 feet and is improved with a 10-room house.

One East End Hotel Assured.

At least one of the much-talked-of hotels for the East End will materialize soon. Plans are now in the hands of Architect C. M. Bartberger for a three-story brick hotel, to be built at the corner of Broad and Collins avenues. The owner is Charles H. Cramer. Although the owner's intention is to build only a three-story structure now, the foundations will be made strong enough to sustain three additional stories, which will be built within a year or two if the present venture proves a success. The dimensions of the building are 32.5x83 feet and the cost is estimated at from $40,000 to $50,000. Architect Bartberger is now taking bids on the building and the work will be started in April.

Bakery Contract Awarded.

Architect Bartberger has also awarded the general contract for the immense bakery of the Ward-Mackey Company to H. L. Kreusler, for $173,000. This does not include the plumbing and wiring or the machinery for the plant, which will bring the total cost up to at least $275,000, exclusive of the cost of the ground. The four-story building, which is to be erected at the corner of Liberty avenue and Thirty-first street, will be of brick and steel construction with dimensions 174x198 feet. The machinery to be installed will make it the best equipped bakery in the country, and give it a capacity of 150,000 loaves of bread daily.

Architect William Young Brady is receiving bids on a row of nine six-room houses to be built for Thomas Maple in Brownsville avenue, Mt. Washington. The estimated cost is $15,000.

Public Buildings in McKeesport.

McKeesport is looking forward to two new churches and a new school building, all to be completed before snow flies. The work has already been begun on the $40,000 school house in the Tenth ward, under the direction of F. Daniel Stratton. The structure will be one of the best and most attractive buildings in the city, containing 14 large rooms and an assembly hall and principal's office. The new church of the First United Presbyterian congregation in East McKeesport, which, with the parsonage, was destroyed by fire last Sunday will be rebuilt immediately, the trustees having voted to that effect Wednesday night. The buildings will be erected on the same site as the ones burned, which cost $11,000. The church of the St. Nicholas Greek Catholic congregation, which was burned last year is to rebuilt this summer at a cost of about $25,000. The contract for this has also been awarded to Mr. Stratton.

Two Farms Purchased.

Through the agency of Liggett & Goehring, C. R. Simpson has purchased from Mrs. May Phillips a farm of 460 acres in Orange county, Va., for $6,500. The land is located on the main line of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, near Madison. It is well improved and well adapted for stock raising, for which purpose Mr. Simpson purchased it.

Another farm of 120 acres was sold yesterday by J. C. Dick to George T. McDonald, of the Pittsburgh Real Estate exchange, for $5,000. This farm is situated one mile south of Clarion, Pa., and besides having first-class farm buildings on it, has a large supply of fruit.

Negley Brothers sold a lot 38x105 feet in the west side of Stratford avenue, near Penn avenue, Twentieth ward, for $3,800. The purchaser, whose name was withheld, is preparing to build a modern brick house of 10 rooms, to cost $7,000.

Handsome Corner Residence.

Architect W. A. Thomas will take bids Monday on the $15,000 Pompeiian brick residence to be built for Mrs. Anna M. Negley at the corner of Negley avenue and Coral street.

E. R. Hugus sold to Alois J. Matsch a lot 25x110 feet, in the south side of Rosetta street, near Fairmount avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $700. The purchaser will improve with a six-room brick house.

H. W. Klein sold for Thomas E. Pinkerton to Henry G. Bolster his residence in Wilson avenue, Tenth ward, Allegheny, for $4,500. The lot is 24x102 feet.

Architects Craig, Hodgens and Burns are preparing plans for extensive alterations in the store building of Albert L. Kopfer at No. 622 Smithfield street. The improvements include a handsome glass front and will cost about $2,000.

Wabash Still Buying.

The Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western railway has purchased from Adam Zater an improved lot 20.1x78.1 feet in Adolph street, Thirty-fifth ward, for $2,000. Also from Thomas H. Lloyd an improved lot 24.9x19.4 feet, in Kearn's road, same ward, for $2,000.

Joseph L. Kane sold to Thomas Dougherty a lot 24x103.5 feet, in the east side of Bates street, Fourteenth ward, for $500.

The Chadwick Land Improvement Company sold to James Lockhart a lot 25x109 feet, in the north side of Lexington avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $360.

Gilliford B. Sweeney sold to William Newby an improved lot 30x100 feet, in the south side of Montezuma street, Twenty-first ward, for $3,500.

The deed was registered yesterday conveying from J. W. Arrott and F. J. Torrance to Henry W. Oliver the two Standard buildings in Wood street and Virgin alley, for $300,000.

Aloes Yoest sold to Frank Luederman an improved lot 20x100 feet, in the south side of Howley avenue, Sixteenth ward, for $2,400.

William R. Hughes sold to Teofil Kanoza an improved lot 24x100 feet, in Forty-fourth street, Seventeenth ward, for $2,100.

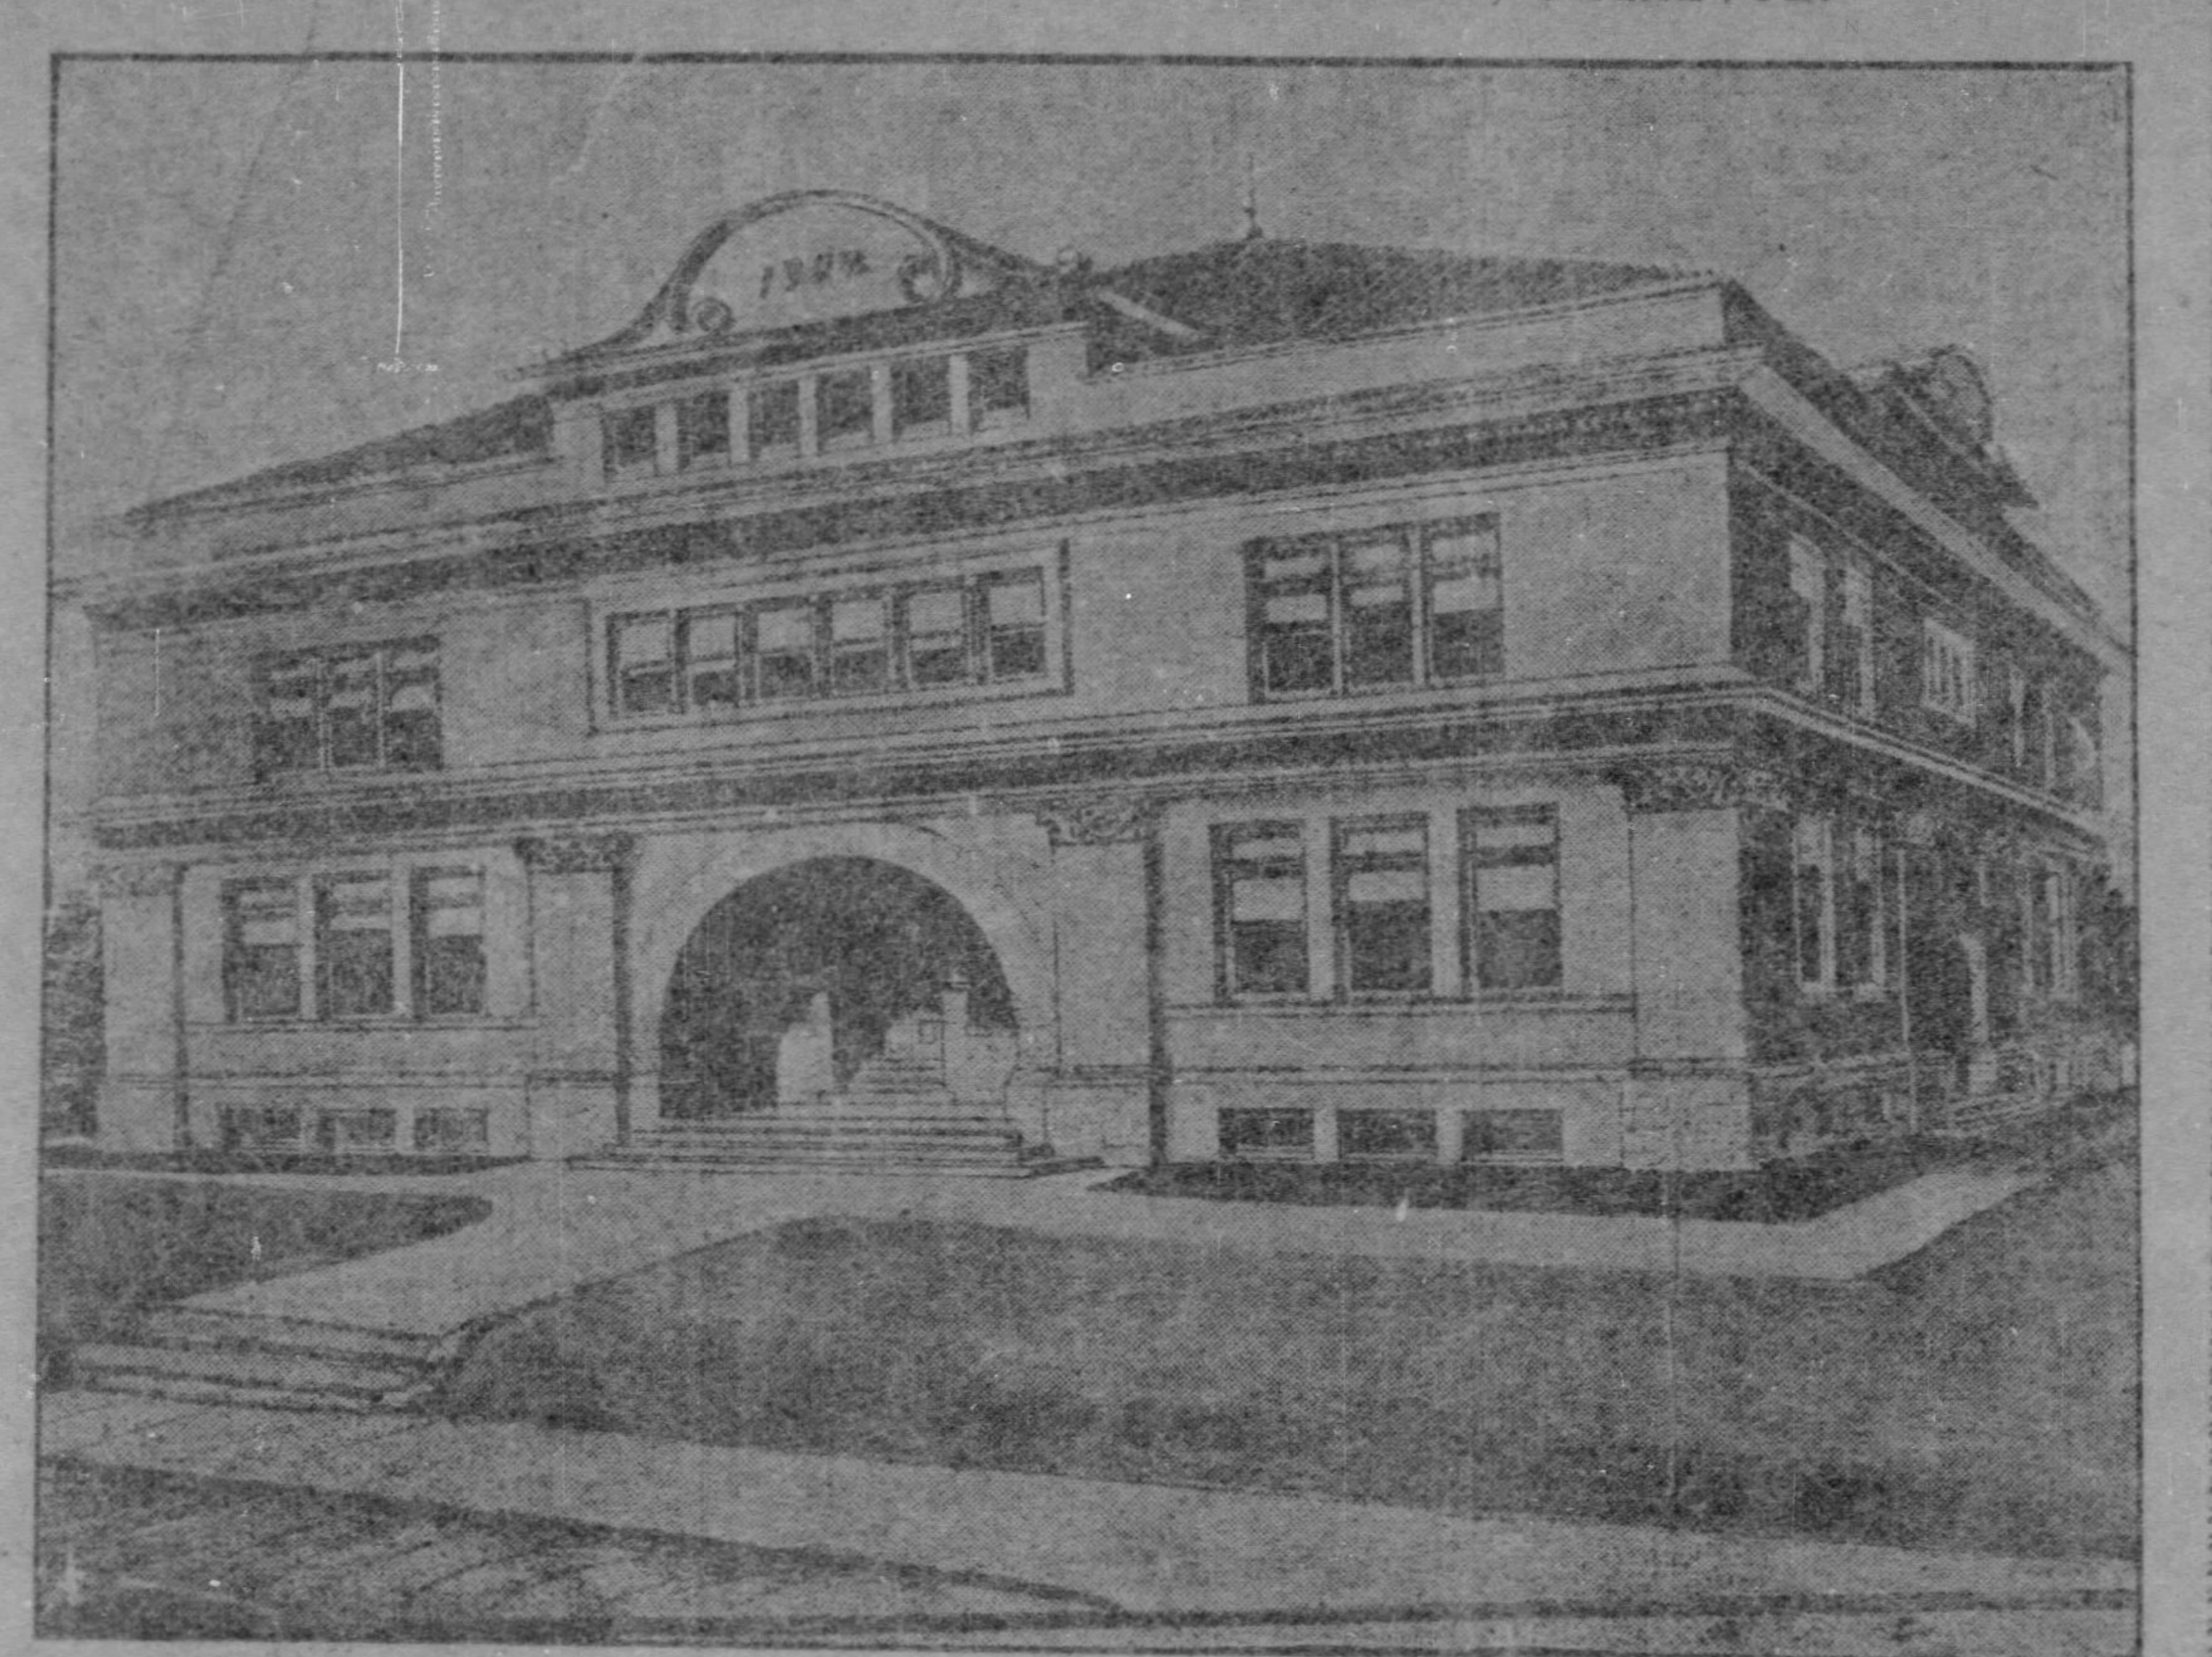
PROPOSED THIRD WARD SCHOOL HOUSE, BELLEVUE.



Finding it impossible to accommodate the younger generation in Bellevue in their present school quarters, the board of education of that borough has purchased a site and had plans prepared for a new building to be erected at the northwest corner of Orchard avenue and Jackson street, Third ward. Four architects submitted plans in competition for the work. At a meeting last Saturday night the design offered by Architect W. J. Shaw was accepted as the model for the new building. The style of the building is Italian renaissance and the estimated cost is $40,000. The dimensions are 99x74 feet. The walls are to be of mottled brick and terra cotta. Inside the loggia, which is reached from Jackson street, is a broad hall which is lighted from a side light rotunda in the second story. On the first floor are four large schoolrooms, the principal's office and the teachers' rooms. Five schoolrooms occupy the second floor. In the basement are the manual training rooms, which are to be equipped with the most modern apparatus, and the heating plant. The building is to be provided with telephones, making it possible for the teachers to communicate with each other or the principal without leaving their rooms. Besides the main entrance there is a wide entrance from Orchard street and an exit in the rear, affording the best possible means of escape in case of a fire or panic. In planning the building the board showed its confidence in the rapid growth of Bellevue by having the plans made so that two more rooms can be built on in the rear without altering the contour or general arrangement of the building. Work on the new structure will be started about April 15, and every attempt will be made to have the building ready for the fall term of school. The members of the board are A. S. Miller, president; T. S. Morgan, secretary; John E. Hurford, George W. McPherson, John Proven and William Jenkinson.

THE NEW WHITE HOUSE.

President Roosevelt Opposed to Enlargement or Change of the Mansion—Knox Has a Plan.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—President Roosevelt had among his callers today Representative Mercer of Nebraska, chairman of the house committee on public buildings and grounds, and one of the topics discussed was the enlargement of facilities for transacting the White House business. Heretofore there have been plans for remodeling and enlarging the White House. It appears, however, that President Roosevelt is opposed to changing in any material way the arrangements of this historic structure. Under these circumstances enlarged facilities would have to be provided elsewhere.

At one time there was a suggestion of a presidential residence outside of the White House which would be devoted to official business; but the present tendency is in favor of making the White House a residential establishment for the president, locating the official quarters elsewhere.

Senator Fairbanks has proposed that the new department of justice have a branch for the executive business. It is understood also that Attorney General Knox has a plan for increasing the executive facilities.

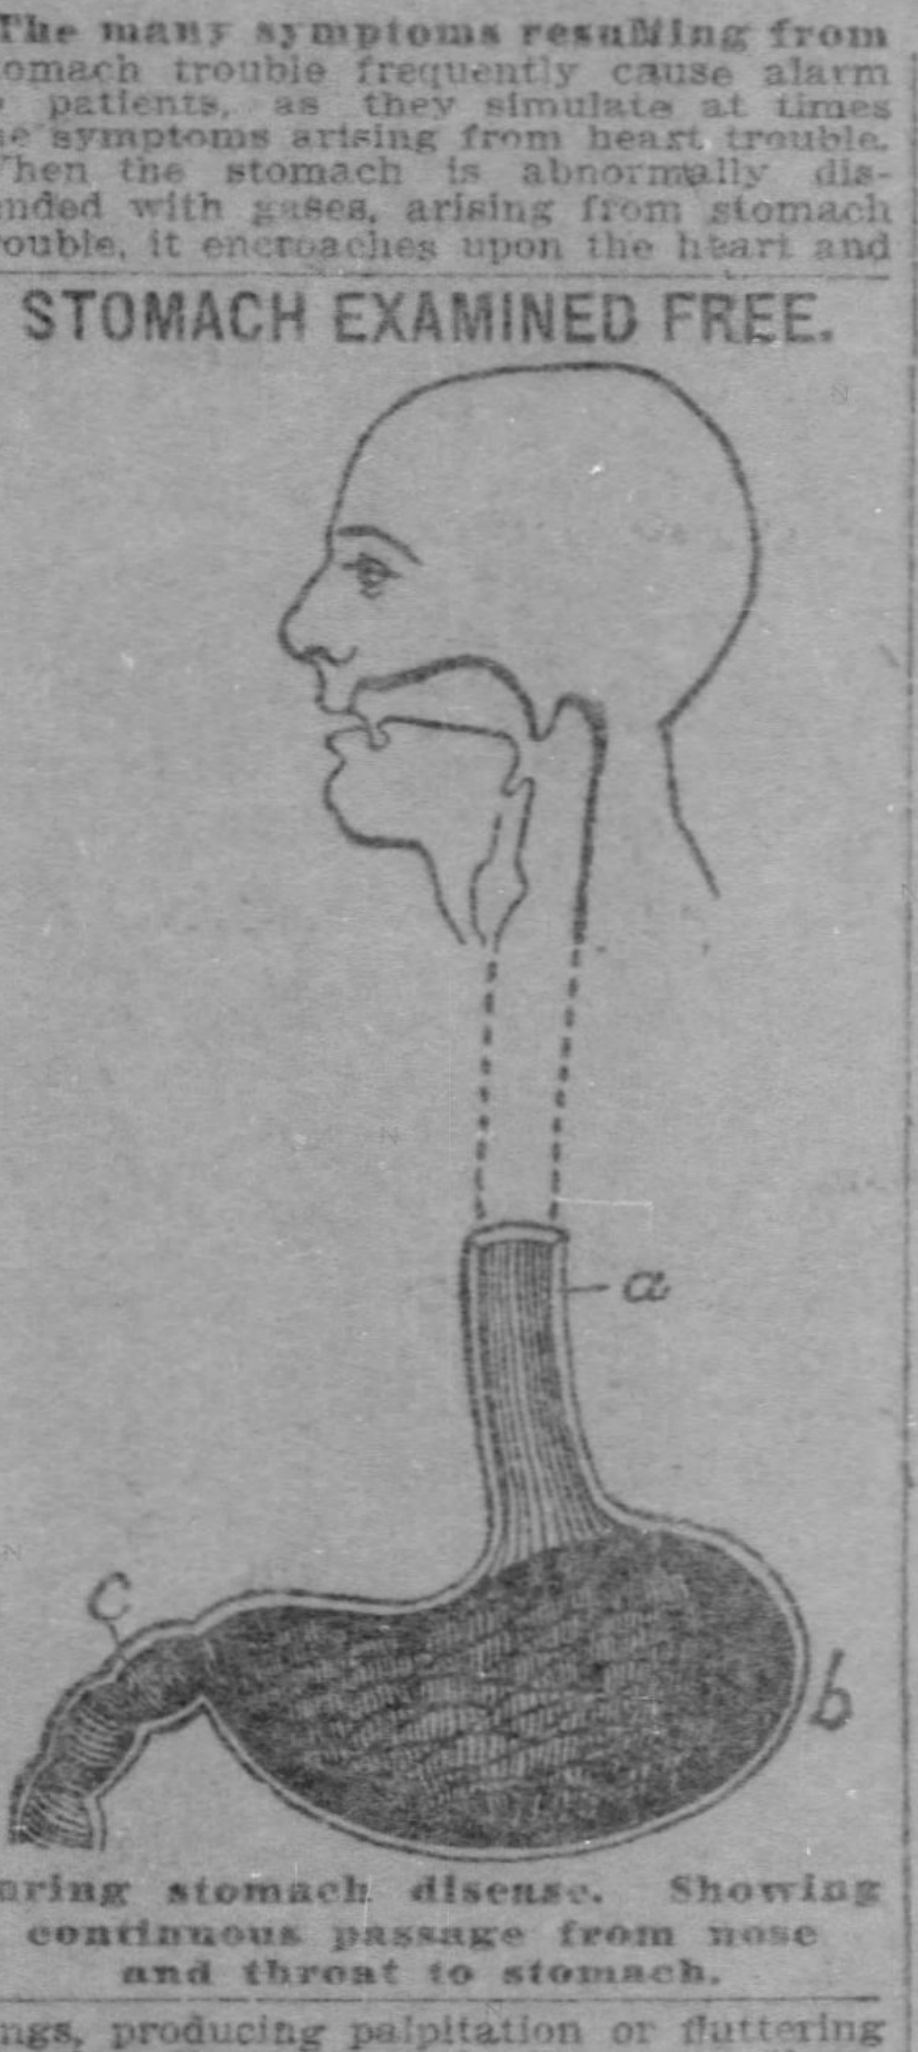
Stomach Trouble, Not Heart Disease.

The many symptoms resulting from stomach trouble frequently cause alarm to patients, as they simulate at times the symptoms arising from heart trouble. When the stomach is abnormally distended with gases, arising from stomach trouble, it encroaches upon the heart and lungs, producing palpitation or fluttering of the heart, smothering sensations, shortness of breath, dizziness, cold hands and feet, and in consequence of the debilitated condition of the body, due to malassimilation, a long line of nervous troubles, such as all-gone feeling, trembling of hands and limbs, hot and cold flashes, despondency, poor memory, loss of energy, etc. A physician versed in pathological anatomy knows that these symptoms are only functional or sympathetic, and that treatment must be directed to the stomach and not to the heart or nervous system.

STOMACH EXAMINED FREE.



Curing stomach disease. Showing continuous passage from nose and throat to stomach.

Are you buying patent medicines, digestive tablets, swallowing baking soda, charcoal, pepsin, mint and other irritating tablets in vain efforts to obtain relief?

Are you willing to investigate a treatment that really cures this trouble, not merely relieves the distressing symptoms for an hour or so, but cures to stay cured?

The treatment devised by Dr. Byers and used in this practice over 14 years has for its purpose the cleansing and healing of the catarrhal conditions of the head and throat and preventing passage of poisonous mucus into the Stomach, as well as the restoration of the normal condition and functions of the Stomach.

NEW HOME TREATMENT $5 A MONTH.

Schoolmaster Sam Has Finally Been Located

SAM LEEVER HAS FINALLY BEEN LOCATED

Pirates' Premier Twirler Has Not Been Kidnaped or Stolen.

AWAY DOWN IN FLORIDA

The Schoolmaster Writes That He Is the All-Around Champion of His Baseball Team—Lester Wilson Will Go With the Team.

Schoolmaster Sam Leever, the Pirates' star pitcher and the champion twirler of the National league, has finally been located, much to the relief of President Dreyfuss, who feared that the schoolmaster had gone and got himself lost, or else he had been kidnaped by a rival league team. The Pirates' owner has been trying to locate the schoolmaster for several days in order to get his uniform measurements and to notify him to report on the 29th for the Hot Springs trip.

Yesterday a letter wafted its way into the club headquarters, and when opened it was found to be from the schoolmaster, and was dated at Pensacola, Fla. Sammy wrote that during the winter months he took advantage of one of the cheap Florida excursions to pay a visit to the land of oranges, and liked the place so well that he sold his return ticket and has been camped out at Pensacola ever since. His first official act was to organize a ball team, of which he is the champion right fielder, champion third baseman, champion pitcher and champion left field hitter. This last statement is doubted, as the schoolmaster never hit a ball to left field in his life. Sam reports that he has his trusty gun with him and his one regret is that Honus Wagner is not along with him, as there is all kinds of game in abundance.

Jumpers Are in Disguise.

Harry Pulliam says the Brooklyn people, if they want to find the young blood talent swiped away from them by Manager Armour of Cleveland, should send a Sherlock Holmes down in the vicinity of Cincinnati. Harry vows the Brooklyn deserters are secreted in and about Porktown, all wearing disguises and with orders to do the Georgia minstrels act in going out to the first water tank and wait there until an express train from Cleveland comes along and picks them up. Harry is not sure whether there will be any windows in the train they travel in, as Manager Armour is afraid to allow anybody a view of his jumpers.

The members of the champion Pittsburgh team will have for company in their training at Hot Springs this season, a local athlete who is very speedy in getting around the circuit, though he never touches the corner bags of a diamond in doing so. He scores in great fashion, however, and is recognized as one of the strongest sprinters of the country. Lester Wilson, the speedy pedal pusher of the professional circuit, who so successfully completed last year his first season as a cash rider, will leave with the boys of the diamond next Saturday night, and they expect to make good use of him and bring him back something of a ball player as well as a cyclist.

Expects a Fast Season.

Playing with the champions will give him just the opportunity he wants for getting into condition for what he expects to be his strongest riding in his career. Wilson is confident that he will ride as fast as he ever will next season. He thinks he is just about in his prime as an athlete and also thinks the competition in the six-day grinds made him "game," as he puts it, and that he will hardly notice the strain of a sprint race after the terrible ordeal of the grinds. Though they have served him, Wilson is done with the six-day affairs, and says there is not enough in them for the work.

CAMBRIDGE FAVORITE.

Oxford Crew Has a Slim Chance in Today's Race.

LONDON, March 21.—Although the betting on the annual Oxford-Cambridge boat race, which takes place tomorrow, is 8 to 1 in favor of the Cambridge crew, the Oxford oarsmen lately have improved enough to promise a better struggle than the prophets anticipated. Both crews finished their heavy work this morning and went to the Queens club this afternoon to witness the annual field sports between the two universities. In the opinion of the experts Oxford's only chance is to press Cambridge for the first couple of miles, in which case the light blues (Cambridge) may possibly weaken and prove unable to make another spurt. There are two Americans, D. Milburn and J. G. Milburn, brothers, in the Oxford boat. They have shown good form throughout their training.

WON BY GILBERT.

Captured the Big Handicap Shoot by Straight Score.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., March 21.—Fred Gilbert of Spirit Lake, Ia., again took the honors at the Limited Gun club shoot today, winning the Grand Central handicap with a score of 26 straight. He had to fight it out with F. E. Hicks of Columbus, O., who killed 25 straight, but who missed the first bird of the shoot-off. All through Hicks set the pace. He had a bit the advantage for he shot from the 28-yard mark, while Gilbert was on the 32-yard mark.

Considering the handicap with the other experts shooting at a yard closer, the work of the Spirit Lake man was all the more brilliant. The two men divided first money and shot off for the medal. There were 27 entries in all and the first money amounted to $277.50, netting each man $138.75.

THE BIG STEEPLECHASE.

Great English Event Was Won by Shannon Lass.

LIVERPOOL, March 21.—Sportsmen turned out in force today, the second day of the Liverpool spring meeting, to see the Grand National Steeplechase run, though the interest of the general public in the event waned with the scratching of King Edward's entry, Ambush II., and the knowledge that his majesty, consequently, would not attend the meeting.

The preliminary racing was not of much interest. The Sefton Park Plate was won by Wolfshall (Martin). Rushlight (Mahey) was second, and Little Widow was third.

The Grand National Steeplechase was won by Shannon Lass. Matthew was second and Manifesto was third. Twenty horses ran.

ONLY SIX CLUBS.

The State League Now Ready for Business.

READING, PA., March 21.—President William Abbott Witman of the State Baseball league this afternoon made the following announcement:

"The representatives to the meeting of the State league at Hazleton decided to open with but six clubs. Manager Miller of the Hazleton club will transfer his team to Williamsport. He received a splendid offer from that place. Williamsport is twice Hazleton's size and a first-class ball town. The league decided to go into class C instead of class D, national agreement. The league is a full fledged member of the National association."

MAHER KNOCKED OUT BY RUHLIN

THE IRISH CHAMPION GOT IT IN THE SECOND ROUND.

A Right and Left on the Jaw Put Peter to the Bad—Was Knocked Down Twice Before the Knockout Was Delivered.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., March 21.—Gus Ruhlin and Peter Maher met at the Industrial Athletic club tonight for a six-round go, and in the latter part of the second round Maher went down and out on a hard left on the jaw. Ruhlin had the better of the go as far as it went, he repeatedly rushing Maher to the ropes.

In the first round the men rushed to a clinch. Ruhlin jabbed his left to Peter's face twice, and they again came to a clinch. Gus again jabbed his left to the face and Peter returned his left to Ruhlin's ear. Several exchanges followed without particular damage. Maher then planted a right on Ruhlin's eye, bringing first blood. The men were sparring at the bell.

In the second round Peter opened with a left on the forehead and received one on the jaw, which sent Peter down for the count. Gus then rushed Peter to the ropes and, after an exchange, smashed Maher again on the jaw. Maher looked weak and was again rushed to the ropes, with Ruhlin landing right and left. After a few light exchanges, Peter was again sent to the ropes with Gus jabbing him repeatedly on the chin. Gus then smashed right and left to the jaw, and Peter went down and out. The bell found him on the floor, and his seconds carried him to his corner completely done for. He, however, revived in a short time.

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—(Special.)—Jack Bennett of McKeesport is to box Joe Gans 20 rounds at Ford's Opera house in Baltimore on Thursday night, March 27. Bennett is a welterweight, but Gans agreed to allow him to weigh in at that limit, the weighing-in to be done at 3 o'clock on day of the contest. The money is to be cut as follows: The purse to be $1,000 and the winner to receive 75 per cent and the loser 25 per cent. Bennett has boxed all the leading light and welterweights in the world. He has met such men as Stanton Abbott, Kid Lavigne, Owen Zeigler, Eddie Connelly, Billy Ernst, Horace Leeds, Young Griffo, Charley McKeever, Matty Matthews, Charley Burns, and "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien, and has never been knocked out but once in his fighting career, and that was by Rube Ferns, the ex-welterweight champion of the world. Kid McPartland was to meet Gans on this date, but the match with Bennett was substituted.

WASH.-JEFF'S SCHEDULE.

It Is the Hardest One the College Team Has Ever Had.

WASHINGTON, PA., March 21.—(Special.)—The W. & J. College faculty at a meeting tonight approved the baseball schedule for the season of 1902, as submitted by Manager W. B. Stevenson. The schedule is in many ways the strongest ever arranged for a W. & J. baseball team, and includes games with all the leading teams in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia. The only team met in former years that will not be played this year is Westminster, as this team has been cut off the schedule on account of refusing to give sufficient guarantee.

The schedule includes two trips, one through the west and another to the north. The leading feature of the schedule is the game with H. L. A. C. on June 7, at Washington, which indicates that friendly relations between the two are still in existence. The schedule is as follows: April 19, Bethany at Washington; April 23, Pittsburgh College at Washington; April 28, Grove City at Washington; April 30, Slippery Rock Normal at Slippery Rock; May 1, Allegheny at Meadville; May 2, Grove City at Grove City; May 8, Rochester A. C. at Rochester; May 9, Case school at Washington; May 16, West Virginia University at Washington; May 19, Scio College at Scio; May 20, Dennison University at Granville; May 21, Kenyon College at Gambier; May 22, Ohio University at Athens; May 23, West Virginia University at Morgantown; May 28, Dennison University at Washington; May 30, Waynesburg, two games; June 2, Allegheny College at Washington; June 7, H. L. A. C. at Washington; June 14, Waynesburg at Washington; June 21, W. & J. Alumni at Washington.

VICTORY FOR OXFORD.

American Boy Helped the College Team Along.

LONDON, March 21.—The annual Oxford-Cambridge field sports were held today at the Queens club, this city. The weather was fair, but a strong wind was blowing. There was a good-sized crowd present. In the hammer throw Coe (American), Oxford, won; distance, 111 feet 10 inches. The majority of the events were won by the Oxford athletes.

RED AND BLACK PLAYERS IN LINE

CAPTAIN MARTHENS WILL PUT A STRONG TEAM IN FIELD.

Game With Allegheny for the Championship Has Been Arranged and Will Be Played in Steubenville Next Week, but the Day Is Not Set.

Final arrangements in regard to everything but the day next week on which the game will be played were completed yesterday between Allegheny, Steubenville and the Duquesne basketball players for the championship contest to be decided in the Ohio valley town for the championship of Western Pennsylvania.

Manager Jack Farren of Steubenville and Roberts of Allegheny were in communication over the telephone, and finally arranged that each of the Pittsburgh teams will receive one-third of the gross receipts and that the Steubenville management will receive the other third for the use of the hall.

Capt. Marthens of the Duquesne team, who proposes to defend the championship reputation gained by the red and black team in years of contest, stated yesterday that notwithstanding the disagreement with Manager MacFaydean, a full team of Duquesne players would take part in the contest. He stated that he is positively sure of Nickel, Sauers, Kallock, John Seibel, Louis Seibel and himself for the game. Louis Rosser and Ferris Fitch, he says, may also play.

THE GALVIN BENEFIT.

There Will Be Plenty of Sport at Old City Hall.

Everything is now in readiness to start the big benefit show for the widow of Jimmy Galvin, at Old City Hall tonight. Nothing has been left undone to make this the biggest success of the kind ever attempted, and from the program arranged by Manager James Mason it will keep the house in an uproar from start to finish. The performers are requested to be on hand by 7 o'clock, so that the performance can be started at 7:45 prompt and run right along until the whole show is finished. Tickets can be had all day at A. G. Pratt's, 507 Wood street, and at the hall from 6 o'clock on.

Some of the boxing bouts down on the card are certainly unique. For instance, the two pair of twins who will appear, the Clintons—Roy and Ray—who only weigh 35 pounds each. They can give points to the older boxers. Also the O'Hara twins from McKeesport, who weigh 75 pounds each. Besides them there are 24 other bouts to take place, to say nothing of the singing and music.

WILL HEAR TODAY.

Local Hockey Aspirants Expect an Answer to Championship Challenge.

Manager Charles Miller of the P. A. C. hockey team expects to know today whether the Montreal Stanley cup holders and champions of the world will come to Pittsburgh in answer to his challenge wired to Montreal several days ago. Last night the Montreal skaters arrived home and were banqueted and feted by the Montreal enthusiasts in honor of their bringing the famous Stanley trophy home with them from their long trip to Winnipeg.

If the Canadians are awake to modern up-to-date methods a telegraphic answer should arrive today at least, but though fast enough in hockey to win the world's championship the northerners, it is feared, are just as likely as not to waste time by using the mails.

Grove City Won Final Game.

GROVE CITY, PA., March 21.—(Special.)—The closing basketball game of the college season was played this evening with Westminster college, the locals winning by a score of 45 to 31. The locals had an easy time in the first half, but in the second the visitors did better and honors were about equal. Campbell, Cliger and DeFrance for Grove City and Kennedy and Gamble for Westminister led the playing.

GREAT IS HONUS.

The Boss Pirate Rolled Up Many Points for His Basketball Team.

Honus Wagner becomes greater in the eyes of his fellow townsmen every day, and his exhibition in basketball on the floor of the Carnegie gymnasium, proved that baseball is not his only accomplishment in the sporting line. Altogether he scored 20 points, throwing nine field and two foul goals for the All Professional team, which defeated the All Stars, also of Carnegie last night by a score of 45 to 15. Every man in the All Professional team worked for victory, excellent work being done by Arehart, Frye and Flaherty. The All Star aggregation could not play against the team work of the All Professionals, although they played a rapid, scrappy game all the way through. Morgan retired after the first half and his place was taken by Burgan. The line-up:

All-Professionals—45.		All-Stars—15.
Wagner	Right forward	Rosser
Frye	Center	Orr
Flaherty	Left guard	Daily
Morgan-Burgan	Right guard	Turney

Goals from field—Wagner 9, Arehart 4, Frye 3, Flaherty 3, Morgan 1, Burgan 1, Rosser 1, Silk 3, Daily 1, Turney 1. Goals from foul—Wagner 2, Morgan 1, Silk 1. Referee—Marthens. Timekeeper—Gray.

A preliminary game between Carnegie High school and Pittsburgh college, resulted in a victory for the college five, by a score of 30 to 11, after one of the roughest games ever played on the Carnegie floor. Rough house tactics were used from beginning to end, and as the game progressed it became worse.

NOW AFTER SHARKEY.

Los Angeles Club Will Not Grant Fitz's Demands—Delaney Talks Very Plainly.

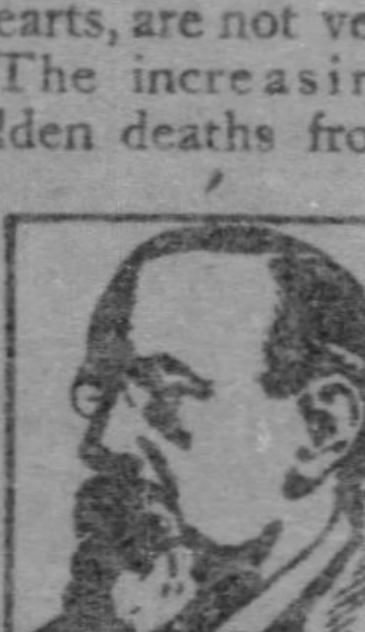
LOS ANGELES, CAL., March 21.—The Century Athletic club today wired Tom Sharkey, the pugilist, asking under what terms he would take Fitzsimmons' place and fight Jeffries in this city during the first week in May.

The club has not heard further from Fitzsimmons, and refuses to accede to his demands for a larger purse and percentage than they originally offered.

William Delaney, manager for James J. Jeffries, said today: "From the action taken by the board of supervisors in San Francisco yesterday awarding the April permit to the Yosemite club I judge that the 'Frisco people have given up all hope of getting the fight. Fitzsimmons is simply looking for an advertisement. He is up to some dodge to keep his name before the public and I told Jeffries so in New York when we met the first hitch. Mark my words, he will barter with this thing and toy with it as long as the press will stand for it, and in the end there will be no fight."

A Good Hearted Man,

or in other words, men with good sound hearts, are not very numerous. The increasing number of sudden deaths from heart disease daily chronicled by the press, is proof of the alarming prevalence of this dangerous complaint, and as no one can foretell just when a fatal collapse will occur, the danger of neglecting treatment is certainly a very risky matter. If you are short of breath, have pain in left side, smothering spells, palpitation, unable to lie on side, especially the left, you should begin taking



J. A. Kreamer.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

J. A. Kreamer of Arkansas City, Kans., says: "My heart was so bad it was impossible for me to lie down, and I could neither sleep nor rest. My decline was rapid, and I realised I must get help soon. I was advised to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, which I did, and candidly believe it saved my life."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists on guarantee.

STEEL COMBINE ADHERES TO ITS PRESENT PRICES

The Story That It Would Make a General Advance April 1, Denied.

RAIL ORDERS NOT FILLED

Old Business of 1901 Carried Over Into the Present Year to the Embarrassment of Manufacturers. The New Car Plant at Berwick.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—Wide circulation has been found for reports alleging that the United States Steel Corporation contemplates a general advance of prices to take effect April 1. The truth of these reports was authoritatively denied today by gentlemen empowered to speak for the combine.

The question of advancing prices, according to these authorities has not even been considered by the management of the United States Steel Corporation, and as a further evidence of the inaccuracy of the reports to the contrary, it is pointed out that since the combine, generally speaking, is booked to the limit of its capacity for the first three quarters of 1902, and that on certain grades of iron its capacity is engaged for the entire year, the United States Steel Corporation could not benefit to any considerable extent from a revision of its present schedule of prices. In a word, the management of the combine believes that its products are now commanding prices that are fair, both to consumers and to manufacturers.

Whipped Independents in Line.

A large independent steel manufacturer who has every reason to be familiar with the United States Steel Corporation's policy said to your correspondent today that the combine not only had kept prices down within the limits of its own jurisdiction, but had brought irresistible pressure to bear upon independent manufacturers to hold them to a similar policy. It is largely, if not wholly, due to the United States Steel Corporation, this independent manufacturer said, that steel rails, wire products, wire nails and steel plates have not been advanced by their respective pools to much higher prices.

Unfilled Steel Rail Orders.

Interesting admissions are made by several large steel rail producers that a number of concerns engaged in the manufacture of this product have not yet cleared their books of the business that was brought over from 1901. No estimate can be given of the amount of such tonnage that has yet to be delivered, but it is sufficiently large in some instances seriously to obstruct the current year's business.

A well-known steel rail manufacturer went on record today as saying that the output during 1902 cannot but be inadequate to supply the demand. If present conditions continue this gentleman expects to see steel rails imported in very large quantities. The railroads have not yet begun to feel the embarrassment that is almost certain to arise from the inability of manufacturers to make deliveries within anything like specified time. In the course of another month, however, the periods of delivery will begin to expire, manufacturers will be unable to supply rails, many of them will be unable even to make definite promises, and when this point is reached there is likely to be interesting correspondence back and forth between consumers and manufacturers. One steel rail producer said today that if he could arrange it, he should certainly take a vacation beginning with May and lasting for several months, to escape the complaints that will begin at about that time to pile up on the desks of manufacturers.

New Berwick Car Plant.

Meanwhile the manufacturers of railroad equipment continue to book business on a scale that shows pretty clearly how the railroad companies feel as to the probability of current prosperity continuing. The American Car and Foundry Company has taken orders within the past few days for 4,500 freight cars and 74 passenger cars.

It was said today by an official of the company that the cost of building the new plant at Berwick, Pa., (about $500,000) will be met out of surplus earnings. The plant that the company now operates at Berwick is for the manufacture of wooden freight cars, whereas the new plant will be for the production of structural steel freight cars. The earnings of the company are at a rate that enables the management to contemplate extensive new construction to be paid out of earnings in excess of dividends on both the common and preferred stock.

Tin Can Negotiations.

It was reported in Chicago today that negotiations between the United States Steel Corporation and the American Tin Can Company had been abandoned and that the can company already is preparing to undertake the production of its own plate. This report met with only passing interest in Wall street, mainly because the majority of rumors arising from these negotiations have not been distinguished for accuracy. From what could be learned at quarters where official information prevails, it is to be understood that negotiations have not broken off, and that their progress is quite as satisfactory as could be expected. The matter is, still in a tentative stage, however, and what has been accomplished amounts to little more than counter-approaches and counter-proposals, none of the latter having been finally accepted by either side.

Another company appeared today to enter the already more than crowded tin can field. It is the Packers Sanitary Can Company, incorporated in New Jersey with a capital stock of $500,000. The incorporators are William C. Bryant of New York, Edward J. Norton, Alonzo Brymer and John Murphy, Brooklyn, and Robert J. Pollitt, Paterson, N. J.

New Machinery Company.

There was incorporated in New Jersey today the National Machinery Company, with a capital stock of $450,000. The incorporators are Augustus Rohn, Louis Selle and Amandus Bettes, Tiffin, O.; Harry M. Reynolds, Dayton, O.; Mesheck Frost, Toledo, and T. Francis B. Lee, Trenton.

A Pretty Canadian Fight.

A circumstantial story develops in Boston to explain the recent sharp advance of the Dominion Coal Company. It is said now to be conceded both by Montreal and Toronto interests, that the negotiations looking toward the acquisition of the Dominion Coal Company by the Dominion Steel Company are about to terminate in a deal. The steel company holds an option on the coal company good until May 1. According to this story it appears that the Montreal people, who have been largely in control of the situation, have stood by Dominion Coal, and the Toronto people have not only gone heavily into Dominion Coal but have purchased absolute control of Dominion Iron & Steel. The Montreal people have declared that the steel company was not in position to exercise the option upon Dominion Coal, and that the latter was earning more than 10 per cent. The Toronto people have responded that they would put the steel company in a situation to exercise their option, and they purposed to do so, whereupon some of the largest coal people threatened to retire the entire outfit.

News From the Mines

NEW YORK, March 21.—Utah mines this month so far have declared dividends amounting to $359,000. The list includes the Daly-West, $60,000; Quincy, $125,000; Silver King, $100,000; Ontario, $45,000; May Day, $4,000, and Yankee Con, $25,000.

Galena, honeycombed with chloride of silver and carbonate of iron, has been struck in the D. & M. group, above Park City, Utah. The Tesora of Tintic last week sent to the furnace of the Bingham Consolidated smelter four cars of crude ore and six of concentrates.

In the Bland, on Mineral hill, Cripple Creek, quartz has been struck at a depth of 100 feet that assays from $80 to $300 a ton. It is reported that a Boston syndicate is negotiating for control of the Little Puck.

At a depth of 30 feet, a new shaft on the Wedekind, near Reno, Nev., a seven-foot vein has been opened, three feet of which assays over $3,000 gold to the ton.

Advices from Nelson, B. C., say there is some excitement at Petersburg over strikes in the Paradise and Monarch. In the latter three feet of solid high-grade copper and galena has been encountered, and four feet of solid ore is exposed in a new tunnel of the Paradise.

Capt. Delamar has bought a group of claims in the Dos Cabezas district, near Wilcox, Ariz., for $500,000. Ore recently taken from the property ran $220 gold, 90 to 160 ounces silver and from 15 to 35 per cent copper.

The claims at Hawkinsville, Siskiyou county, Cal., that are supplied with water by the Portuguese ditch from Greenhorn, are being worked with very good success.

Referring to the new camp of Ray, Nev., a correspondent writes: "Ray is about seven miles northeast of Tonopah. The ores carry gold, silver and lead, nearly a fourth of the values being gold and the percentage of lead being very high. It is a fissure vein, and can be traced for nearly two miles. The formation is line and quartzite."

Lincoln county, Nev., is becoming the center of a mining boom, brought about by the surveying and grading for the two new railroads.

The Metal Market.

The course of the metal markets today did not bring out a single feature of general interest at home, and the foreign markets were without distinctive features. Local prices were unchanged in all cases. Tin closed about steady at 26¾@27c for spot. London was unchanged, with spot at £116 16s and futures at £114 5s. Copper ruled steady but inactive here at 12@12⅜c for lake and at 12@12¼c for electrolytic and casting. London copper closed 2s 6d lower, with spot at £52 2s 6d and futures at £52. Lead was steady at home and abroad, with New York closing at 4⅛c, and London at £11 10s. Spelter held about steady and unchanged at all points, with the local price at $4 35 and London at £17 12s 6d. Iron was inactive here and unchanged. Pig iron warrants closed nominal; No. 1 foundry, northern, $18 50@19 50; No. 2 foundry, northern, $18 00@19 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, $17 50@18 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, soft, $17 50@18 00. English markets were 1½@3d higher. Glasgow closed at 52s 7d, and Middlesboro at 46s 9d.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—Today's stock market was still highly professional and there was abnormal activity in stocks which are usually not a figure in the trading. Considerably more attention, however, was given to the representative stocks in the list, which are quite generally higher as a result of the day's trading. In most instances the gains are merely fractional, but in such stocks as St. Paul, Louisville & Nashville, Illinois Central and St. Louis & San Francisco there are substantial net gains recorded. Rock Island moved rapidly upward in the last hour to 180, a net rise of 7½. There was no special explanation of this sensational advance, but the traders were inclined to buy the grangers and south westerns on the strength of the report of rain in the southwest and the hope of benefit to the wheat crop.

Sugar was inclined to be heavy during the early dealings, but became strong toward the close, rising more than 3 points over last night and closing with a net gain of 2⅜. Amalgamated Copper was heavy all day on a rather smaller volume of dealings than lately, but a late recovery left it only a fraction lower on the day. The speculation in Colorado Fuel continued very active and feverish, the price rising to 1⅛ over last night and then falling 1⅝ under. The change on the day was a fractional net loss. Tennessee Coal and Hocking Coal were affected in sympathy. The inertia of the United States Steel stocks was undisturbed.

Other Candidates for Favor.

Conspicuous new candidates for buying demand amongst the less prominent stocks were the Minneapolis & Sault Ste. Marie stocks, the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic stocks, the Keokuk & Des Moines stocks, International Pump preferred, United States Rubber stocks, the Rubber Goods stocks and American Telephone and Telegraph. The gains in these ran all the way from 1 to 5 points and were entirely without any published legislation. They were balanced by relapses of 1 to 3 points amongst stocks of a similar class, which have had previous advances. The local traction stocks were rather dull and heavy and were apparently not affected by the plans adopted yesterday for readjustment of capital.

The late rise in the market was to some extent in expectation of a favorable bank statement tomorrow. The banks seem to have gained from all sources during the week nearly $500,000. As the movement with the interior has been against New York to the extent of over $1,000,000, this gain is entirely due to sub-treasury operations, which had yielded up to last night $1,682,000. This includes the payments for government bonds in connection with the closing up of the redemption order, the total amount of these payments being considerably more than the net amount yielded to the banks on sub-treasury operations.

Loan Reduction Anticipated.

With the redemption order suspended it will be seen, therefore, that the actual working factors are toward depletion of cash reserves. It is taken for granted that the banks have reduced their loans during the week to a considerable extent, so that a repairment of the surplus is expected. The market closed about steady and near the top.

The bond market was somewhat irregular. Total sales par value, $2,630,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

IMPROVING LABOR CONDITIONS

IRON AND STEEL PRODUCTS STILL BADLY WANTED

Industrial Conditions Improved by Settlement of Labor Controversies.

OTHERS ARE THREATENING

Problems of Transportation Are Gradually Being Solved—Dun's Weekly Review Continues Encouraging in the Business World.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Evidences of further improvement are numerous. Labor controversies are less threatening, many settlements having been effected, while others are momentarily anticipated; wages have been advanced, traffic congestion has subsided until it is possible to deliver goods according to specifications; aside from idle foot wear shops the leading lines of manufacture are very fully engaged, while the jobbing trade is of exceptional magnitude. Retail dealings are also very large, the Easter stimulus being felt in all lines of wearing apparel. With domestic demands so vigorous it is especially encouraging to notice a gain for the last week in foreign trade at the principal ports.

Normal Conditions Expected.

Pressure for iron and steel has not diminished perceptibly, yet the impression is growing that after July 1 the situation will become approximately normal, and it will be possible to secure deliveries with some degree of promptness. This is the more probable as there has been a further stiffening of quotations and additional importations, which would have been much larger but for the advance in foreign markets. For some time to come it is probable that foreign commerce exhibits as to this industry will be less satisfactory, but it has been worthy of note that imports are mainly of pig iron, billets and sheets, while the exports of many lines of expensive machinery and other finished products are fully sustained.

Domestic Demand Heavy.

Large contracts are constantly under consideration for structural material on domestic account, including railway bridges, viaducts, car shops and office buildings. In this respect the domestic consumption this year will far surpass all records. Open weather has brought out a heavy tonnage of merchant pipe.

Both at the east and west there is a little more activity in shoe shops, yet productive capacity is not fully engaged, and new orders come forward slowly. Lower prices for leather and hides may make it possible for producers to accept recent bids in which case sales would increase, but thus far only two staple grades have been shaded. Domestic hides are dull and depressed, although competition between the independent tanners and the combination caused an advance in dry hides.

Cotton Market Hardens.

Advanced wages at cotton mills means a higher cost of production and the market has hardened in consequence. Business under the new conditions has not yet been sufficiently large to establish quotations, yet some advances of 2 to 5 per cent are recorded. Export sales are still checked by high prices. A helpful feature is the increased demand at southern jobbing centers. Woolens are quiet, with only a fair movement of staple lines, though some fancy grades are fully sold and out of the market.

Grain markets have begun to feel the effects of weather reports, and for the next few months it will be a simple matter for speculators to secure erratic fluctuations.

Increase in Cereal Exports.

Strength was conspicuous on Tuesday, last year's serious injury to corn making quotations particularly sensitive to indications of drouth. Another helpful factor was the increase in exports of wheat and flour to 4,657,625 bushels for the week, against only 2,598,472 last week, and 3,355,098 a year ago. Western receipts continued to make an unfavorable comparison with the movement in 1901, wheat amounting to 2,899,909 bushels, against 4,165,833 and corn 1,460,536 bushels, compared with 3,074,011 bushels. Atlantic exports of corn increased largely over the low record of the preceding week to 298,884 bushels, and there is still a severe loss as compared with the 2,351,272 bushels shipped a year ago.

Cotton showed no response to Mr. Neill's reiteration of his early estimate placing the yield at 11,250,000 bales. Although 400,000 bales more cotton has come into sight than a year ago, reports from the south are almost unanimous regarding the exhaustion of stocks.

Failures for the week numbered 200 in the United States, against 224 last year, and 31 in Canada against 33 last year.

Wool.

BOSTON, March 21.—The Commercial Bulletin will say in tomorrow's report on the wool trade of the United States:

"The market is very dull. Beyond one or two big blocks of foreign wool little has been done. The strike of the wool handlers is quite over and there are now more hands than work. One big sale of 1,000,000 pounds of Buenos Ayres was matched by another of 500,000 pounds of Buenos Ayres cross-breds at 23½@24c, and two sales of Australian cross-breds to the extent of 1,000 bales each to dress goods mills. The continued strike of the weavers at Olneyville naturally checks business. In California growers are receiving two cents a pound more for southern wool than last year. In Utah offers of 12c by speculators for wool on the sheep's back are refused. The firm and advancing London market encourages hopes of more activity in American markets later.

"The receipts of wool in Boston since January 1, 1902, have been 51,349,979 pounds, against 29,856,883 pounds for the same period in 1901.

"The Boston shipments to date are 61,096,500 pounds for the same period in 1901.

"The stock on hand in Boston, January 1, 1902, was 77,340,435 pounds; the total stock today is 67,357,620 pounds."

LONDON, March 21.—The offerings at the wool auction sales today numbered 14,286 bales. Scoureds were in keen request for the continent. Crossbreds were bought chiefly by the home trade. Some light conditioned merinos and good, medium crossbreds were taken by Americans. Following are the sales: New South Wales, 3,100 bales; scoured, 3½d@1s 8d; greasy, 3½d@1s ½d. Queensland, 1,300 bales; scoured, 1s ½d@1s 7d; greasy, 5½@10½d. Victoria, 1,600 bales; scoured, 1s 1d@1s 10½d; greasy, 6½d@1s ½d. West Australia, 200 bales; scoured, 10d; greasy, 3d@8½d. BULL ELEMENT ROUTED AGAIN BY GENERAL RAINS

Prices, Sustained for a Time by Cash Buying, Finally Yielded.

GOOD GROWING WEATHER

Excess of Moisture Has Opposite Effect on Corn, as Interior Movement May Be Retarded Thereby. Trade Increases in Volume.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, March 21.—Grains were nervous and erratic again today and set speculators guessing. The rains in the southwest were decidedly bearish in their influence over wheat, while a continued heavy export business in cash wheat tended to induce higher prices. Fluctuations were frequent and other grains acted sympathetically. At the close May wheat had lost ⅝c; May corn ⅝@¾c and May oats ¼c. Provisions still acted contrary to grains and closed 5c to 10c higher.

Wheat opened weak and lower on good rains in many of the wheat states and declined still further on rather heavy selling. These rains were much needed and were supposed to be beneficial to the growing crop. Argentine reports indicated an increased movement and still better prospects.

Export Business Revives.

Cables were slightly higher, but had little effect. Added to this bearish influence was the advice from New York that much of the stuff reported sold for export yesterday was still for sale. May wheat, which opened a shade to ¼@⅜c lower at 74⅛c to 73⅞c, sold off to 73⅝c. Then came a revival of yesterday's export business. A local house sold 16 loads of cash wheat and other points had good sales. This sent shorts to cover in a hurry.

Buying for this account sent prices up and held the market firm for a time at 74⅜@74½c for May. Southwestern reports, however, had the most influence in the market. St. Louis was weak and was selling liberally. Kansas City May prices, which a month ago were 4 cents above Chicago, were quoted at discount.

Selling Starts a Decline.

Liquidation started in on a feeble scale late in the day, bears sold short, and prices tumbled. Trade in general increased much, though the outside speculator was not in the market enough to work against the bearish influences. May sold off and closed weak, ⅝c lower at 73⅝@73¾c. Local receipts were 21 cars, 1 of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 233 cars, or a total for the three points of 254 cars, against 295 last week and 422 a year ago. Primary receipts were 474,000 bushels compared to 711,000 bushels last year. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 128,000 bushels. Argentine shipments were 1,288,000 bushels, against 428,000 bushels last week, and 1,912,000 bushels a year ago. The seaboard reported 52 loads taken for export.

Corn followed wheat most of the day. The opening was weak, but some good cash business and light receipts helped to a speedy reaction. The southwestern rains also were bullish in that they were expected to curtail the interior movement. There was no outside trade to speak of, possibly a little selling from the southwest, and much of the time the crowd put in watching the wheat pit. The situation in Argentina, it was reported, was much improved, harvesting had already begun, and the corn was of good quality. May corn sold as low as 60½@60⅝c the first hour, but later reacted to 61c, with the wheat firmness. When wheat broke late in the day corn tumbled with it, short selling was liberal and several long lines were said to have been liquidated. A sharp decline took May down to 60¼c. The close was weak ⅝@¾c lower for May at 60¼c. Receipts were 89 cars.

Oats Supported by Cash Business.

Oats were only moderately active, with prices yielding somewhat with wheat and corn. The market was largely a scalping affair and no important trades were made. Some improvement was noted in the cash business, which tended to support the pit against any marked decline. Country offerings were about the same as they have been of late. There was still some nervousness in May options, but the fluctuations were narrow. May closed easy ¼c down at 43¼c. Receipts were 110 cars.

Provisions showed strong again today against the depression in grains. There was an opinion prevalent that were it not for the slump in cereals hog products would have had a marked advance.

Provisions Still Advanced.

The local run of hogs was small and prices were higher at the yards. Good higher opening. Lard offerings were free, but were well taken. May pork closed 10c up at $15 62½. May lard a shade higher at $9 45@9 47½, and May ribs 5@7½c higher at $8 55@8 57½c.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 20 cars; corn, 140 cars; oats, 165 cars; hogs, 25,000 head.

IMPORTANT STRIKE IN OHIO

The most important strike of recent date is that of the Unity Oil Company's, located on the E. J. Harper farm, in Malagar township, Monroe county, Ohio, and a mile and a half northwest of Jerusalem, adjoining the Belmont county line. The well was drilled into the Keener sand Thursday morning and when three feet in began to flow at the rate of eight barrels an hour and is thought to be a 150-barrel producer. On the adjoining, Jones, farm a well was completed by the same company some time ago and the top of the Keener sand was reached at a depth of 1,450 feet and the record of the Harper producer is about the same. The Unity Oil Company is composed of Pittsburghers, (T. J. Vandergrift and others) and has been operating in Belmont and Monroe counties for more than a year with indifferent success, and their luck on the Harper farm is a just recompense for the confidence they had in territory that had been many times rejected.

In the Fish Creek district, Marshall county, W. Va., the South Penn Oil Company has drilled in its No. 2 on the Burley-Boyd farm and the well placed 150 barrels to its credit the first 24 hours. The location is 600 feet west of No. 3 on the same farm, which is still holding up at 250 barrels a day. One mile northeast of the Burley-Boyd No. 1 the South Penn Oil Company has completed its test well on the J. C. McIlwain farm and has a very light well.

In the "Little Germany" district the South Penn has completed No. 4 on the Andrew Yeager farm and has a 10-barrel pumper. In the same district the Eclipse Oil Company has completed its No. 2 on the Joseph King farm and has a 10-barrel well.

North of the Fine Grove development in Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled in its test well on the J. A. Dulaney farm and has a show for a 45-barrel producer from the Gordon sand. The location is 800 feet east of the same company's No. 1 on the Wesley Dulaney farm.

In the New Freeport development in Greene County, W. B. Martin No. 9 has been completed and is good for 80 barrels a day.

In the Centerville district, Tyler county, the American Oil Development Company has completed its No. 3 on the C. J. Allen farm and has a small pumper in the Maxon sand.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 6 on the Milton Davis farm and has a small pumper. No. 3 on the Sarah Farrier farm in the same district is good for 20 barrels a day. In the same development the Southern Oil Company's test well on the L. D. Davis farm is holding up at 125 barrels a day.

In the Big Flint district, Doddridge county, the Eastern Oil Company has drilled its test well on the B. Welsh farm through the Big Injun sand and has shut down. In the same locality, the Lampblack Company has completed its test well on the Melissa Davis farm and has a good gasser.

On the South Fork of Hughes river, Murphy district, Ritchie county, the Cairo Oil Company has drilled its test well on the L. & H. Yoho farm through the Big Injun sand and found that formation barren. It will make a small pumper from the salt sand.

In the Whisky Run pool, Clay district, the Miller Farm Oil Company has drilled its test well on the William Payne farm through the Keener sand and has a duster. The location is one mile west of the same company's No. 3 on the W. G. Miller farm.

In the St. Mary's district, Pleasants county, Edmunds & Co. have completed their test well on the Sol Bills farm and have a duster.

Southeastern Ohio.

On the Ohio side in the Jackson Ridge development in Monroe county, Smith & Co. have completed their No. 2 on the Mary A. Jackson farm and have a gasser that showed 200 pounds pressure the first five minutes in the Maxon sand.

In the Marietta district, Gillespie & Co. have completed No. 18 on the John Cook farm and have an 8-barrel pumper.

In the shallow sand territory in Morgan county, the National Oil Company has completed its No. 13 on the O. Linscott farm and has a small pumper.

M. S. Isherwood & Co. have completed their No. 8 on the Emma Pierpoint farm and have a small well.

Local Stock Market of Good Tone, Though Trading Was Lighter

WINDOW GLASS THE UNDOUBTED FEATURE OF DAY

Led in Trading and Movement, Furnishing One-Third of Business.

U. S. & S. HIGH RECORD

Standard Chain Advanced—Electric, Airbrake and Philadelphia Company Lagging—Interesting Points About Securities.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges decreased $504,012.

Pittsburgh stock exchange sales, 6,318 shares, $28,000 bonds.

Union Switch and Signal made new record price on both common and preferred.

Standard Chain advanced.

American Window Glass was again the feature of the local stock market. It opened ¼ above the closing price of the day before, advanced with good trading 1¼ higher and then eased off to a close at ¼ below the highest point. Total sales 2,403 shares. There was nothing fresh in the gossip concerning the movement, which has been engineered very successfully.

Union Switch and Signal common and preferred made new high price records, the former selling up to 84 and the latter to 103½. The common is only a 4 per cent stock and the preferred an 8 per cent stock by the last dividend declaration, so there must be a very definite expectation of a melon to be cut in the near future. Eight per cent dividend payers do not, as a rule, sell at more than double par.

Crucible Steel common was active in the trading, but the market was narrow, as usual, the total range being at ⅛ and back to the initial figure.

Westinghouse Electric firsts sold in a limited way at 100, the same price as the day before, while the seconds were semi-active on a downward scale. The closing was at a net loss of ⅞ from the day preceding.

Standard Chain was in some demand at 12, which was 1½ above last previous sales. The strength apparently emanated from the meeting of chain manufacturers in this city during the week, though it is denied that a combination is being considered. At the same time it is believed the meeting had some plan for harmonizing interests that may be effected at the adjourned meeting to be held in the summer.

Airbrake and Philadelphia Company were both weak and spiritless. The first sold off in a small way to 180, a loss of another half, while the latter figured in light trading at 48@48⅛. The statement of the company was sent out yesterday, and though its showing was quite as favorable as the advance figures published in these columns some days ago, it failed to galvanize the stock to any appearance of strength.

Pittsburgh Brewing continues strong but inactive, the trading being barely sufficient to prove that the stuff is firmly held.

The following is a complete summary of Friday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers:

It is said that it will be necessary for the company to buy 3,000 tons of steel rails for the tracks in the tunnel, not including the rails for sidings and yards and the third rails which are to convey the electric current. It is announced that within a few weeks the company will let a contract for 600 cars for the road to be constructed on the same plan as those for the Manhattan railway, but of a heavier and larger type.—Wall Street Journal.

Adjourned Meeting.

An adjourned meeting of the Pittsburgh stock exchange will be held today to take action upon the proposed amendments to the bylaws of the exchange. The first amendment provides that any obligation to the exchange, or to any member thereof, shall be a first lien upon membership stock, and if any member suffers his membership to be seized upon execution the directors may declare it forfeited and direct the committee on admissions to sell the same and divide the proceeds in accord with the by-laws. Second, third and fourth amendments govern transfers of membership by members or their legal executors, and the fifth prescribes the manner of distribution from sale of forfeited membership.

Several amendments relate to the election of officers other than secretary, all of whom must be members in good standing of the exchange. Others provide in detail for the execution of the new laws relating to membership, and the final amendment fixing commissions and authorizing division of commissions with other exchanges provides that no division shall be made with members of other exchanges within Allegheny county.

Henry Graf Alleges the Defendant Called Him a Thief and Said He Kept Application Fees, All of Which He Denies.

Attorneys Smith & Kearns, representing Henry Graf, supreme treasurer of the German Beneficial union, one of the largest societies in the United States, filed a damage suit against J. H. Volz asking for $10,000 damages for alleged slander, which he claims was uttered to cause his removal from the office of treasurer of the union.

Graf claims that he has always been a man of good reputation and was never arrested for or charged with any crime or misdemeanor, and prior to the day on which the alleged defamatory stories were circulated always enjoyed the highest esteem and confidence of his associates, and had held the office of supreme treasurer of the German Beneficial union, a position of great trust.

Mr. Graf claims that all of these things are false and were known to be false by the plaintiff, but that they were believed by many persons and so injured his reputation that he failed of re-election to the office of treasurer and has sustained a great damage to his good name and reputation. He claims both punitive and compensatory damages.

MUST ACCOUNT FOR DAMAGES

Judge Hawkins Holds That the Helbling Estate Belonged to Creditors—Wills Filed.

Judge W. G. Hawkins in orphans' court handed down an opinion in the matter of the estate of William Helbling, upon a question as to whether or not the executrix is liable to account on a citation of judgment creditors for damages recovered by her as devisee for injuries done real estate after the death of the testator.

Helbling died in May, 1896, leaving his real estate to his widow, Eliza H. Helbling, whom he also made executrix. In July and August following his death storms came which, by reason of defective sewerage, damaged the property. Mrs. Helbling entered a suit and recovered $3,500. At the time of Helbling's death there were certain liens against the estate and the property was sold to Mrs. Helbling.

The court said that the estate being insolvent belonged to the creditors, and any attempted diversion would be a breach of trust. The suit must have been prosecuted for their benefit to the extent of their interest. Hence the fund must be held in that character which best serves the ends of justice. It follows that Mrs. Helbling must account as executrix for a proportionate share of these damages, as the damages recovered presumably represented four floods, three of which occurred before the sale of the property. The court directs that she charge herself with three-fourths of the amount and says the petitioners will have leave to raise the question of her liability for the remaining one-fourth at the audit.

By the will of David Deakin, late of Pittsburgh, an estate worth $3,700 is bequeathed to his wife. Attorneys Duff and Carmack represent the estate.

Inventories and appraisements filed show the valuation of the following personal estates: J. D. Thomas, $34,646; W. H. Colville, $24,190 00; R. C. Watley, $2,800.

A bill in equity was filed by Henry J. Lindermans against William F. Wilson, to secure an accounting and asking for the appointment of a receiver for the firm of Wilson & Lindermans, architects of McKeesport. The plaintiff alleges the defendant declined to give him full information regarding the profits of the business, that he refused to allow him to inspect the books, and that he has only received $700 of the profits. Lindermans says his share is about $2,000, and that he was compelled to withdraw from the partnership.

A verdict for the defendant was returned in the case of John Frazier against Venanzia Milani, an action for alleged damage to property.

W. J. Morris entered suit against Andrew Hyer for $5,000 damages for alleged slander. The plaintiff declares the defendant accused him of stealing $30.

The arbitrators in the case of the Mercantile Trust Company, administrator of the estate of J. S. Neel, against J. A. Neel, found in favor of the defendants.

Catherine Haggerty was given a verdict of $250 against the Kopp & Ahlers Lumber Co. for personal injuries received by falling on the ice in front of the defendant's property.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Edwin A. Fisher, a traveling salesman of Oil City, giving his liabilities as $2,356 and assets as $10,525, the latter including $10,000 in policies of insurance.

The following desertion and surety of the peace cases will be heard in the criminal court this morning: E. A. Mertz, Mary Imblum, Harry Bair, Louis H. Taylor, Geo. N. Wolfe, Victoria Yaskulska.

A non-suit was granted in the case of J. M. McGinniss against William Kerr's Sons. The case of McGinniss against J. D. Bernd & Co. was continued. The suits are to recover for the death of a son who was killed by an elevator.

In the case of John H. Barton, trustee, against Barbara Henderson, the Iron City Oil & Varnish Company asked for a rule upon both parties, to show cause why $289 of the judgment should not be marked for the use of the petitioner.

Judge J. D. Shafer handed down an opinion dismissing the bill in equity of William Isenses against Shaler township for an injunction to restrain the defendant from constructing a sewer across the street in front of the plaintiff's property.

Frank McGinniss, a plumber of Pittsburgh, filed a petition in bankruptcy, setting forth liabilities of $5,838 and assets, $3,641. The latter is represented as covering $3,150 worth of debts due on accounts, of which the petitioner claims $3,000 is worthless.

Simeon A. Fishblate, a physician of Pittsburgh, filed a petition in bankruptcy, giving his liabilities as $20,391 and assets as $150. The creditors are residents of Cleveland, Philadelphia, Washington and St. Louis, and the greater part are publishing and printing companies, to whom he let advertising contracts.

An affidavit of defense was filed in the case of A. C. Ellis & Co. against Octavius Hanson and his wife, an action to recover on an account. Hanson says the goods were sold and delivered to his wife in spite of his objection, and notwithstanding that he had always provided for her, and that she went into business on Penn avenue against his wish.

In the United States district court, Charles J. Imel, a lumber merchant of Pittsburgh, filed his petition in bankruptcy. His schedule shows liabilities of $35,657 and assets, $35,252. Of the latter $12,190 covers debts due on accounts, $15,540 representing the value of timber lands in Tucker and Randolph counties, W. Va., and $6,106 worth of promissory notes.

A hearing was held in the mandamus proceedings of John Henry against the school board of West Deer township. The action was to compel the defendant to enter into a contract with the school board of Clinton township, Butler county, to allow the plaintiff's five children to attend the latter school, it being the nearest to Henry's farm. No decision was rendered.

Judge Joseph Buffington, in the matter of Harry A. Wise, bankrupt, a wholesale liquor dealer of Duquesne, who claimed $300 in cash from the proceeds of the sale of property, said the bankrupt did not assert his statutory right or ask the court to preserve or protect it, and must, in accord with the construction placed upon the statute by the state court, be deemed to have waived his rights.

Exceptions were filed by C. N. Miller of DuBois against the discharge from bankruptcy of R. N. Moore of the same place. It is alleged by Miller that he agreed to sell his business at DuBois to Moore for $2,700 in cash. He says that when he went to get the money Moore said he could pay but $500 cash, but would give his notes for the balance. Later Miller says he found judgments amounting to $2,000 against Moore's property, which he claims was worth but $1,500 instead of $3,000, as claimed. The false statement of Moore he says induced him to part with his property, and he objects to Moore's discharge from payment of the notes.

DEMAND FOR COAL.

There Is a Good Market for Fuel at Cincinnati.

A. R. Budd of the Budd Coal Company has returned from a business trip to Cincinnati and reports a very healthy demand for coal at that place. In speaking about the conditions he said: "Coal sold this week at 7 cents a bushel by the barge and was in demand at that figure.

The river coal combine until a few months ago had been making the price for fuel, but since the independents entered the market this condition has been slightly changed. There is, however, no complaint on the present price for coal, but there is no telling how long the price will remain at that figure. The demand for fuel is good, both at the rail and river roads and there is not a large amount of coal in the market. Our season's output of coal has been contracted for."

PASTORS TURN TO HOLY WEEK FOR SUBJECTS

Many Special Devotional Services Will Be Held in Various Churches.

A CREED REVISION LEADER

The Rev. Dr. William McKibbin, Prominent in Conservative Forces of the Agitation, Will Preach in Second Presbyterian Church.

Holy week this year will be a notable one in the churches of the various denominations. The pastors of nearly every church in the two cities are having some special devotional service, or other to impress upon the people the significance of this great week. In the Catholic and Protestant Episcopal churches the ceremonies of holy week will be carried out according to the ritual of these denominations. Notices of these ceremonies have already been made in The Gazette. In Grace Reformed church the Rev. John H. Prugh will deliver sermons as follows next week: Wednesday night, "On the Way to Calvary;" Thursday, "At the Foot of the Cross;" Good Friday, "Last Words." In Trinity Lutheran church, Allegheny, the pastor, the Rev. A. J. Turkle, will preach Wednesday night on "Accompanying Through Trial;" Thursday, "Pilate Vacillating;" Good Friday, "Voices from Calvary."

Evangelistic services in the Emory Methodist Episcopal church will be continued every night next week. Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 a mass meeting for young men will be held in this church. Evangelist M. S. Rees will speak on "Modern Sodom." Prominent in the eyes of the Presbyterian leaders, as the head of the conservative forces of the creed revision question, is the Rev. Dr. William McKibbin of Walnut Hills Presbyterian church, Cincinnati. He will preach at both services tomorrow in the Second church. The usual musical program will be a feature. The latest news from the Rev. S. Edward Young, now touring the Holy Land, is that he and his wife are having a delightful trip. They visited Mars hill in Athens, where the Apostle Paul preached. They also met Queen Olga of Greece.

The sermons of tomorrow are all nearly in the same note, expressive of the pastors' desire to have the faithful rise to the import of the festival of the palms and the historic incidents that follow it during the next few days. One of the pastors, however, the Rev. A. S. Blackmore of the Pacific Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, will draw a comparison of two great saints, Patrick and Benedict, the latter founder of a great monastic body known as the Benedictines.

At a congregational meeting of the First United Presbyterian church of East McKeesport, held this week, it was decided by a rising vote to rebuild on the site of the handsome new church and parsonage destroyed by fire last Sunday. The congregation, while keenly feeling the loss, have been stirred to renewed efforts and propose to erect equally as handsome a structure to the Lord. Arrangements for the rebuilding will be completed next week. Both buildings were insured, and this will help to lighten the burden. The new structure will be built on the same plans, the church to cost $8,200.

BURGLAR'S WOUND FATAL.

Was Shot While Fleeing from Residence of Joseph Vanderbeck of Jersey City.

NEW YORK, March 21.—A burglar was shot and mortally wounded by Jeremiah Vanderbeck while trying to escape from the latter's residence in Jersey City late last night. The man was taken to a hospital, where he said his name was James Wilson and that he was 29 years old.

He died this afternoon. In a pocket of his clothing was found an emerald pin, which bore the words: "International Correspondence School, Scranton, Pa." It was attached to a piece of paper on which were the name and address of George S. Beall & Co., Columbus, O.

APPARENTLY A MISTAKE.

Jacksonville, Ill., Man Believes That He Is Related to Carnegie.

Charles McPherson of Jacksonville, Ill., thinks he is a relative of Andrew Carnegie by marriage. McPherson, through D. C. Carson of Jacksonville, has written to Prothonotary A. J. McQuitty to find out.

According to McPherson's story his mother was Sarah Stewart, and his father Charles McPherson. They were born in Allegheny, went to Ohio, and then to Tennessee, where they died. He says that his mother's brother, Alexander Stewart, was in the iron business in Pittsburgh from 1844 to 1854.

There was a large family and, according to McPherson, one of the girls was married to Andrew Carnegie. He says also that he has written to Mr. Carnegie and received no reply.

Mr. Carnegie married Miss Louise Whitfield in 1887, so it is more than probable that the young man in Jacksonville is very much mistaken.

MANY CHANGES IN OFFICIAL POSITION

W. K. RICHARDS GOES WITH RIVER COAL COMBINE

O. F. Spindler, Former Pittsburgh Railroad Man, Resigns Presidency of Steamboat Company.

Announcement of a number of official changes was made yesterday, among them the following:

W. K. Richards, formerly general freight agent of the Cleveland & Marietta and for several years past general agent at Pittsburgh, of the Ward line of steamers has been made traffic manager of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, the appointment being effective Monday next.

O. F. Spindler, formerly connected with the general passenger department of the Pennsylvania Company at Pittsburgh, has just resigned his position as president of the American & Mexican Steamship Company. While holding that position he has had his headquarters at New Orleans. He has many friends here.

Samuel Sherman, traveling passenger agent of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, with Wheeling headquarters, has resigned that position, the duties of the office being given to General Agent R. E. Lawrence.

F. B. Vaughn, who has been chief clerk to Division Superintendent J. W. Riley of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, has been promoted to take charge of handling the ore business of the road. He is succeeded in Mr. Riley office by E. E. Reading, until now ticket agent at Coraopolis. E. C. Sawin, chief clerk to Division Engineer E. W. Boots of McKeesport, has taken the Coraopolis position made vacant by Mr. Reading's appointment. All the changes were effective yesterday.

Relief from Freight Congestion.

Within the past two weeks the various divisions of the Pennsylvania system centering at Pittsburgh have obtained considerable relief from the freight congestion that has been bothering them for over six months. The main disturbance on the Pennsylvania lay on the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division, although other divisions had plenty of trouble also. The congestion in the Allegheny Valley yards has been largely removed, and the other yards are in normal condition. The addition of several engines to the Valley's equipment helped largely to clear the congestion.

As fast as conditions allow a system of operating the big yards and terminals of the Pennsylvania at Pittsburgh is being worked out by General Superintendent of Terminals Patterson. With the completion of the terminal work now in progress it is believed that the recurrence of such a condition will be impossible.

Husband Served a Term.

The master in the divorce case of Emma Moorhead against Archibald S. Moorhead recommended that a decree be granted. They were married September 18, 1881. Attached to the report was a record showing that Moorhead was sentenced to the penitentiary in December 1889 for three years and six months upon a charge of attempting to shoot his wife. A brother of the libellant testified that her husband has "never visited my sister since he was sent to the penitentiary."

A Buffet of Rare Interest

We know of nothing more conducive to good cheer than this sightly piece of furniture. It is designed with the utmost simplicity, but the conception is carried out with a mastery of proportion and detail.

Made of quartered golden oak, 64 inches long by 62 inches high; glass cabinet; leaded glass doors and sides; bevel French plate mirror.

Price $100.

But you would never place so small a valuation upon this Buffet, for it possesses a refined elegance which defies reckoning by dollars alone. The owner of such furniture becomes endeared to it, just as he does in the case of his other artistic possessions.

This thought explains the esteem in which the furniture of this store is held. It is prized for its beauty aside from its eminently practical qualities.

P. R. R. Said to Own A. C. Line.

It is rumored that the controlling interest in the Atlantic Coast Line railroad has been acquired by the Pennsylvania railroad. This interest, as is well known, has been held by southern financiers and the report originates in Wilmington, N. C. No definite statements as to the price paid are to be had, but it is known that a few months ago an offer of $400 a share was made by Pennsylvania representatives for stock in the Wilmington & Weldon, the parent road of the Coast Line system. Over 2,500 miles of road is comprised in the system, and practically all is profitable. The dividends have been heavy and the line would be a valuable acquisition to the Pennsylvania, reaching far into the south. Its tracks lie mainly in Virginia and North and South Carolina. It connects with the Plant system.

ANOTHER NEW FREIGHT HOUSE FOR THE PENNSY

Old Cleveland & Pittsburgh Shed on Eleventh Street Will Give Way to Modern Structure.

Another of the disreputable-appearing old wooden freight houses of the Pennsylvania, near the Union station, is to be replaced at once by a modern new house. This one is the old Cleveland & Pittsburgh house, extending from the rear of the office building at Eleventh and Penn, back to the tracks across Penn avenue. Work will be started today or Monday in tearing away the old structure to make way for the new one on the same site. The new building will be about 200x50 feet in size, of brick and steel and two stories high. The cost will be about $100,000. It will be furnished with all the equipment of modern freight houses.

For some time past this particular station has been devoted more to lime, cement and similar articles than to general freight. The Pennsylvania has several freight houses in the immediate vicinity and the policy of sending to each a certain class of shipments is being developed to a considerable extent.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The engineering department of the Bessemer was removed to Greenville yesterday, as had been announced in The Gazette would be done.

The Goulds have acquired in South St. Louis 114 acres of land for great freight yards intended primarily for the Iron Mountain part of the system.

W. H. Borner, general western freight agent of the Pennsylvania lines, with headquarters at Chicago, was in Pittsburgh yesterday, having accompanied Traffic Manager D. T. McCabe back from Chicago.

The American Railway and Engineering association, which yesterday completed its annual convention at Chicago, has agreed upon 35 feet as the standard length for rails. The expansion in 60-foot rails has been found too great and 30-foot rails are too short for economy.

INSTALLING NEW ORGAN.

German Methodists Expect to Dedicate Phillip M. Pfeil's Gift on Easter Sunday.

A handsome new pipe organ, the gift of Phillip M. Pfeil, president of the Iron City Sand Company, is being installed in the German Methodist church, Roland and Sixteenth streets. The organ is being installed by a Chicago firm, and will cost when in place about $2,000. It is of the latest design, with four keyboards and every facility for modulation.

The Rev. Frederick W. Mueller, pastor of the church, is lying ill with pneumonia at his home in Sixteenth street, but hopes to be out before the work of installing is finished. Mr. Mueller had just completed arrangements for this work when he became sick, but the work was carried on under the direction of the donor. The organ will be in place by Monday or Tuesday.

It is proposed, if the pastor has recovered, to have a grand dedicatory service Easter Sunday morning. The young people of the congregation are preparing a musical program for the occasion. In case the pastor should still be ill the new organ will be used for the first time on Easter Sunday, but there will be no formal dedicatory service.

The German Methodist church is one of the most successful congregations of Germans on that side of the river. There is no debt on it, and it is beautifully furnished throughout. The pastor has endeared himself to the congregation by his labors and excellent personal qualities. The congregation had need of an organ, and was about to assume the debt of putting one in when Mr. Pfeil, a personal friend of the pastor's, offered to install one out of respect for the pastor and members of the congregation.

And what is still more important is, that, owing to this very immensity of our stock, our prices, quality considered, are the lowest yet named by this or any other house.
